Heck, R. L. Erenstein, 1999 There has long been a need to introduce performing arts enthusiasts and students to the fascinating field of iconography both as manifested in art history and in its more pragmatic or applied forms Yet relatively little systematic effort has been made to collect and interpret centuries of such visual evidence in the light of the best available art historical information combined with corroborating textual documentation and insights from the histories of performance disciplines Aspiring iconographers of the performing arts need to be aware that there are often several levels of interpretation which great works of visual art will sustain This book explores these levels of interpretation a surface or literal reading a deeper reading of the work which seeks to enter the mind of the artist and asks how and why he put a given work together and the deepest reading of the work relating it to the artistic traditions and culture in which the artist lived In expounding on these levels of iconographic interpretations four discourses by scholars active in the study of visual records are given in relation to traditions techniques and trends performance in general Katritzky music Heck theatre Erenstein and dance Smith Effort is made to keep abreast of modern technology influencing iconographic representations as on the Internet and virtual reality Thomas F Heck is Professor of Musicology and Head of the Music and Dance Library at the Ohio State University Drawing Basics and Video Game

Rendez-vous with Art Philippe de Montebello, Martin Gayford, 2014-09-16 The fruits of a lifetime of experience by a cultural colossus Philippe de Montebello the longest serving director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in its history distilled in conversations with an acclaimed critic Beginning with a fragment of yellow jasper all that is left of the face of an Egyptian woman who lived 3 500 years ago this book confronts the elusive questions how and why do we look at art Philippe de Montebello and Martin Gayford talked in art galleries or churches or their own homes and this book is structured around their journeys But whether they were in the Louvre or the Prado the Mauritshuis of the Palazzo Pitti they reveal the pleasures of truly looking De Montebello shares the sense of excitement recorded by Goethe in his autobiography akin to the emotion experienced on entering a House of God but also reflects on why these secular temples might nevertheless be the worst possible places to look at art But in the end both men convey with subtlety and brilliance the delights and significance of their subject matter and some of the intense creations of human beings throughout our long history
