Looking For Mies:

Looking for Mies Ricardo Daza, 2008 A short and compelling text Looking for Mies aims to reveal the man behind the architecture The now famous photograph of Mies van der Rohe in a steel and glass building smoking a cigar has fascinated and intrigued the author to such an extent that he has painstakingly researched the events surrounding its taking Our Times, Our Lives Eve Otto, Jozef Otto, 2004-11 Eve Otto explains When I began writing this book I had in the back of my mind that those who are young now might someday be interested in what life was like when their grandparents were growing up how life changed drastically with the coming of World War II in Europe and the turbulent years that followed the traumas of our emigration to America with our three young children and the difficult adjustments we had to make My book then is sort of a legacy to them

Sex and Buildings Richard J. Williams, 2013-07-15 Massive modern skyscrapers obelisks towers all are structures that thanks to their phallic shape are often associated with sex But other buildings are more subtly connected as they provide the frameworks for our sexual lives and act as reminders of our sexual memories This relationship between sex and buildings mattered more than ever in the United States and Europe during the turbulent twentieth century when a culture of unprecedented sexual frankness and tolerance emerged and came to dominate many aspects of public life Part architectural history part cultural history and part travelogue Sex and Buildings explores how progressive sexual attitudes manifest themselves in architecture asking what progressive sexuality might look like architecturally and exploring the successes and failures of buildings attempts to reflect it In search of structures that reflect the sexual mores of their inhabitants Richard J Williams visits modernist buildings in Southern California the Westin Bonaventure Hotel the Playboy Mansion in Chicago the Seagram in New York communes from the 1960s and more A fascinating and often funny look at a period of extraordinary social change coupled with aesthetic invention Sex and Buildings will change the way we look at the buildings around us

In this extraordinary group biography Weber brilliantly brings to life the Bauhaus geniuses and the community of the pioneering art school in Germany's Weimar and Dessau in the 1920s and early 1930s. Here are Walter Gropius founder of the Bauhaus the architect who streamlined design early in his career and who saw the school as a place for designers to collaborate in an ideal setting a dashing hussar the ardent young lover of the renowned femme fatale Alma Mahler beginning when she was the wife of composer Gustav Mahler Paul Klee the onlooker smoking his pipe observing Bauhaus dances as well as his colleagues lectures from the back of the room the cook who invented recipes and threw together his limited ingredients with the same spontaneity sense of proportion and fascination that underscored his paintings Wassily Kandinsky the Russian-born pioneer of abstract painting guarding a secret tragedy one could never have guessed from his lively paintings in which he used bold colors not just for their visual vibrancy but for their sound effects Josef Albers who entered the Bauhaus as a student in 1920 and was one of the seven remaining faculty members when the school was closed by the Gestapo in 1933 Annelise Else Frieda Fleischmann a Berlin heiress an intrepid young woman who later as Anni Albers made art the focal point of her existence Ludwig Mies van der Rohe imperious decisive often harsh an architect who became director the last of the Bauhaus and the person who guided the school's final days after SS storm troopers raided the premises Weber captures the life spirit and flair with which these geniuses lived as well as their consuming goal of making art and architecture. A portrait infused with their fulsome embrace of life their gift for laughter and the powerful force of their individual artistic personalities.

Hut Pavilion Shrine: Architectural Archetypes in Mid-Century Modernism Miles David Samson, 2016-03-09 The phase of American architectural history we call mid-century modernism 1940-1980 saw the spread of

Modern Movement tenets of functionalism social service and anonymity into mainstream practice It also saw the spread of their seeming opposites Temples arcades domes and other traditional types occur in both modernist and traditionalist forms from the 1950s to the 1970s Hut Pavilion Shrine examines this crossroads of modernism and the archetypal and critiques its buildings and theory The book centers on one particularly important and omnipresent type the pavilion a type which was the basis of major work by Louis I Kahn Paul Rudolph Philip Johnson Minoru Yamasaki and other eminent architects While focusing primarily on the architecture culture of the United States it also includes the work of British European Team X and Scandinavian designers and writers Making connections between formal analysis historical context and theory the book continues lines of inquiry which have been pursued by Neil Levine and Anthony Vidler on representation and by Sarah Goldhagen and Alice Friedman on modernism s forbidden elements of the honorific and the visually pleasurable It highlights the significance of pavilionizing mid century designers such as Victor Lundy John Johansen Eero Saarinen and Edward Durrell Stone and shows how frequently essentialist and traditionalist types appeared in the roadside vernacular of drive in restaurants gas stations furniture and car showrooms branch banks and motels The book ties together the threads in mid century architectural theory that addressed aspects of type essential structure and primal humanistic aspects of environment making and discusses how these concerns outlived the mid century moment and in the designs and writings of Aldo Rossi and others they paved the way for Post Modernism
