David A. Covington

Long View Into Space:

Living Off the Land in Space C Bangs, Greg Matloff, Les Johnson, 2007-08-24 Human civilization has evolved to the point at which we can consider tapping space resources and expanding beyond Earth's atmosphere. The Introduction surveys possible motivations for large scale human emigration to space. Since our early ancestors began to move out of Africa, humans have constantly expanded their range. Today the pattern of human settlement extends from pole to pole. Humans regularly visit the upper troposphere and ocean floor, and technology has enabled a few to even reside above the atmosphere in space stations. For the next few millennia, at least barring breakthroughs, the human frontier will include the solar system and the nearest stars. Will it be better to settle the Moon, Mars, or a nearby asteroid, and what environments can we expect to find in the vicinity of nearby stars are questions that need to be answered if mankind is to migrate into space. NASA EP. United States.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration, 1968 A Commentary on THE MINOR PROPHETS David

Pawson, 2019-08-22 David Pawson looks at the messages of these so-called minor prophets and says, "I do not like that term. To God, all prophets are important, whether they speak a little or a lot. Even if God only gave you three words for somebody else, that is prophecy. You don't need to do it at length for fifty years, as some prophets did. There are some prophets in the Old Testament who only speak once and then, as far as we know, they disappear, but they have given a message from God. This is all a prophet is: someone who has heard a message and passes it on to the right people. It is such a simple ministry. You don't need to be theologically educated; you don't need to be a public speaker. In fact, God seems to entrust this ministry to those who don't have a gift of oratory. It is exciting to hear ordinary folk who would never be able to get up into a pulpit and preach a sermon hear from God and pass on a word from him." Space Exploration (eBook) Karen Hales Mecham, 1995-09-01

The information and activities in this Space Exploration Resource Guide are organized in roughly three sections: the Space Travel Simulation, Our Solar System and Beyond, and Energy, Force, and Motion in Space. Learning opportunities in each section are planned to engage children and teachers in experiences that allow for free exploration, concept development, and application of concepts. A classroom space shuttle simulation provides the focus for child exploration throughout the unit of study. The activities in the resource guide are not organized in a sequential lock-step way but rather are structured so teachers can choose from activities as if they were selecting from a menu, planning learning opportunities based on children's interests and levels of understanding. Four transparencies, print books, or PowerPoint slides, eBooks are included to engage students in discussion and reinforce the concepts presented in the book. A Redemptive Theology of Art David A.

Covington, 2018-05-01 A Redemptive Theology of Art develops a biblical systematic and practical theology of aesthetics. It begins with the roots and ontology of aesthetics vs. art and the architecture and narrative of affection and passion, their woes and their glory. Those who would search the Bible find little support for art as commonly conceived in the West. The language of aesthetics applied to the maker's intentions, the qualities of the work, and the responses of the audience better addresses the questions of beauty and better suits the discussion of human actions beliefs and culture than the language of art does The Bible yields more consistent and helpful answers to questions about the broader category of aesthetics than it does to questions about art leading in turn to better questions and a more practical and theological appreciation of human affections beauty and delight and the many paths by which people including Christians pursue them Using the categories and definitions from Scripture Covington gives hope and help not only for those who labor in the arts but for everyone who cares about the passions that motivate us We were made for God s delight and though sin and bondage plague our passions God can shape our fun feelings desires affections and aversions Feelings are neither objective nor subjective they are redeemable Borrowing key ideas from other Christian writers on the arts or aesthetics Covington explores the connection between orthodox Protestant theology and a responsible respectful treatment of arts artists and all aesthetic fields of human work and speech
