Machine In The Studio Constructing The Postwar American Artist:

Machine in the Studio Caroline A. Jones, 1996 Drawing on extensive interviews with artists and their assistants as well as close readings of artworks Jones explains that much of the major work of the 1960s was compelling precisely because it was mainstream central to the visual and economic culture of its time

Machine Art, 1934 Jennifer Jane Marshall, 2019-01-23 In 1934 New York's Museum of Modern Art staged a major exhibition of ball bearings airplane propellers pots and pans cocktail tumblers petri dishes protractors and other machine parts and products The exhibition titled Machine Art explored these ordinary objects as works of modern art teaching museumgoers about the nature of beauty and value in the era of mass production Telling the story of this extraordinarily popular but controversial show Jennifer Jane Marshall examines its history and the relationship between the museum's director Alfred H Barr Jr and its curator Philip Johnson who oversaw it She situates the show within the tumultuous climate of the interwar period and the Great Depression considering how these unadorned objects served as a response to timely debates over photography abstract art the end of the American gold standard and John Dewey's insight that how a person experiences things depends on the context in which they are encountered An engaging investigation of interwar American modernism Machine Art 1934 reveals how even simple things can serve as a defense against uncertainty

Retroactivity and Contemporary Art Craig Staff, 2018-04-19 Contemporary art is often preoccupied with time or acts in which the past is recovered Through specific case studies of artists who strategically work with historical moments this book examines how art from the last two decades has sought to mobilize these particular histories and to what effect against the backdrop of Modernism Drawing on the art theory of Rosalind Krauss and the philosophies of Paul Ricoeur Gerhard Richter and Pierre Nora Retroactivity and Contemporary Art interprets those works that foreground some aspect of retroactivity whether re enacting commemorating or re imagining as key artistic strategies This book is striking philosophical reflection on time within art and art within time and an indispensable read for those attempting to understand the artistic significance of history materiality and memory

Experimental Systems Michael Schwab, 2013 In the sciences the experimental approach has proved its worth in generating what subsequently requires understanding Can the emergent field of artistic research be inspired by recent thinking about the history and workings of science

Art and Postcapitalism Dave Beech, 2019-10-20 Artistic labour was exemplary for Utopian Socialist theories of attractive labour and Marxist theories of nonalienated labour but the rise of the anti work movement and current theories of fully automated luxury communism have seen art topple from its privileged place within the left's political imaginary as the artist has been reconceived as a prototype of the precarious 24/7 worker Art and Postcapitalism argues that art remains essential for thinking about the intersection of labour capitalism and postcapitalism not insofar as it merges work and pleasure but as an example of noncapitalist production Reassessing the contemporary politics of work by revisiting debates about art technology and in the nineteenth and twentieth century Dave Beech challenges the aesthetics of labour in John Ruskin William Morris and Oscar Wilde with a value theory of the supersession of capitalism that sheds light on the anti work theory by Silvia Federici Andre Gorz Kathi Weeks and Maurizio Lazzarato as well as the technological Cockayne of Srnicek and Williams and Paul Mason Formulating a critique of contemporary postcapitalism and developing a new understanding of art and labour within the political project of the supersession of value production this book is essential for activists scholars and anyone interested in the real and imagined escape routes from capitalism

Allan Kaprow, Robert Smithson, and the Limits to Art Philip Ursprung, Fiona Elliott, 2013-05-10 This innovative study of two of the most important artists of the twentieth century links the art practices of Allan Kaprow and Robert Smithson in their attempts to test the limits of art both what it is and where it is Ursprung provides a sophisticated yet accessible analysis placing the two artists firmly in the art world of the 1960s as well as in the art historical discourse of the following decades Although their practices were quite different they both extended the studio and gallery into desert landscapes abandoned warehouses industrial sites train stations and other spaces Ursprung bolsters his argument with substantial archival research and sociological and economic models of expansion and limits
