ABC's of Relationship Selling Through Service

Charles Futrell, Mark Valvasori, 2006 The Third Canadian Edition of ABC's of Relationship Selling explores professional selling from a Canadian perspective. As the title of the book suggests, the text is centred around a philosophy about selling that success requires mastery of selling basics including selecting presentation styles and effective closing techniques. In addition, other key topics such as ethics and territory management are explored. Although Futrell has traditionally been seen as the relationship book and Manning has been called the strategy book, this division is no longer as cut and dry. In the current edition, Manning has moved more toward a relationship-based approach, moving to include a sales management chapter at the end of their text, including Intro, Selling, Professional Selling, and Negotiations. Manning users cite the consultative model process used throughout as one of its key strengths on the strategy side. Through extensive reviewing, four key elements have been identified as the most difficult for students to learn and instructors to teach. It is these four key elements which directed the revision of this edition: Beginning the Sale, Closing the Sale, Handling Objections, and Ethics. Integrity-based selling.

Selling & Sales Management Lisa Spiller, 2021-09-01 Packed with engaging examples and case studies from companies including Amazon, IBM, and Pepsi, as well as unique insights from sales professionals across the globe, this comprehensive textbook balances research, theory, and practice to guide students through the art and science of selling in a fast-changing and digital age. The text highlights the emerging role of storytelling, sales analytics, and automation in a highly competitive and technological world and includes exercises and role plays for students to practice as they learn about each stage of the selling process. As well as its focus on selling, the text also provides students with essential sales management skills such as onboarding, coaching, mentoring, and leading salespeople, as well as managing sales pipelines, territories, budgets, systems, and teams when not in the field. Online resources are included to help instructors teaching with the textbook, including PowerPoint slides and a testbank. Chapter overviews and teaching notes for the role plays included in the text and suggested course projects and worksheets are also provided for instructors. Suitable for courses on selling and sales management at all college and university levels. Relationship Selling Mark W. Johnston, Greg W. Marshall, 2008 Sales Management Bill Donaldson, Javier Marcos Cuevas, Régis Lemmens, 2017-09-16 This is a core textbook that provides a practical and comprehensive introduction to selling and sales management. Packed full of insightful real-world case studies, the fourth edition of this highly successful text has been fully updated and revised throughout to provide a truly contemporary overview of the discipline. This textbook offers a unique blend of academic rigour and practical focus based on the authors' invaluable combination of industry experience, expertise in sales consultancy, and years of teaching and research in sales. Accessibly divided into three parts: Strategy, Process, and Practice, it presents a wide range of topics such as ethical issues in sales, key account management, international sales, recruitment and compensation, and rewards. Sales Management is the definitive text for undergraduate, postgraduate, and MBA students of selling and sales management. New to this Edition: New chapters on Defining and Implementing Sales Strategies and Key Account Management; New case studies, vignettes, questions for reflection and statistics added throughout the text An increased emphasis on the practical approaches to professional selling Managing Relationship Selling David W. Smith, 1996 This manual is designed to enable both the sales manager and the salesperson to make relationship selling a success in their organization It explores the value of the salesperson deals with specific skills of relationship selling and presents the tools for effective sales coaching

The Oxford Handbook of Strategic Sales and Sales Management David W. Cravens, Kenneth Le Meunier-FitzHugh, Nigel F. Piercy, 2012-11-22 The Oxford Handbook of Strategic Sales and Sales Management is an unrivalled overview by leading academics in the field of sales and marketing management Sales theory is experiencing a renaissance driven by a number of factors including building profitable relationships creating delivering brand value strategic customer management sales and marketing relationships global selling and the change from transactional to customer relationship marketing Escalating sales and selling costs require organisations to be more focused on results and highlight the shifting of resources from marketing to sales Further the growth in customer power now requires a strategic sales response and not just a tactical one The positioning of sales within the organisation the sales function and sales management are all discussed The Handbook is not a general sales management text about managing a sales force but will fill a gap in the existing literature through consolidating the current academic research in the sales area The Handbook is structured around four key topics The first section explores the strategic positioning of the sales function within the modern organisation The second considers sales management and recent developments The third section examines the sales relationship with the customer and highlights how sales is responding to the modern environment Finally the fourth section reviews the internal composition of sales within the organisation The Handbook will provide a comprehensive introduction to the latest research in sales management and is suitable for academics professionals and those taking professional qualifications in sales and marketing
