Peters Move Invitations To Literacy:

Postcolonial Literature and the Impact of Literacy Neil ten Kortenaar, 2011-06-02 Examining images of literacy in African and West Indian novels Neil ten Kortenaar looks at how postcolonial authors have thought about the act of writing itself Writing arrived in many parts of Africa as part of colonization in the twentieth century and with it a whole world of book learning and paper pushing of school and bureaucracy newspapers textbooks and letters candles hurricane lamps and electricity pens paper typewriters and printed type and orthography developed for formerly oral languages Writing only penetrated many layers of West Indian society in the same era The range of writers is wide and includes Chinua Achebe Wole Soyinka and V S Naipaul The chapters rely on close reading of canonical novels but discuss general themes and trends in African and Caribbean literature Ten Kortenaar's sensitive and penetrating treatment of these themes makes this an important contribution to the growing field of postcolonial literary studies

Literacy, Home and School Peter Hannon University of Sheffield., 2013-10-14 Parental involvement in the teaching of reading and writing has often lagged behind practice though schools in many countries now recognise the importance of parental involvement The ideas presented in this book offer new ways of thinking about parental involvement and should interest both researchers and practitioners It relates the recent growth of involvement to broader considerations of the nature of literacy and historical exclusion of parents from the curriculum Descriptions are given of key findings from research into pre school literacy work with parents and parents hearing children read and a framework to underpin practice is offered The author gives a critique of evaluation methods in the field and suggests how parental involvement should be evaluated together with a view of research findings to date and issues needing further study The book concludes with an appraisal of what was learned from research and what needs further enquiry

Layers of Learning JoEllen McCarthy, 2020 What if we viewed every read aloud as an invitation to learn more about literacy and ourselves When we layer together the two ideas that the books we share not only serve an academic purpose but they also convey big affective messages our classroom conversations become richer and student learning becomes more meaningful Layers of Learning explores read aloud strategies designed to enhance your reading and writing standards by capitalizing on the way literature can impact caring communities With over 200 picture book suggestions author JoEllen McCarthy introduces the Heartprint Framework which demonstrates how you can layer literacy and life lessons throughout your day using multiple connections across learning Inside you'll find the following 60 read aloud based connections that support caring classroom conversations lesson planning and extensions Instructional opportunities for nurturing readers and writers during workshop small group and individual conversations Literacy Snapshot photo essays with ideas to adopt or adapt Continuing connections with additional resources and invitations for further learning Layers of Learning is structured around four key elements Community Agency Respect and Empowerment or CARE Inside you'll discover the tools you need to emphasize reading and writing connections character education and culturally responsive
