Thought Jonathan Hill, 2013-02-26 A society with no grasp of its history is like a person without a memory This is particularly true of the history of ideas This book is an ideal introduction to the thinkers who have shaped Christian history and the culture of much of the world Writing in a lively accessible style Jonathan Hill takes us on an enlightening journey from the first to the twenty first centuries He shows us the key Christian thinkers through the ages ranging from Irenaeus Origen Augustine and Aquinas through to Luther Wesley Kierkegaard and Barth placing them in their historical context and assessing their contribution to the development of Christianity Jews and the Christian Imagination S.

Haynes, 1995-03-22 Reluctant Witnesses Jews and the Christian Imagination is an analysis of the ancient Christian myth that casts Jews as a witness people and this myth's presence in contemporary religious discourse It treats diverse products of the Christian imagination including systematic theology works of fiction and popular writings on biblical prophecy The book demonstrates that the witness people myth which was first articulated by Augustine and which determined official attitudes towards Jews in medieval Christendom remains a powerful force in the Christian imagination The Cross of Reality H.

Gaylon Barker, 2015-09-01 The Cross of Reality investigates Bonhoeffer's interpretation and use of Luther's theology in shaping his Christology In this essay H Gaylon Barker uses the theology of the cross as a key to understanding the characteristic elements that make up Bonhoeffer's theology he also shows how Bonhoeffer's conversation with his teachers and contemporaries Karl Holl and Karl Barth in particular develops Bonhoeffer's thought was indeed radical and revolutionary but it was so precisely because of its adherence to the classical traditions of the church especially Luther's theologia crucis Christian Thinking through the Ages David Arnold, 2024-12-10 Christian Thinking through the Ages takes its reader on a journey through 2 000 years of ideas It starts with Jesus of Nazareth's teaching looks at speculation about Jesus himself and his significance and describes the attempts to establish uniformity of belief both in the Roman Empire and in the late Middle Ages It describes the thinking of medieval monks schoolmen and friars of the Reformation the Scientific Revolution and the Enlightenment and goes on to show how the twentieth century's political horrors led to new theological ideas most of which have yet to trickle down to the mass of Christians Concluding with an explanation of the various ways Christian churches disagree with each other Christian Thinking through the Ages nonetheless ends with the hopeful thought that what Christians have in common and can share with others are the words of Jesus and his sacrifice The Young
