A New Map of Wonders Caspar Henderson, 2017-11-15 Henderson teaches us how to wonder anew with a new vision of science illuminated by a rich range of literature philosophy art and music Hugh Aldersey Williams author of Dutch Light We live in a world that is known every corner thoroughly explored But has this knowledge cost us the ability to wonder Wonder Caspar Henderson argues is at its most supremely valuable in just such a world because it reaffirms our humanity and gives us hope for the future That's the power of wonder and that's what we should aim to cultivate in our lives But what are the wonders of the modern world Henderson's brilliant exploration borrows from the form of one of the oldest and most widely known sources of wonder maps Large detailed mappae mundi invited people in medieval Europe to vividly

imagine places and possibilities they had never seen before manticores with the head of a man the body of a lion and the stinging tail of a scorpion tribes of one eyed men who fought griffins for diamonds and fearsome Scythian warriors who drank the blood of their enemies from their skulls A New Map of Wonders explores these and other realms of the wonderful in different times and cultures and in the present day taking readers from Aboriginal Australian landscapes to sacred sites in Great Britain all the while keeping sight questions such as the cognitive basis of wonder and the relationship between wonder and science Beautifully illustrated and written with wit and moral complexity this sequel to The Book of Barely Imagined Beings is a fascinating account of the power of wonder and an unforgettable meditation on its importance to our future

Representing the Exotic and the Familiar Meenakshi Bharat, Madhu Grover, 2019-11-28 The multicultural world of today is often said to be marked by a certain kind of exoticization a fetishizing process as Graham Huggan has called it which separates a first world from a third world the Occident from the Orient The essays collected here reassess this tendency not least by focusing on the kinds of intellectual tourism and dilettantism to which it has given rise The wider context of these analyses is a postcolonial scenario where literatures and languages can move from the exotic to the comparatively familiar space of contemporary writings where an exotic mythos can live on into the familiar present and where certain perceptions and representations of peoples of literatures and of languages have turned exoticization and familiarization into global modes of mass cultural consumption Especially by exploring the liminalities between different cultures this collection manages to trace both the history and the politics of exoticist representation and in so doing to make a significant critical intervention

Mindfulness-Based Compassionate Living Erik van den Brink, Frits Koster, 2015-05-08 Mindfulness involves learning to be more aware of life as it unfolds moment by moment even if these moments bring us difficulty pain or suffering This is a challenge we will all face at some time in our lives and which health professionals face every day in their work The Mindfulness Based Compassionate Living programme presents a new way of learning how to face the pressures of modern living by providing an antidote which teaches us how to cultivate kindness and compassion starting with being kind to ourselves Compassion involves both sensitivity to our own and others suffering and the courage to deal with it Integrating the work of experts in the field such as Paul Gilbert Kristin Neff Christopher Germer and Tara Brach Erik van den Brink and Frits Koster have established an eight stage step by step compassion training programme supported by practical exercises and free audio downloads which builds on basic mindfulness skills Grounded in ancient wisdom and modern science they demonstrate how being compassionate shapes our minds and brains and benefits our health and relationships The programme will be helpful to many including people with various types of chronic or recurring mental health problems and can be an effective means of coping better with low self esteem self reproach or shame enabling participants to experience more warmth safeness acceptance and connection with themselves and others Mindfulness Based Compassionate Living will be an invaluable manual for mindfulness teachers therapists and counsellors wishing to bring the care back into healthcare both for their clients and themselves It can also be used as a self help guide for personal practice
