

A stylized chemical structure of phenylpropylamine is shown on the left side of the cover. It consists of a vertical chain of six hexagons. The second, third, and fourth hexagons from the top contain the letters 'P', 'P', and 'A' respectively, representing the phenyl and propyl groups. The top hexagon is empty, and the bottom two hexagons are also empty, representing the amine group. The entire structure is rendered in a light yellow color with a black outline.
