The Secret to Superhuman Strength Alison Bechdel, 2021 From the bestselling award winning author of Fun Home All her life Alison Bechdel has searched for an elusive secret The secret to superhuman strength She has looked for it in her favourite books the lives of her heroes celibacy polyamory activism therapy and most obsessively in her lifelong passion for exercise Skiing running karate cycling yoga weight lifting you name it she's tried it Oh to be self sufficient Hard as a rock An island But as she gets older her body isn't getting any stronger And in a changing sometimes overwhelming world are cantaloupe sized guns all a person needs Maybe the all important secret is not where she expected to find it In this her third graphic memoir Alison Bechdel has written a deeply layered personal story about selfhood self sabotage mortality addiction bliss wonder and the concerns of a generation The American Marathon Pamela Cooper, 1998-04-01 Boston established a footrace but New York City created a marathon culture that annually draws tens of thousands of runners to each of the major American events The American Marathon is the first in depth study of the marathon as a cultural performance that has as much power to unite communities across lines of race ethnicity class and gender as it does to empower individuals This book encompasses more than a century from the fledgling days of the footrace in the 1890s to the popular contemporary marathons that have become corporate sponsored institutions Run in New York City in 1896 and continued in Boston for the next ten years the marathon quickly became the event of the working class athletes particularly Irish Americans Other urban ethnic groups Italians Jews and African Americans who were unwelcome into the elite WASP athletic clubs formed their own running organizations Once emblematic of the immigrant experience the marathon evolved to express middle class nationalism as these immigrants were being assimilated During the 1930s the Great Depression restricted footracing and anti-Semitism left important coaches and runners without access to team support The New York Pioneer Club begun in 1936 as an African American team brought the tremendous energy of post World War II Harlem to the American marathon of the 1950s Besides examining the ethnic influence on marathoning Cooper also explores the impact of the Cold War on this sport when fitness and endurance became matters of national pride She shows how the Road Runners Club of America first brought women and large numbers of participant runners into long distance footraces and finally how corporate sponsorship and direct payments to athletes profoundly changed the nature of this once amateur sport Proceedings of the Conference on the Decline in Coronary Heart Disease Mortality Manning Feinleib, Richard J. LeBoeuf, Lawrence F. Butler, 2008 We all know the dilemma Kids are tuning in to TVs and video games and tuning out physical activity As a result kids are more overweight than ever More than half of the adult population in the United States are overweight and almost a third are clinically obese. An obvious answer is to become and stay fit through regular physical activity. The authors of Fit Active: The West Point Physical Development Program know this and in response they developed a program at West Point, the academy that's been educating U.S. military and political leaders for over 200 years. Now you can use the West Point fitness program to meet the needs of your students. Fit Active: The West Point Physical Development Program is a practical, ready-to-use resource that will help you inspire the kids under your charge to be more physically active. It includes the following features: The system that has worked for the authors in their West Point program along with detailed strategies for modifying their approach for various ages and environments; Activities and ideas that have been reviewed by high school physical education teachers to ensure the suggestions are appropriate for high school students; New ideas and information that will help you improve your program; Assessment strategies to help you meet state and national physical education standards; At West Point, fitness is seen as a solid foundation for emotional and intellectual well-being and as a way to help prepare students for a lifetime of health, physical activity, and success in the classroom and beyond. With that in mind, the authors focus on how to develop and assess your program in part I and in part II they provide core activity courses including basic movement, swimming, boxing, self-defense, and obstacle courses that develop motor skills. In part III they delve into wellness and personal fitness strategies, workout designs, assessments, and related issues, and in part IV they outline courses for lifetime activities such as tennis, golf, ice skating, and rock climbing. As a result, you get a comprehensive resource that is easy to use, well illustrated, adapted for high school and appropriate for a variety of groups, and one that will also help you meet state and national standards. Along the way, your students will learn leadership skills through sports and become motivated to make physical activity and fitness an integral part of their lives long after they leave school.

Marathon Manual Cathy Shipton, Liz McColgan, 2000. This manual for beginners covers all aspects of the training required to train for a marathon. Running Lindsey A. Freeman, 2023-02-10. In Running, former NCAA Division I track athlete Lindsey A. Freeman presents the feminist and queer handbook of running that she always wanted but could never find. For Freeman, running is full of joy, desire, and indulgence in the pleasure and weirdness of having a body. It allows for a space of freedom to move and be moved. Through tender storytelling of a lifetime wearing running shoes, Freeman considers injury and recovery, what it means to run as a visibly queer person, and how the release found in running comes from a desire to touch something that cannot be accessed when still. Running invites us to run through life, legging it out the best we can with heart and style. *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
