James Greenhalgh

Pevsner Architectural Guides Birmingham:

Birmingham Andy Foster, 2005-01-01 This is a detailed authoritative and easy to use guide to the architectural wealth of England's second city the workshop of the world Birmingham's major buildings include its splendid English Baroque cathedral pioneering Neo Roman town hall and still controversial Central Library of the 1970s Streets of rich and varied Victorian and Edwardian architecture bear witness to an earlier era when Birmingham's civic initiatives were the admiration of the country More recently the city has been rejuvenated with architecture on a giant scale including the iconoclastic Selfridges and the canalside precinct of Brindleyplace where Modernism and Classical Revival are excitingly juxtaposed The guide also explores a variety of outer districts and suburbs among them the famous Jewellery Quarter the stucco villas of Edgbaston and Cadbury's celebrated Garden Suburb at Bournville A connecting theme is provided by the local Arts and Crafts school which flourished well into the twentieth century

Birmingham and the Black Country

Andy Foster, Nikolaus Pevsner, Alexandra Wedgwood, 2022-03-22 The latest revised volume in the Pevsner Architectural Guides covering Birmingham and the towns and settlements of the Black Country This fully revised account of the buildings of the City of Birmingham its suburbs and outskirts and the adjacent Black Country explores an area rich in Victorian and Edwardian architecture Even the small towns of the Black Country supported local architects with their own distinctive styles such as C W D Joynson in Darlaston and A T Butler in Cradley Heath Much West Midlands industry was organized in small to medium sized firms resulting in a rich and diverse streetscape and canalscape The Arts and Crafts tradition also established deep roots in the area resulting in masterpieces such as Lethaby's Eagle Insurance in Birmingham and Wolverhampton's Wightwick Manor as well as a host of fine villas and churches Older buildings of national significance include the grand Jacobean mansion of Aston Hall Thomas Archer's Birmingham Cathedral and such unexpected delights as the neoclassical barn in Solihull by Sir John Soane Featuring new color photography and numerous maps and text illustrations this volume will transform understanding and enjoyment of the architecture of this key English region

The Gangs of Birmingham

Philip Gooderson, In the early 1870s the boomtown of Birmingham erupted in a series of vicious gang wars Mobs of youths armed with stones knives and belt buckles fought pitched battles in a struggle for territorial supremacy Known as sloggers they drew their numbers from the workshops and factories that made guns nails and jewellery and lived cheek by jowl in overcrowded insanitary slums Author Philip Gooderson traces the history of these warring factions from their first appearance in the Cheapside area to the later rise of the peaky blinders new gangs named for their peaked caps and long fringes He describes for the first time the brutal antics of once infamous fighters such as the Simpson and Harper brothers and the police killer George Cloggy Williams and explains the eventual demise of the gangs at the turn of the century The Gangs of Birmingham brings to vivid life a forgotten chapter in the history of British gangland

The multicultural Midlands

Tom Kew, 2023-01-17 The multicultural Midlands is a unique interdisciplinary study of the literature music and food that shape the region's irrepressible though often overlooked cultural identity. It is the first of its kind to give serious critical attention to a part of the world which is frequently ignored by readers, critics and the culture industries. This book makes a claim for the importance of the Midlands and evidences this with nuanced close reading of a multitude of diverse texts spanning so-called high to low culture from the Black Country's Desi Pubs to Leicester's McIndians. Peri Peri you've tried the cowboys now try the Indians. Handsworth's reggae roots to Adrian Mole's diaries. Birmingham's Victorian and Edwardian Architects Phillada Ballard, 2009. Planning for Tall Buildings Michael Short, 2012-11-12. In a time of recession the challenge of building and planning for tall buildings has become even more complex. The economics of development, legislative and planning frameworks and the local politics of development must be navigated by those wishing to design and construct new tall buildings which fit within the fabric of their host cities. This book is a timely contribution to the debate about new tall buildings and their role and effect on our cities. It is divided into two main parts. In part one the relationship between tall buildings and planning is outlined, followed by an exploration of the impacts that construction of tall buildings can have. It focuses in particular on the conservation debates that proposals for new tall buildings raise. The first part ends with an analysis of the way in which planning strategies have evolved to deal with the unique consequences of tall buildings on their urban locations. The second part of the book focuses on seven examples of medium-sized cities dealing with planning and conservation issues and implications that arise from tall buildings. These have been chosen to reflect a wide range of methods to either encourage or to control tall buildings that cities are deploying. The case studies come from across the western world covering England, Manchester, Liverpool, Newcastle and Birmingham, Norway, Oslo, Ireland, Dublin and Canada, Vancouver and represent a broad spectrum of approaches to dealing with this issue. In drawing together the experiences of these varied cities, the book contributes to the ongoing debate about the role of the tall building in our cities, their potential impacts and experiences of those who use and inhabit them. The conclusions outline how cities should approach the strategic planning of tall buildings as well as how they should deal with the consequences of individual buildings, particularly on the built heritage.

The British Olympics Martin Polley, 2012-07-31. History records that the Olympic Games originated in ancient Greece nearly three thousand years ago, died out around 393 AD and were triumphantly reborn in 1896 in the Greek capital of Athens. Rather less well known is how, during the intervening centuries, an assortment of British writers, romantics, sportsmen and visionaries helped nurture that revival. Indeed, as sports historian Dr Martin Polley argues in this, the 12th book in the acclaimed Played in Britain series, our nation's fascination with all things Olympian has played a pivotal role in shaping the Games as we know them today, culminating in London becoming in 2012 the first city ever to stage a third modern Olympiad. Consider, for example, that the first published use of the word Olympian in the English language dates from around 1590. Its author, William Shakespeare. And that the first games of the post-classical era to adopt the formal title Olympick took place in the Cotswolds village of Chipping Campden in 1612. It was an English traveller, Richard Chandler, who rediscovered the lost site of Olympia in 1766 and a Shropshire doctor William Penny Brookes who in 1850 founded the Much Wenlock Olympian Games an annual community festival that inspired Pierre de Coubertin to revive the Games at an international level Other Olympic festivals surfaced in London to celebrate Queen Victoria's accession in Liverpool and in the north east town of Morpeth while the words Olympic and Olympian became steadily more ingrained in the popular imagination throughout the Victorian era Britain's Olympic heritage gained added momentum in the 20th century At White City in 1908 London built the world's first modern purpose built Olympic stadium while in 1948 London stepped in to save the Games by offering Wembley Stadium Also in the late 1940s at Stoke Mandeville hospital in Buckinghamshire the modern Paralympics were born when sporting contests were organised for injured servicemen Thus the 2012 Games represent the culmination of over four hundred years of British enthusiasm and ingenuity an attachment that has left in its wake a trail of fascinating stories characters sites buildings and artefacts Leading the reader on a marathon journey The British Olympics charts them all making this a vital and entertaining source for anyone with an interest in the Games in sport and in the wider narrative of Britain's social and cultural heritage

Automobility and the City in Twentieth-Century Britain and Japan Simon Gunn, Susan C. Townsend, 2019-08-22 Automobility and the City in Twentieth Century Britain and Japan is the first book to consider how mass motorization reshaped cities in Japan and Britain during the 20th century Taking two leading motor cities Nagoya and Birmingham as their principal subjects Simon Gunn and Susan C Townsend show how cars changed the spatial form and individual experience of the modern city and reveal the similarities and differences between Japan and Britain in adapting to the motor age The book has three main themes the place of automobility in post war urban reconstruction the emerging conflict between the promise of mobility and personal freedom offered by the car and its consequences for the urban environment the M/E dilemma and the extent to which the Anglo Japanese comparison can throw light on fundamental differences in cultural understanding of the environment urbanism and the self The result is the first comparative history of mass automobility and its environmental consequences between East and West

A Wealth of Buildings: Marking the Rhythm of English History Richard Barras, 2016-09-23 This two volume book explores how the great buildings of England bear witness to a thousand years of the nation's history In every age investment in iconic buildings reaches a climax when the prevailing mode of production is operating most effectively surplus wealth is most plentiful and the dominant class rules supreme During such periods of stability and prosperity the demand for new buildings is strong structural and stylistic innovations abound and there is fierce competition to build for lasting fame Each such climax produces a unique vintage of hegemonic buildings that are monuments to the wealth and power of those who ruled their world This second volume presents three case studies of iconic building investment from the eighteenth century to the present day During the eighteenth century the wealth of the great landed estates funded the golden age of country house building by aristocracy and gentry During the nineteenth century the Industrial Revolution unleashed an unprecedented wave of infrastructure investment and civic building by the ascendant capitalist class Since the late twentieth century the power of global financial capital has been symbolized by the relentless rise of city centre office towers A final chapter argues that these different forms of hegemonic building are a physical manifestation of the underlying rhythm of English history John Baskerville Caroline Archer-Parré, Malcolm Dick, 2017-10-05 The eighteenth century typographer printer industrialist and Enlightenment figure John Baskerville 1707 75 was an inventor entrepreneur and artist with a worldwide reputation who made eighteenth century Birmingham a city without typographic equal by changing the course of type design This publication explores Baskerville in his social and economic context and evaluates his impact Authentic Reconstruction John Bold, Peter Larkham, Robert Pickard, 2017-12-14 Notions of authenticity lie at the heart of many questions about heritage and identity in the built environment These questions are most pertinent when buildings have been destroyed in disaster or war and the built fabric is being reconstructed to reinstate traditional or historic appearances in place of what was lost Authentic Reconstruction examines this idea of reconstruction using it as a prompt to examine a range of deeper issues on heritage and the built environment From post WWII reconstruction programmes through to the rebuilding of historic cultural landscapes lost in natural disasters this collection of essays by heritage specialists provides a wide range of case studies and discussions Each presents responses to crises and lessons learned in order to extrapolate general guidelines for future actions by politicians architects and planners in reconstructing buildings The book also looks beyond disaster and war noting how authenticity bears on political intentions and image building exploring how reconstruction is used to tell a political or historical story so conditioning the ways in which the built environment is perceived and appreciated by its users This is not just about the buildings as bricks and mortar but about perceptions of identity and the social and historical values which buildings and spaces embody for a richly diverse population This book will be valuable to all who are concerned with heritage as practitioners or consumers particularly those concerned with reconstruction and the creation of authentic places and experiences architects architectural historians town planners preservationists conservationists and those involved in heritage management and material culture The Everyday Experiences of Reconstruction and Regeneration David Adams, Peter Larkham, 2019-04-09 Set within a wider British and international context of post war reconstruction The Everyday Experiences of Reconstruction and Regeneration focuses on such debates and experiences in Birmingham and Coventry as they recovered from Second World War bombings and post war industrial collapse Including numerous images Adams and Larkham explore the initial development of the post Second World War reconstruction projects which so substantially changed the face of the cities and provided radical new identities Exploring these cities throughout the post war period brings into sharp focus the duality of contemporary approaches to regeneration which often criticise mid twentieth century poorly conceived planning and architectural projects for producing inhuman and unsympathetic schemes while proposing exactly the type of large scale regeneration that may potentially create similar issues in the future This book would be beneficial for academics and students of planning and urban design particularly those with an interest in post catastrophe or large scale reconstruction projects within cities

Sculpture and the Decorative in Britain and Europe Imogen Hart, Claire Jones, 2020-10-29 By foregrounding the overlaps between sculpture and the decorative this volume of essays offers a model for a more integrated form of art history writing Through distinct case studies from a seventeenth century Danish altarpiece to contemporary British ceramics it brings to centre stage makers objects concepts and spaces that have been marginalized by the enforcement of boundaries within art and design discourse These essays challenge the classed raced and gendered categories that have structured the histories and languages of art and its making Sculpture and the Decorative in Britain and Europe is essential reading for anyone interested in the history and practice of sculpture and the decorative arts and the methodologies of art history

Injurious Vistas: The Control of Outdoor Advertising, Governance and the Shaping of Urban Experience in Britain, 1817-1962 James Greenhalgh, 2021-09-08 This book is a history of outdoor advertising control in Britain between the early nineteenth century and the beginning of the 1960s It considers the development of primarily legislative and governmental approaches to controlling commercial signage billboards posters and hoardings in rural and urban areas This study of how the proliferation of outdoor advertising was dramatically curtailed serves as a means to examine how the understanding and governance of lived spaces developed over a century and a half In the early nineteenth century outdoor advertising was just another material nuisance to regimes of improvement by the turn of the century it was reframed as a threat to architecture rural beauty and codes of moral self governance In the twentieth century it disrupted visual amenity and destabilized the civilizing influence of modern planning More than merely a history of a radical and largely overlooked change in the visual environment this is the story of how the modern state saw and regulated the lived spaces of Britain

Making Dystopia James Stevens Curl, 2018-08-23 In Making Dystopia distinguished architectural historian James Stevens Curl tells the story of the advent of architectural Modernism in the aftermath of the First World War its protagonists and its astonishing almost global acceptance after 1945 He argues forcefully that the triumph of architectural Modernism in the second half of the twentieth century led to massive destruction the creation of alien urban landscapes and a huge waste of resources Moreover the coming of Modernism was not an inevitable seamless evolution as many have insisted but a massive unparalleled disruption that demanded a clean slate and the elimination of all ornament decoration and choice Tracing the effects of the Modernist revolution in architecture to the present Stevens Curl argues that with each passing year so called iconic architecture by supposed star architects has become more and more bizarre unsettling and expensive ignoring established contexts and proving to be stratospherically remote from the aspirations and needs of humanity In the elite world of contemporary architecture form increasingly follows finance and in a society in which the haves have more and more and the have nots are ever more marginalized he warns that contemporary architecture continues to stack up huge potential problems for the future as housing costs spiral out of control resources are squandered on architectural bling and society fractures This courageous passionate deeply researched and profoundly argued book should be read by everyone concerned with what is around us Its combative critique of the entire Modernist architectural project and its apologists will be highly controversial to many But it contains salutary warnings that we ignore at our peril And it asks awkward questions to which answers are long overdue

Material Change Jan De Maeyer, Peter Jan Margry, 2021-12-17 The long nineteenth century c 1780 c 1920 in Western Europe saw an unprecedented rise in the production and possession of material goods The material culture diversified and led to a rich variety of expressions Dovetailing with a process of confessionalisation that manifested itself quite simultaneously material religion witnessed its heyday in this period from church buildings to small devotional objects The present volume analyses how various types of reform state societal and ecclesiastical that were part of the process of modernisation affected the material devotional culture within Protestantism Anglicanism and Roman Catholicism Although the contributions in this book start from a comparative European perspective the case studies mostly focus on individual countries in North West Europe namely Germany Belgium the Netherlands the United Kingdom Ireland Norway Sweden and Denmark The concept of material religion is approached in a very inclusive way The volume discusses amongst others parish infrastructures and religious buildings that are part of land and cityscapes but also looks into interior design and decorations of chapels churches monasteries cemeteries and educational charitable and health institutions It comprises the fine arts of religious painting and sculpture the applied arts and iconographic designs As far as private material culture is concerned this volume examines and presents objects related to private devotion at home including a great variety of popular devotional and everyday life objects such as booklets cards photographs and posters

Hit Factories Karl Whitney, 2019-06-27 After discovering a derelict record plant on the edge of a northern English city and hearing that it was once visited by David Bowie Karl Whitney embarks upon a journey to explore the industrial cities of British pop music Manchester Liverpool Newcastle Leeds Sheffield Hull Glasgow Belfast Birmingham Coventry Bristol at various points in the past these cities have all had distinctive and highly identifiable sounds But how did this happen What circumstances enabled those sounds to emerge How did each particular city its history its physical form its accent influence its music How were these cities and their music different from each other And what did they have in common Hit Factories tells the story of British pop through the cities that shaped it tracking down the places where music was performed recorded and sold and the people the performers entrepreneurs songwriters producers and fans who made it all happen From the venues and recording studios that occupied disused cinemas churches and abandoned factories to the terraced houses and back rooms of pubs where bands first rehearsed the terrain of British pop can be retraced with a map in hand and a head filled with music and its many myths
