Curtis,2015-02-17 This first ever biography of American painter Grace Hartigan traces her rise from virtually self taught painter to art world fame her plunge into obscurity after leaving New York to marry a scientist in Baltimore and her constant efforts to reinvent her style and subject matter Along the way there were multiple affairs four troubled marriages a long battle with alcoholism and a chilly relationship with her only child Attempting to channel her vague ambitions after an early marriage Grace struggled to master the basics of drawing in night school classes She moved to New York in her early twenties and befriended Willem de Kooning Jackson Pollock and other artists who were pioneering Abstract Expressionism Although praised for the coloristic brio of her abstract paintings she began working figuratively a move that was much criticized but ultimately vindicated when the Museum of Modern Art purchased her painting The Persian Jacket in 1953 By the mid fifties she freely combined abstract and representational elements Grace who signed her paintings Hartigan was a full fledged member of the men s club that was the 1950s art scene Featured in Time Newsweek Life and Look she was the only woman in MoMA s groundbreaking 12 Americans exhibition in 1956 and the youngest artist and again only woman in The New American Painting which toured Europe in 1958 1959 Two years later she moved to Baltimore where she became legendary for her signature tough love counsel to her art school students Grace continued to paint throughout her life seeking for better or worse something truer and fiercer than beauty Boston Modern Judith Arlene Bookbinder,2005 A fresh incisive study of the expressionist approach to modern art in Boston Encyclopedia of the New York School

Poets Terence Diggory,2015-04-22 Presents an alphabetical reference guide detailing the lives and works of poets associated with the New York Schools of the early twentieth century Mutual Reflections Milly Heyd,1999 This text examines the mutual relationship between Jews and African Americans through visual art It investigates how artists of both backgrounds have viewed each other in the past how visual languages and thematic concerns have changed to reflect different issues of concern to each group The Great Parade Pierre Théberge,Galleries Nationales du Grand Palais (Parijs),National Gallery of Canada,2004-01-01 A beautiful book that showcases how circus figures and artifacts have been portrayed in art over the past two centuries The circus is a dazzling world filled with acrobats and harlequins tumblers and riders monsters and celestial creatures Now this engaging book sets that world in a new light examining how painters sculptors and photographers from the eighteenth century to the present have used the circus as a springboard for their imaginative expression and have envisioned the clown as a metaphor for the modern artist The book presents more than 175 works by such artists as Degas Toulouse Lautrec Rouault Picasso Chagall and Leger Some of these are masterful works shown for the first time these range from the 18 meter stage curtain Picasso designed in 1917 for Erik Satie's ballet Parade to more intimate works such as Nadar and Tournachon's photographs of Pierrot as played by celebrated mime Charles Debureau

Guston in Time Ross Feld, 2011-11-01 In the years following his controversial 1970 exhibition at the Marlborough Galleries Philip Guston was generally viewed as yesterday's scandal a maverick who had abandoned abstract expressionism and with it the adulation of the art world Few paid serious attention to the disturbing profound work he was producing in his Woodstock studio So when Ross Feld a young novelist and critic wrote a penetrating review of Guston's latest show the artist sent him a letter of appreciation I felt as if we knew each other and had many discussions about painting and literature In a word I felt recognition Thus began a remarkable friendship Feld a frequent visitor to Guston's studio where the two men would talk late into the night became Guston's intellectual sparring partner and sounding board I'll shout it right out Guston wrote to Feld you inspire me to paint again as well as the artist's most eloquent critic and champion Guston in Time is Feld's final tribute and it is at once a testament to a friendship a provocative and richly nuanced study of one of the twentieth century's most important artists and a portrait of a remarkable character

In Pieces Olivia Drescher, 2006 In Pieces celebrates the diversity of contemporary fragmentary writing by offering a sampling of fragments written by 37 different writers those who are known as well as new voices Selections from diaries notebooks and letters aphorisms short prose pieces and vignettes These are some of the fragmentary forms represented in this unique collection the first of its kind to present a wide range of fragmentary writing as its own genre

Night Studio Musa Mayer, 1988 Philip Guston 1913-1980 was driven sustained and consumed by art His style ranged from the social realism of his WPA murals through his abstract expressionist canvasses of the 1950s and 1960s when he counted Pollock Rothko de Kooning and Kline among his friends to his cartoonlike paintings of Klansmen disembodied heads and tangled piles of everyday objects Critics and public alike savaged Guston for his return to figurative art but today his late work is recognized for the singular power of its darkly hilarious vision Musa Mayer augments her firsthand knowledge with extensive interviews with his family friends students and colleagues as well as Guston's own letters notes and autobiographical writings to re-create a turbulent era in American art Night Studio profusely illustrated including almost a dozen paintings in full color illuminates not only the life of a great artist but the experience of growing up in his shadow

The Undiscovered Country Russell Ferguson, Hammer Museum, 2004 In Maggie Stiefvater's SHIVER Grace and Sam found each other In LINGER they fought to be together Now in FOREVER the stakes are even higher than before Wolves are being hunted Lives are being threatened And love is harder and harder to hold on to as death closes in

Levinas and James Megan Craig, 2010 Bringing to light new facets in the philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas and William James Megan Craig explores intersections between French phenomenology and American pragmatism Craig demonstrates the radical empiricism of Levinas's philosophy and the ethical implications of James's pluralism while illuminating their relevance for two philosophical disciplines that have often held each other at arm's length. Revealing the pragmatic minimalism in Levinas's work and the centrality of imagery in James's prose, she suggests that aesthetic links are crucial to understanding what they share. Craig's suggestive readings change current perceptions and clear a path for a more open pluralistic and creative pragmatic phenomenology that takes cues from both philosophers.

The Print Collector's Newsletter, 1994 Digressions on Some Poems by Frank O'Hara Joe LeSueur, 2004-04-21

An unprecedented eyewitness account of the New York School as seen between the lines of O'Hara's poetry. Joe LeSueur lived with Frank O'Hara from 1955 until 1965, the years when O'Hara wrote his greatest poems, including "To the Film Industry in Crisis," "In Memory of My Feelings Having a Coke with You," and the famous "Lunch Poems," so called because O'Hara wrote them during his lunch break at the Museum of Modern Art, where he worked as a curator. The artists he championed include Jackson Pollock, Joseph Cornell, Grace Hartigan, Jane Freilicher, Joan Mitchell, and Robert Rauschenberg. The flowering of O'Hara's talent, cut short by a fatal car accident in 1966, produced some of the most exuberant, truly celebratory lyrics of the twentieth century. And it produced America's greatest poet of city life since Whitman. Alternating between O'Hara's poems and LeSueur's memory of the circumstances that inspired them, Digressions on Some Poems by Frank O'Hara is a literary commentary like no other: an affectionate, no-holds-barred memoir of O'Hara and the New York that animated his work, friends, lovers, movies, paintings, streets, apartments, music, parties, and pickups. This volume, which includes many of O'Hara's best-loved poems, is the most intimate, true-to-life portrait we will ever have of this quintessential American figure and his now-legendary times.

Everybody: A Book about Freedom Olivia Laing, 2021-05-04. Astute and consistently surprising critic NPR. Olivia Laing investigates the body and its discontents through the great freedom movements of the twentieth century. The body is a source of pleasure and of pain, at once hopelessly vulnerable and radiant with power. In her ambitious, brilliant sixth book, Olivia Laing charts an electrifying course through the long struggle for bodily freedom, using the life of the renegade psychoanalyst Wilhelm Reich to explore gay rights and sexual liberation, feminism, and the civil rights movement. Drawing on her own experiences in protest and alternative medicine and traveling from Weimar, Berlin, to the prisons of McCarthy-era America, Laing grapples with some of the most significant and complicated figures of the past century, among them Nina Simone, Christopher Isherwood, Andrea Dworkin, Sigmund Freud, Susan Sontag, and Malcolm X. Despite its many burdens, the body remains a source of power, even in an era as technologized and automated as our own. Arriving at a moment in which basic bodily rights are once again imperiled, Everybody is an investigation into the forces arranged against freedom and a celebration of how ordinary human bodies can resist oppression and reshape the world.
