Andr s Liebenthal, Osvaldo N stor Feinstein, Gregory K. Ingram, 2004-01-01 Partnership is of growing importance in development work Partnerships among state private business and civil society organizations are increasingly used to deliver the goods and services required for balanced growth and poverty reduction Aid activities have shifted from a project focus to a more strategic and holistic focus on programs sectors and policies With this new orientation partnerships are often essential to deal with the added complexity and the larger number of agencies groups and stakeholders involved The Partnership Dimension takes on the issues in a series of chapters divided into two general parts Part 1 Foundations of Partnership and Their Evaluation covers the types of development partnership and critical issues involved and Part 2 Partnerships in Practice then illustrates the aspects and lessons of partnership experience through a series of case studies Many of the studies focus on the benefits of partnerships between institutions of government and civil society Benefits include effective knowledge transfer greater cross national cooperation the creation of new networks and capacity and penetration of new markets Private firms use partnerships with competitors to learn or reduce risk There is much to learn about when where and how best to use partnerships and in particular partnerships that involve less traditional combinations of actors such as global partnerships for public policy country focused aid partnerships private sector partnerships for knowledge creation and partnerships for community development involving business nongovernmental organizations and government. Relatively little is known about the costs and benefits and the risks and rewards of different types of partnerships or about how best to conduct partnerships for different purposes. This is why the current volume in the World Bank series is relevant for both development practitioners and policy analysts. Andres Liebenenthal is lead evaluation officer, Sector and Thematic Evaluation Group, Operations Evaluation Department, World Bank. Osvaldo Feinstein is manager, Partnerships and Knowledge Group, Operations Evaluation Department, World Bank. Gregory K Ingram is director general, Operations Evaluation, World Bank. Robert Picciotto is former director general, retired, Operations Evaluation, World Bank. The World Bank is located in Washington D C with offices throughout the developing world.

Mapping Arctic Paradiplomacy Mathieu Landriault, Jean-François Payette, Stéphane Roussel, 2021-07-29. This book analyses the possibilities and limitations that sub national actors face when developing diplomatic activities in the Arctic region. Sub national actors such as civil society groups and sub national governments or administrations have been active in international relations for decades. They face specific political and economic limitations on the international scene as non sovereign entities. This book investigates how these actors have developed their international presence in the Arctic region. It analyzes the diplomatic activities of states, provinces, regional administrations and multilateral forums made of sub national governments to offer comparative insights on the strategies, interests and activities of sub national governments. Alaska, Scotland, Quebec, Yakutsk and Indigenous People's organizations are among the examples covered in this book that have forged bilateral and multilateral relations to promote and defend their interests and values. Moreover, sovereign states are often using these sub national actors to further their own interests as exemplified in this book in how Russia and China harnessed the potential of sub national governments to align with their Arctic policies. The volume will be useful to academics and graduate students of Arctic politics, international relations, comparative politics, comparative federalism, foreign policy and global governance.

Sign Language Research Sixty Years Later: Current and Future Perspectives Valentina Cuccio, Erin Wilkinson, Brigitte Garcia, Adam Schembri, Erin Moriarty, Sabina Fontana, 2022-11-14. Ten Lectures on Cognitive Linguistics and the Unification of Spoken and Signed Languages Sherman Wilcox, 2017-11-06. In Ten Lectures on Cognitive Linguistics and the Unification of Spoken and Signed Languages, Sherman Wilcox suggests that rather than abstracting away from the material substance of language, linguists can discover the deep connections between signed and spoken languages by taking an embodied view. This embodied solution reveals the patterns and principles that unite languages across modalities. Using a multidisciplinary approach, Wilcox explores such issues as the how to apply cognitive grammar to the study of signed languages, the pervasive conceptual iconicity present throughout the lexicon and grammar of signed languages, the relation of language and gesture, the grammaticization of signs, the significance of motion for understanding language as a dynamic system and the integration of cognitive neuroscience and cognitive linguistics.

The Nature of the Firm in the Oil Industry Basak Beyazay, 2015-10-16 Firm to firm relationships along with the overall structure of industry have changed markedly over the past decades Replacing the model of vertical integration with one of global business firms have started to outsource more by using a wider global network At the same time they have begun to increase their control and coordination along the value chain to remain competitive blurring the boundaries between companies Understanding the nature of the firm and its role in coordinating the supply chain will help firms to better define global competitive strategies The challenges that lie ahead for global business render obsolete the traditional model of procuring each service without long term supply chain management Current trends suggest that in the future there will be even deeper supply chain integration in most industries The Nature of the Firm in the Oil Industry aims to facilitate the understanding of the firm via the analysis of the specific relationship between international oil companies which are among the world's biggest firms and which act as core system integrators and the oil services companies which help to find, extract, produce and distribute oil along the petroleum industry supply chain This relationship serves as an example of deep integration by core system integrators and provides insights into the change in the nature of the firm in the era of modern globalization Aimed at researchers and academics The Nature of the Firm in the Oil Industry offers a thorough examination of this relationship in an effort to shed light on the nature of the firm both in the oil industry and in global business today It is a humble attempt to better understand the firm in a crucial industry
