expanded with the times beyond models drawings and photographs to include more immersive tools such as slides film and even a full scale structure built especially for his 1953 retrospective at the Guggenheim Museum Placing Wright s exhibitions side by side with his writings Smith shows how integral these exhibitions were to his vision and sheds light on the broader discourse concerning architecture and modernism during the first half of the twentieth century Wright on Exhibit features color renderings photos and plans as well as a checklist of exhibitions and an illustrated catalog of extant and lost models made under Wright s supervision Annual Reports Carnegie Institute,1983 Includes report of the director of fine arts of the director of the Museum and of the director of the Technical schools The Early Architecture Of Western

Fallingwater Rising Franklin Toker,2007-12-18

Fallingwater Rising is a biography not of a person but of the most famous house of the twentieth century. Scholars and the public have long extolled the house that Frank Lloyd Wright perched over a Pennsylvania waterfall in 1937 but the full story has never been told. When he got the commission to design the house, Wright was nearing seventy, his youth and his early fame long gone. It was the Depression and Wright had no work in sight. Into his orbit stepped Edgar J Kaufmann, a Pittsburgh department store mogul, the smartest retailer in America and a philanthropist with the burning ambition to build a world famous work of architecture. It was an unlikely collaboration: the Jewish merchant who had little concern for modern architecture and the brilliant modernist who was leery of Jews. But the two men collaborated to produce an extraordinary building of lasting architectural significance that brought international fame to them both and confirmed Wright's position as the greatest architect of the twentieth century. Fallingwater Rising is also an enthralling family drama involving Kaufmann, his beautiful cousin wife Liliane and their son Edgar Jr whose own role in the creation of Fallingwater and its ongoing reputation is central to the story. Involving such key figures of the 1930s as Frida Kahlo, Albert Einstein, Henry R Luce, William Randolph Hearst, Ayn Rand and Franklin Roosevelt, Fallingwater Rising shows us how E J Kaufmann's house became not just Wright's masterpiece but a fundamental icon of American life. One of the pleasures of the book is its rich evocation of the upper crust society of Pittsburgh: Carnegie, Frick, the Mellons, a society that was socially reactionary but luxury loving and baronial in its tastes, hobbies and sexual attitudes. Kaufmann had so many mistresses that his store issued them distinctive charge plates they could use without paying. Franklin Toker has been studying Fallingwater for eighteen years. No one but he could have given us this compelling saga of the most famous private house in the world and the dramatic personal story of the fascinating people who made and used it. A major contribution to both architectural and social history.

A Staggering Revolution

John Raeburn,2010-10-01 During the 1930s the world of photography was unsettled, exciting and boisterous. John Raeburn's A Staggering Revolution recreates the energy of the era by surveying photography's rich variety of innovation, exploring the aesthetic and cultural achievements of its leading figures and mapping the paths their pictures blazed. While other studies of thirties photography have concentrated on the documentary work of the Farm Security Administration, FSA, no previous book has considered it alongside so many of the decade's other important photographic projects. A Staggering Revolution includes individual chapters on Edward Steichen's celebrity portraiture, Berenice Abbott's Changing New York project, the Photo League's ethnography of Harlem and Edward Weston's western landscapes made under the auspices of the first Guggenheim Fellowship awarded to a photographer. It also examines Margaret Bourke White's industrial and documentary pictures, the collective undertakings by California's Group f 64 and the fashion magazine specialists, as well as the activities of the FSA and the Photo League.
