Septuagint: Judges Scriptural Research Institute,2020-08-30 The Book of Judges is very old and the Song of Deborah may be the oldest surviving piece of Israelite literature It uses some of the most archaic forms of Hebrew and was likely composed in Canaanite before Hebrew became a defined dialect as this issue of dialect was part of the division between the Israelites during the battle between the Gileadites east of the Jordan and the Ephraimites from west of the Jordan There is evidence that the book was either assembled or redacted in the Kingdom of Samaria The region of the book also generally corresponds with the territory of the northern kingdom both the region that had once been under Egyptian authority west of the Jordan and the region east of the Jordan which had generally been independent of Egypt The synchronizations between the Book of Judges and the records of Egypt are far too many to be overlooked or ignored As almost all denominations of Christians and Jews agree that King Saul established his kingdom in 1037 BC and the Septuagint s version of Judges includes 460 years of the land being ruled by Judges or foreign kings followed by an era of chaos when there was no king the latest possible date the Exodus could have taken place was the 1500s BC which supports the idea that the 10 plagues of Egypt were descriptions of the fallout and effects of the Minoan eruption which Egyptologists date to 1550 BC According to Judges 42 years later the Israelites invaded Samaria northern modern Israel and the Palestinian West Bank under the leadership of Joshua which would have been 1508 BC The plan was already laid out in the Book of Joshua to occupy the entire land of Canaan yet just three years later when Joshua was 85 years old the Israelites stopped their campaign after having only occupied the cities in Samaria this would have been in 1505 BC The reason they stopped their invasion is not given however Egyptian records do explain it as in the same year 1505 BC Pharaoh Thutmose I marched his army through Canaan to reconquer it for the Egyptian Empire It had previously been under the control of the Hyksos Dynasty whose empire collapsed in the aftermath of the Minoan eruption In 1550 BC the Hyksos capital fell to the rival southern dynasty of Pharaoh Ahmose I and the Hyksos retreated to their fortress of Sharuhennear modern Gaza in the Palestinian Gaza Strip This suggests the Hyksos maintained control over Canaan until Sharuhennfell to Ahmose I in 1540 BC Ahmose I led an invasion of southern Canaan a few years later in an attempt to root out any remaining Hyksos Egyptologists are not sure when this campaign was placing it sometime between 1537 and 1527 BC This campaign is not believed to have reached farther north than Byblos in modern Lebanon and did not result in any long term political control over Canaan Ahmose I s main goal seems to have been to destroy any remaining Hyksos in the region to ensure they did not try to recapture Egypt

Septuagint: Judges and Ruth Scriptural Research Institute,2020-12-27 The Book of Judges is very old and the Song of Deborah may be the oldest surviving piece of Israelite literature It uses some of the most archaic forms of Hebrew and was likely composed in Canaanite before Hebrew became a defined dialect as this issue of dialect was part of the division between the Israelites during the battle between the Gileadites east of the Jordan and the Ephraimites from west of the Jordan There is evidence that the book was either assembled or redacted in the Kingdom of Samaria The region of the book also generally corresponds with the territory of the northern kingdom both the region that had once been under Egyptian authority west of the Jordan and the region east of the Jordan which had generally been independent of Egypt The synchronizations between the Book of Judges and the records of

Egypt are far too many to be overlooked or ignored As almost all denominations of Christians and Jews agree that King Saul established his kingdom in 1037 BC and the Septuagint s version of Judges includes 460 years of the land being ruled by Judges or foreign kings followed by an era of chaos when there was no king the latest possible date the Exodus could have taken place was the 1500s BC which supports the idea that the 10 plagues of Egypt were descriptions of the fallout and effects of the Minoan eruption which Egyptologists date to 1550 BC According to Judges 42 years later the Israelites invaded Samaria northern modern Israel and the Palestinian West Bank under the leadership of Joshua which would have been 1508 BC The plan was already laid out in the Book of Joshua to occupy the entire land of Canaan yet just three years later when Joshua was 85 years old the Israelites stopped their campaign after having only occupied the cities in Samaria this would have been in 1505 BC The reason they stopped their invasion is not given however Egyptian records do explain it as in the same year 1505 BC Pharaoh Thutmose I marched his army through Canaan to reconquer it for the Egyptian Empire It had previously been under the control of the Hyksos Dynasty whose empire collapsed in the aftermath of the Minoan eruption In 1550 BC the Hyksos capital fell to the rival southern dynasty of Pharaoh Ahmose I and the Hyksos retreated to their fortress of Sharuhén near modern Gaza in the Palestinian Gaza Strip This suggests the Hyksos maintained control over Canaan until Sharuhén fell to Ahmose I in 1540 BC Ahmose I led an invasion of southern Canaan a few years later in an attempt to root out any remaining Hyksos Egyptologists are not sure when this campaign was placing it sometime between 1537 and 1527 BC This campaign is not believed to have reached farther north than Byblos in modern Lebanon and did not result in any long term political control over Canaan Ahmose I s main goal seems to have been to destroy any remaining Hyksos in the region to ensure they did not try to recapture Egypt Septuagint: History, Volume 1 Scriptural Research Institute, 2023-03-13 In the mid 3 century BC King Ptolemy II Philadelphus of Egypt ordered a translation of the ancient Israelite scriptures for the Library of Alexandria This translation later became known as the Septuagint based on the description of the translation by seventy translators in the Letter of Aristeas The History section of the Septuagint contained the books that told the history of the Israelite and Judahites from Joshua s conquest of Canaan circa 1500 BC until the establishment of the Hasmonean dynasty in Judea in 140 BC Septuagint History Volume 1 is composed of modern non theological translations of the books of Joshua Judges Ruth and the four books of the Kingdoms which spanned 1504 BC to the destruction of Jerusalem in 587 BC Most of the era is not well documented in the historic records of Canaan however some limited correlations are found in the Amarna Letters which are cuneiform correspondences between the Egyptian government and various officials in Canaan and Mesopotamia By the final book 4th Kingdoms the historic records of the Assyrians Egyptians and Babylonians confirm the general history recorded in the book although the theological interpretation is unique to the Judahites of the era The Septuagint s translation differs significantly from the later Masoretic version of the books as it uses a different dating for the events such as Joshua s invasion of Canaan just before 1500 BC as opposed to the 1200s or 1300s BC depending on interpretations of the Masoretic texts and the Talmud The Septuagint's dating correlates significantly with the dating of major Egyptian events according to Egyptologists It is unclear if the Septuagint's dating was altered by the translators in Alexandria to correlate with Egyptian history however that seems unlikely as the Greek historians 2200 years ago do not seem to have had any records of the era of Akhenaten when Aten became the dominant god of Egypt yet the prophetess Deborah sang a song to Aten during the same era in the book of Judges As the Septuagint was based on the once common Aramaic version of the books and not the priestly Judahite version it is likely that the dating in the Septuagint is a more accurate reflection of the histories as both Judahite version of the books appear to have been edited by astrologers at some point which is generally acknowledged by historians to have ruined any historical value to the texts The consensus is that the astrological edits must have happened fairly late likely in the Hasmonean Dynasty which also produced the first official Hebrew translation of the older Judahite version of the texts One of the complaints the Romans had regarding the Judeans of the Hasmonean dynasty is that they were astrology to confuse the weak minded which supports the concept that they made the astrological edits when they created the Hebrew language translations This altered timeline continued into the Talmud and is known as Rabbinical History however it not taken seriously by historians Geoffrey Chaucer Jerome Mandel,1992 The same artistic techniques of contrast cross referencing and leitmotif which unify the individual tales he used to unify the multitalle fragments and to ensure the coherence of the whole project Even when they do not share the same tone point of view narrator or genre the tales within each fragment belong together because they share the same themes and types of characters and perhaps most indicative of Chaucer's ideas of order they share the same structure These parallels which pervade every fragment of the Canterbury Tales insist that certain tales and no others be joined to form a coherent aesthetic unit Therefore each fragment regardless of its intended position in a overall scheme which Chaucer never completed is a coherent work of art By examining the methods Chaucer used to link the tales into clearly defined and coherent fragments Professor Mandel shows how Chaucer designed and built the tales to fit together with mutual coherence Septuagint: History Scriptural Research Institute,2019-12-22 In the mid 3 century BC King Ptolemy II Philadelphus of Egypt ordered a translation of the ancient Israelite scriptures for the Library of Alexandria This translation later became known as the Septuagint based on the description of the translation by seventy translators in the Letter of Aristeas By 132 BC the Septuagint included all the books later adopted by the Byzantine Orthodox church as the Old Testament section of the Christian Bible Some of these books were rejected by the Hebrew translators during the Hasmonean Dynasty of Judea and never formed part of the Masoretic text The Septuagint of 132 BC included four sections the Torah History Wisdom and Prophets sections The History section includes the books of Joshua Judges Ruth Kingdoms Paralipomena Ezra Tobit Judith Esther and Maccabees One of the problems with academic translations of the Septuagint is the use of unfamiliar names or terms as the Septuagint was written in Greek and therefore many names are unrecognizable to modern readers who are used to Hebrew derived names This project uses the more commonly understood Hebrew derived names instead of their Greek translations such as Canaan instead of Chanaan and Melchizedek instead of Melchisedec Common modern names are also used instead of either Greek or Hebrew terms when geographical locations are known such as the archaeological name Uruk instead of the Greek Orech or the Hebrew Erech and the archaeological term Sumer instead of Shinar or Senar While this could be argued as not being a correct academic procedure it does fulfill the goal of making the translation easy to read and understand
