Looking To Learn Visual Pedagogy At The University Of Chicago:

Looking to Learn Linda Seidel, Katherine Fischer Taylor, 1998 Looking to Learn an exhibition at the Smart Museum of Art at the University of Chicago challenges the decontextualized approach to images and learning by setting ritual functional and intentionally aesthetic objects side by side together with inventories technical viewing devices photographs of ceremonial practices deploying the objects printed materials representing them and records and fragments of some of the environments to which they have belonged The resulting installations probed the ways in which objects artifacts and images have been collected deployed and exhibited in teaching research and self representation from the earliest days at the University Looking and Learning: Visual Literacy across the Disciplines Deandra Little, Peter Felten, Chad Berry, 2015-03-13 In this volume the authors focus on the importance of inclusive teaching and the role faculty can play in helping students achieve though not necessarily in the same way To teach with a focus on inclusion means to believe that every person has the ability to learn It means that most individuals want to learn to improve their ability to better understand the world in which they live and to be able to navigate their pathways of life This volume includes the following topics best practices for teaching students with social economic gender or ethnic differences adjustments to the teaching and learning process to focus on inclusion strategies for teaching that help learners connect what they know with the information presented environments that maximize learners academic and social growth The premise of inclusive teaching works to demonstrate that all people can and do learn Educators and administrators can incorporate the techniques of inclusive learning and help learners retain more information This is the 141st volume of the quarterly Jossey Bass higher education series New Directions for Teaching and Learning It offers a comprehensive range of ideas and techniques for improving college teaching based on the experience of seasoned instructors and the latest findings of educational and psychological researchers The Practice of Persuasion Keith Moxey, 2018-08-06 This sequel to The Practice of Theory stresses the continued need for self reflective awareness in art historical writing Offering a series of meditations on the discipline of art history in the context of contemporary critical theory Moxey addresses such central issues as the status of the canon the nature of aesthetic value and the character of historical knowledge The chapters are linked by a common interest in even fascination with the paradoxical power of narrative and the identity of the authorial voice Moxey maintains that art history is a rhetoric of persuasion rather than a discourse of truth Each chapter in The Practice of Persuasion attempts to demonstrate the paradoxes inherent in a genre that while committed to representing the past must inevitably bear the imprint of the present In Moxey s view art history as a discipline is often unable to recognize its status as a regime of truth that produces historically determined meanings and so continues to act as if based on a universal aesthetic foundation His new book should enable art historians to engage with the past in a manner less determined by tradition and more responsive to contemporary values and aspirations Art Journal ,1960 The Smart Museum of Art Bulletin ,1999 Visual Culture Approaches to the Selfie Derek Conrad Murray, 2021-11-24 This collection explores the cultural fascination with social media forms of self portraiture selfies with a specific interest in online self imaging strategies in a Western context This book examines the selfie as a social and technological phenomenon but also engages with digital self portraiture as representation as work that is committed to rigorous object based analysis The scholars in this volume consider the topic of online self portraiture both its social function as a technology driven form of visual communication as well as its thematic intellectual historical and aesthetic intersections with the history of art and visual culture This book will be of interest to scholars of photography art history and media studies ECEL 2019 18th European Conference on e-Learning Rikke Ørngreen, Bente Meyer, Mie Buhl , 2019-11-07 Essentials of Teaching and Integrating Visual and Media Literacy Danilo M. Baylen, Adriana D'Alba, 2015-04-23 This book focuses on how to effectively integrate the teaching and learning of visual and media literacies in K 12 and higher education Not only does it address and review the elements and principles of visual design but also identifies discusses and describes the value of media in learning diverse and challenging content across disciplines Finally this book provides a balanced treatment of how visual and media literacies support deep content learning student engagement critical thinking creativity problem solving and production ECEL 2021 20th European Conference on e-Learning Prof. Dr.-Ing. Carsten Busch, Prof. Dr. Tilo Wendler , Martin Steinicke i, 2021-10-28 Handbook of Teaching and Learning Social Research Methods Melanie Nind, 2023-09-06 This comprehensive Handbook illustrates the wide range of approaches to teaching and learning social research methods in the classroom online in the field and in informal contexts Bringing together contributors from varied disciplines and nations it represents a landmark in the development of pedagogical culture for social research methods To Inspire and Instruct Christina M. Nielsen, 2008 This collection of essays which derive from a symposium held at the Art Institute of Chicago in 2005 tells the story of how medieval art was collected by both individuals and institutions in the American Midwest This book will appeal to both medievalists and scholars of nineteenth and twentieth century American history In addition it will also appeal to scholars who are interested in museum studies and the history of collecting The essays in the first section oeCollecting and Displaying Medieval Art consider the formation of medieval art collections at influential cultural institutions in three of the most important centers of industry and culture in the Midwest Chicago Detroit and Cleveland The second section oeMedieval Art as Inspiration and Education examines the motives of both private donors and museum professionals in forming collections and establishing period rooms and cloistered spaces at museums in Toledo Kansas City and St Louis among others At the opposite end of the spectrum was a new trend in curatorial practice beginning in the 1930s that favored the dismantling of period rooms and espoused displaying historical works of art in more distinctly modern settings a theme that pervades section three oeMedieval Art and Modernism An essay on medieval art in Midwestern university art museums and another one that considers the impact of works from medieval collections in special exhibitions serve as a remarkable coda to the rest of the volume Two appendices follow this one that provides an overview of medieval art collections in Midwestern university museums and another which provides a biographical sketch of prominent dealers of medieval art from 1900 1950

Video-based Research in Education Lihua Xu, George Aranda, Wanty Widjaja, David Clarke, 2018-11-09 The rapid development of video technology in the last decade has changed the ways in which people communicate how they learn and how research is done Video technology offers rich potential in capturing complex social interactions over a prolonged period of time and in supporting teacher professional learning and development This book explores the ontological epistemological methodological and ethical challenges associated with the different uses of video in research ranging from video as a tool for investigating social interactions and for stimulating participants reflection to the use of video for engaging varied communities and social groups in the process of teaching learning and research Each chapter presents the authors critical reflection on the ways in which video was employed the research decisions made the methodological challenges faced and the consequences for how educational practices were understood As such it illustrates a wide range of philosophical and theoretical standpoints with respect to video based research approaches This book will stimulate broad and rich discussion among education researchers who are interested in video research and contributes to advancing knowledge of the field developing approaches to dealing with emergent ethical theoretical and methodological issues and generating new protocols and guidelines for conducting video based research across a variety of disciplinary areas in education

Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts, Volume II James Flood, Shirley Brice Heath, Diane Lapp, 2015-04-22 The Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts Volume II brings together state of the art research and practice on the evolving view of literacy as encompassing not only reading writing speaking and listening but also the multiple ways through which learners gain access to knowledge and skills It forefronts as central to literacy education the visual communicative and performative arts and the extent to which all of the technologies that have vastly expanded the meanings and uses of literacy originate and evolve through the skills and interests of the young A project of the International Reading Association published and distributed by Routledge Taylor Francis Visit <http://www.reading.org> for more information about International Reading Association books membership and other services

The SAGE Handbook of Visual Research Methods Eric Margolis, Luc Pauwels, 2011-07-31 This book captures the state of the art in visual research Margolis and Pauwels have brought together in one volume a unique survey of the field of visual research that will be essential reading for scholars and students across the social sciences arts and humanities The SAGE Handbook of Visual Research Methods encompasses the breadth and depth of the field and points the way to future research possibilities It illustrates cutting edge as well as long standing and recognized practices This book is not only about research it is also an example of the way that the visual can be incorporated into data collection and the presentation of research findings Chapters describe a methodology or analytical framework its strengths and limitations possible fields of application and practical guidelines on how to apply the method or technique The Handbook is organized into seven main sections Framing the Field of Visual Research Producing Visual Data and Insight Participatory and Subject Centered Approaches Analytical Frameworks and Approaches Visualization Technologies and Practices Moving Beyond the Visual Options and Issues for Using and Presenting Visual Research Eric Margolis is an Associate Professor in the Hugh Downs School of Human Communication He is President of the International Visual Sociology Association Luc Pauwels is Professor of Visual Culture at the University of Antwerp He is Chair of the Visual Communication Studies Division of the ICA and Vice President of the International Visual Sociology Association IVSA Visual Processes in Reading and Reading Disabilities Dale M. Willows, Richard Kruk, Evelyne Corcos, 2012-12-06 Over the last 25 years reading processes have been the focus of an enormous amount of research in experimental psychology as well as in other disciplines The theories and models emerging from this research have greatly advanced understanding of both normal acquisition and of reading disabilities Although great progress has been made there are certain aspects that have been relatively neglected in the current understanding Specifically the role of visual factors has received less attention than that of other component processes This is particularly surprising since reading and writing are distinct from the other language processes of speaking and listening in large part by virtue of the fact that a visual dimension is involved Relevant research is broadly scattered both geographically and in terms of disciplines and there have been no major reviews or books concerned with the visual dimension of reading and reading disabilities The purpose of this book is to bring together a broad range of evidence that concerns the role of visual information in reading and reading disabilities Because reading processes are of central interest to cognitive scientists neuropsychologists psycholinguists clinicians and educators this book should draw a very broad readership Exploring Aesthetic Approaches to Arts Integration Marina Sotiropoulou-Zormpala, 2025-05-30 This book re examines the role of arts integration in the preschool and primary school curricula arguing for the creation of an educational environment where children can process every taught subject as an aesthetic stimulus Deriving from the author's earlier work this scholarly volume attempts to develop novel criteria for arts integration curricula through examining the effects of different indicative arts integration activities implemented in preschool and primary classrooms Taking a pedagogical approach chapters enable readers to connect theoretical insights implementation strategies and corresponding methodological guidelines Ultimately this book argues that the aesthetic integration of the arts into the curricula of preschool and primary schools has three distinct important effects on the educational process fostering a more creative and productive education through a multilevel approach creating opportunities for holistic education by enhancing children's multifaceted learning involvement and promoting multimodal and inclusive education by providing diverse resources of meaning making This book will be of interest to researchers postgraduate students and academics in the fields of primary education curriculum studies teacher education and arts education Educational policymakers and teacher trainers may also benefit from this volume more broadly

Ubiquitous Learning Bill Cope, Mary Kalantzis, 2009 Exploring the anywhere anytime possibilities for learning in the age of digital media Moral Panic in Physical Education and Coaching Heather Piper, Dean Garratt, Bill Taylor, 2017-10-02

This book focuses on sports coaching and sports teaching and how touching young sports participants has been redefined as dubious and dangerous Coaches are constrained by a framework of regulations and guidelines which create anxiety and many coaches now question the risks and benefits of their continuing involvement The book includes some data from a recently completed ESRC project Hands off sports coaching the politics of touch and builds on previous ESRC research Touchlines the problematic of touching between children and professionals which illuminated tensions in touching behaviours between professionals and children in education and care settings It considers the negative effects of particular understandings of risk and moral panic around touching and related behaviours where adults children and young people interact and makes a significant contribution to critical discussions around related practice pedagogy politics and policy While focussed on sports coaching and teaching it is germane to the situation of all those acting in loco parentis This book was originally published as a special issue of Sport Education and Society Visual Communication for Social Work

Practice Sonia M. Tascón, 2018-09-03 How are we to understand how the dominance of visual images and representations in late modernity affects Social Work practice research and education Social workers are increasingly using still and moving images to illustrate their work to create new knowledge and to further specific groups interests As a profession in which communication is central visual practices are becoming ever more significant as they seek to carry out their work with and for the marginalised and disenfranchised It is time for the profession to gain more critical analytical and practical knowledge of visual culture and communication in order to use and create images in accordance with its central principle of social justice That requires an understanding of them beyond representation As important as this is it is also where the profession s scholarly work in this area has remained and halted and thus understanding of the work of images in our practices is limited In order to more fully understand images and their effects both ideologically and experientially social workers need to bring to bear other areas of study such as reception studies visual phenomenology and the gaze These other analytical frames enable a consideration not only of images per se but also of their effect on the viewer the human spectators and the subjects at the heart of Social Work By bringing understandings and experiences in Film Media and Communications Visual Communication for Social Work Practice provides the reader with a wide range of critically analytical frames for practitioners activists educators and researchers as they use and create images This invites a deeper knowledge and familiarity with the power dimensions of the image thus aligning with the social justice dimension of Social Work Examples are provided from cinema popular media but more importantly from Social Work practitioners themselves to demonstrate what has already been made possible as they create and use images to further the interpersonal communal and justice dimensions of their work This book will be of interest to scholars students and social workers particularly those with an interest in critical and creative methodologies
