[Un]framing the "Bad Woman" Alicia Gaspar de Alba, 2014-07-15 What the women I write about have in common is that they are all rebels with a cause and I see myself represented in their mirror, asserts Alicia Gaspar de Alba. Looking back across a career in which she has written novels, poems and scholarly works about Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz, La Malinche, Coyolxauhqui, the murdered women of Juárez, the Salem witches and Chicana lesbian feminists, Gaspar de Alba realized that what links these historically and socially diverse figures is that they all fall into the category of bad women as defined by their place, culture and time, and all have been punished as well as remembered for rebelling against the frames imposed on them by capitalist patriarchal discourses. In Unframing the Bad Woman, Gaspar de Alba revisits and expands several of her published articles and presents three new essays to analyze how specific brown female bodies have been framed by racial, social, cultural, sexual, national, regional, historical and religious discourses of identity as well as how Chicanas can be liberated from these frames. Employing interdisciplinary methodologies of activist scholarship that draw from art, literature, history, politics, popular culture and feminist theory, she shows how the bad women who interest her are transgressive bodies that refuse to cooperate with patriarchal dictates about what constitutes a good woman and that queer alter the male-centric and heteronormative history, politics and consciousness of Chicano/Mexicano culture. By unframing these bad women and rewriting their stories within a revolutionary frame, Gaspar de Alba offers her compatriots and fellow luchadoras empowering models of struggle, resistance and rebirth. Beginning Ethnic American Literatures Helena Grice, 2001-06-23 This text is designed to introduce students not only to ethnic American writers but also to the cultural contexts and literary traditions in which their work is situated.
