Theories of Social Change Dr. Henna Tabassum,2022-01-22 The primary stimulant to social change is exposure to the situation As individuals grow and understand the situation that requires change they grow more willing to accept that the situation requires change For instance in the mid 20th century access to television and an increased media focus on the civil rights movement as well as an increased access to the writings and speeches of civil rights leaders shifted the public perspective towards a positive impression of the civil rights movement This shift in perception helped stimulate change Technology increases public exposure to the needs of others Television and the Internet provide an around the clock perspective on social needs and provide material to individuals interested in learning about the social needs of others As an example increased media attention of women's issues in the Middle East has increased the general public awareness of those issues Anyone can read and study these issues and add to the social pressures working to make positive changes in Middle
