

The background of the cover is an abstract composition. It features a central, somewhat rectangular area with a textured, painterly appearance in shades of green, yellow, and orange, which resembles a chameleon's skin. This central area is framed by dark, angular, geometric shapes in brown and black, creating a sense of depth and architectural structure. The overall effect is a blend of naturalistic texture and modern, abstract design.

from the ashes of betrayal Stars and Keys Lee Haring, 2007-07-19 In Stars and Keys Folktales and Creolization in the Southwest Indian Ocean Lee Haring introduces readers to the rich folklore traditions of the islands of the southwest Indian Ocean. The culture of Madagascar, Mauritius, Seychelles, Réunion and the Comoros is a unique blend of traditions that have been brought from Africa, South Asia, Europe and the Middle East. The folktales from these islands reflect the diversity of this culture and provide a rare opportunity to observe the fluidity of traditions and the process of creolization. Haring presents the tales in a uniquely innovative style; he interrupts the text as if he were reading aloud and directly addresses the reader. His words and those of the storytellers are clearly distinguished, making this folktale collection useful to a wide range of readers and scholars.

King Chameleon and more West African Folktales Rotimi Ogunjobi, 2015-12 King Chameleon and more West African Folktales is a selection of folklore believed to have originated from West Africa and the people who live in the region. West Africa is home to several scores of tribes, languages and dialects. Even though tribal cords are quite strong and languages may differ markedly even between two communities a few hundred miles apart, it is usual to find similarities between the local folktales and in some cases only the names of the central characters would make one version of a tale to be different from another. Most of the stories in this volume were gleaned from areas within the countries now known as Ghana and Togo. However, the stories are commonly retold in several forms all over the West Africa region.
