Robyn Magalit Rodriguez

Philippine Labour Migration:

Philippine Labour Migration Joaquin Lucero Gonzalez, 1998 There are currently more than six million Filipino workers in over 120 countries in jobs ranging from maids to managers The Philippine Government has encouraged the manpower exodus to absorb the country's surplus labour and to bring foreign exchange earnings into the Philippine economy However non governmental organizations have argued that social dysfunctions associated with working abroad have not been adequately addressed Using an analytical framework that blends multiple stakeholders perspectives the author assesses the historical demographic economic social and political dimensions of Philippine labour migration policy from the early 1900s to the late 1990s Focusing on recent issues he provides an integrated evaluation from a public policy perspective balancing both state and societal viewpoints A separate soft cover edition is available from De La Salle University Press for customers in the Philippines only

Migrants for Export Robyn Magalit Rodriguez, 2010-03-16 Migrant workers from the Philippines are ubiquitous to global capitalism with nearly 10 percent of the population employed in almost two hundred countries In a visit to the United States in 2003 Philippine president Gloria Macapagal Arroyo even referred to herself as not only the head of state but also the CEO of a global Philippine enterprise of eight million Filipinos who live and work abroad Robyn Magalit Rodriguez investigates how and why the Philippine government transformed itself into what she calls a labor brokerage state which actively prepares mobilizes and regulates its citizens for migrant work abroad Filipino men and women fill a range of jobs around the globe including domestic work construction and engineering and they have even worked in the Middle East to support U S military operations At the same time the state redefines nationalism to normalize its citizens to migration while fostering their ties to the Philippines Those who leave the country to work and send their wages to their families at home are treated as new national heroes Drawing on ethnographic research of the Philippine government's migration bureaucracy interviews and archival work Rodriguez presents a new analysis of neoliberal globalization and its consequences for nation state formation

Made in the Philippines James A. Tyner, 2004-08-02 The Philippines is the world's largest exporter of temporary contract labor with a huge 800 000 workers a year being deployed on either six month or two year contracts This labor migration is highly regulated by the government private and non governmental non private organizations Tyner argues that migrants are socially constructed or made by these parties and that migrants in turn become political resources Employing a post structural feminist perspective Tyner questions the very ontology of migration

Migration Revolution Filomeno V. Aguilar Jr., 2014-04-11 Since the 1960s overseas migration had become a major factor in the economy of the Philippines It has also profoundly influenced the sense of nationhood of both migrants and nonmigrants Migrant workers learned to view their home country as part of a plural world of nations and they shaped a new sort of Filipino identity while appropriating the modernity of the outside world where at least for a while they operated as insiders The global nomadism of Filipino workers brought about some fundamental reorientations It revolutionized Philippine society reignited a sense of nationhood imposed new demands on the state reconfigured the class structure and transnationalized class and other social relations even as it deterritorialized the state and impacted the destinations of migrant workers Philippine foreign policy now takes surprising turns in consideration of migrant workers and Filipinos living abroad Many tertiary education institutions aim deliberately at the overseas employability of local graduates And the Fil foreign offspring of unions with partners from other nationalities add a new inflection to Filipino identity

Migration Politics across the World Katharina Natter,Hélène Thiollot,2023-12-04 This book breaks new ground in scholarship on the politics of migration The edited volume brings together in depth case studies from Argentina Tunisia Japan South Korea the United States Australia the Philippines China and Saudi Arabia to showcase the complex interplay between migration politics and broader dynamics of regime change state formation and nation state ideology Challenging conventional wisdom we reveal that political systems whether liberal or illiberal democratic or authoritarian do not rigidly dictate migration politics Instead migration politics and political regimes co produce one another Our exploration delves into the roles of civil society legal actors employers and international norms across diverse political contexts and bridges conversations around immigration and emigration politics Uncovering unexpected similarities in migration policies across different political regimes at a time when states are increasingly adopting illiberal practices this collection is essential for political scientists sociologists and migration scholars seeking a fresh perspective Migration Politics Across the World offers an ideal vantage point for understanding the role of migration in state transformations and political changes around the world The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

Iraq, Terror, and the Philippines' Will to War James A. Tyner,2005-04-20 After September 11 2001 United States President George W Bush put together a Coalition of the Willing From the very beginning this coalition included the Philippines a willing participant in the U S led invasion and occupation of Iraq and the larger War on Terror This timely and persuasive book argues that the Philippines recent foreign policy must be understood by considering three factors the crucial role of overseas employment to the Philippine economy the mendicant relationship between the Philippines and the United States and the Catholicism of Philippine President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo Between September 11 and August 4 2004 the Philippine State identified itself as a loyal and supportive member of the Coalition of the Willing in part to take advantage of the labor opportunities in the reconstruction efforts of Iraq However in the face of mounting violence and instability in the war torn country the Philippines became increasingly reluctant to actively participate in the coalition When Angelo de la Cruz a Filipino truck driver was kidnapped the Philippine government withdrew its forces from Iraq This decision can only be understood in the context of Macapagal Arroyo s political fundamentalism Specifically Macapagal Arroyo believed that it was God s will to spare the life of de la Cruz This study of the Philippines recent foreign policy examines the interconnections of international relations transnational labor migration military conflict theology and terrorism It is unique in its explicit examination of peripheral states participation in the War on Terror the invasion of Iraq and the Coalition of the Willing as well as its willingness to discuss the religious context of a state's foreign policy Brokering Circular Labour Migration Huey Shy Chau, 2020-03-05 This book examines the commercialisation of domestic and care work through private agencies that organise transnational care arrangements by brokering migrant workers The book focuses on the emergence of private for profit home care agencies following the 2011 extension of the Free Movement of Workers to Eastern European Countries agreement in Switzerland The agencies recruit migrant women from these countries and place them in private households for elderly care This book explores how circular labour migration for these care workers is facilitated In the form of a mobile ethnography it traces their journey from Eastern European countries to Switzerland from when care workers find employment and are recruited by agencies to when they arrive at their designated households From the agencies analytical standpoint the book examines the recruitment and placement practices of the home care agencies and their role in facilitating migration Brokering Labour Migration offers an understanding of new migration patterns and highlights fundamental changes in migration control with the extension of free movement of workers in Switzerland to lower wage countries in Eastern Europe It will be an invaluable resource for academics and scholars of geography anthropology sociology and gender and migration Labour in Southeast Asia Becky Elmhirst, Ratna Saptari, 2004-05-07 In seeking to provoke debate the book reveals the variety of experiences evident in countries and regions marked by capitalist and post socialist regulatory frameworks and contrasting labour regimes histories and cultures The contributions show the importance of critically examining both the complex nature of global local links and the particular ways economic processes are around the themes of labour regimes labour processes labour mobility and labour communities the essays show how economic development is not only shaped by market forces but is also interlocked in systems of meaning Proletarian and Gendered Mass Migrations, 2013-05-02 Proletarian and Gendered Mass Migrations connects the 19th and 20th century labor migrations and migration systems in global transcultural perspective It emphasizes macro regional internal continuities or discontinuities and interactions between and within macro regions The essays look at migrant workers experiences in constraining frames and the options they seize or constraints they circumvent It traces the development from 19th century proletarian migrations to industries and plantations across the globe to 20th and 21st century domestics and caregiver migrations It integrates male and female migration and shows how women have always been present in mass migrations Studies on historical development over time are supplemented by case studies on present migrations in Asia and from Asia A systems approach is combined with human agency perspectives Contributors include Rochelle Ball Shelly Chan Dennis D Cordell Michael Douglass Christiane Harzig Dirk Hoerder Muhamad Nadrattuzaman Hosen Hass ne Kassar Kamel Kateb Amarjit Kaur Kiranjit Kaur Gijss Kessler Akram Khater Elizabeth A Kuznesof Vera Mackie Adam McKeown Tomoko Nakamatsu Ooi Keat Gin Aswatini Raharto Marlou Schrover and Patcharawalai Wongboonsin Philippine Labor Migration Scalabrini Migration Center, 1992 Human Geopolitics Alan John Gamlen, 2019 This volume

the unique actions of individuals and groups embody our understanding of global cities This book will be of interest to students and researchers alike and is a perfect complement to texts in Urban Studies and Globalization Anthropologica, 1997

Globalisation and Migration Ronaldo Munck, 2013-09-13 This book critically examines the new issues and new politics regarding migration in the era of globalisation from a majority world perspective It examines the current shifts in the global political economy and the effects it has for example in relation to rural displacement When and how does this lead to national and or transnational migration We need to examine the ways in which migration is cut across and impacts on the generation of racism and xenophobia in the west The issue of remittances by migrants to the developing nations needs careful study as does the controversial issue of brain drain versus brain gain through migration The growing importance of trafficking for forced labour has now been taken up by various international bodies but is it the new normality or simply an unfortunate side effect of globalisation to be overcome through legislation Migration is becoming increasingly gendered in its composition and flows but also in the receiving countries where men and women do very different jobs We can predict the increasing racialization and gendering of migration but how will the state and society respond to these shifts This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly
