

The image features a dark, textured, circular frame that resembles a window or a porthole. Inside the frame, a landscape painting is visible, depicting a mountain range with a prominent peak in the center. The sky is a pale, hazy blue, and the foreground shows dark, shadowed terrain. The overall aesthetic is somber and contemplative.

Philosophers Gaze Modernity In The Shadows Of Enlightenment:

The Philosopher's Gaze David Michael Levin, 2023-04-28 David Michael Levin's ongoing exploration of the moral character and enlightenment potential of vision takes a new direction in The Philosopher's Gaze. Levin examines texts by Descartes, Husserl, Wittgenstein, Nietzsche, Heidegger, Benjamin, Merleau-Ponty, and Levinas using our culturally dominant mode of perception and the philosophical discourse it has generated as the site for his critical reflections on the moral culture in which we are living. In Levin's view, all these philosophers attempted to understand one way or another the distinctive pathologies of the modern age. But every one also attempted to envision, if only through the faintest of traces, traces of mutual recognition, traces of another way of looking and seeing, the prospects for a radically different lifeworld. The world, after all, inevitably reflects back to us the character, the reach and range of our vision. In these provocative essays, the author draws on the language of hermeneutical phenomenology and at the same time refines phenomenology itself as a method of working with our experience and thinking critically about the culture in which we live. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1999.

Image Ethics in Shakespeare and Spenser J. Knapp, 2011-02-28 Focusing on works by Shakespeare and Spenser, this study shows the connection between visuality and ethical action in early modern English literature. The book places early modern debates about the value of visual experience into dialogue with subsequent philosophical and ethical efforts.

A Peculiar Orthodoxy Jeremy S. Begbie, 2018-08-21 World-renowned theologian Jeremy Begbie has been at the forefront of teaching and writing on theology and the arts for more than twenty years. Amid current debates and discussions on the topic, Begbie emphasizes the role of a biblically grounded creedal orthodoxy as he shows how Christian theology and the arts can enrich each other. Throughout the book, Begbie demonstrates the power of classic trinitarian faith to bring illumination, surprise, and delight whenever it engages with the arts.

Dilemmas of Truth in Alain Badiou's Philosophy Giosuè Ghisalberti, 2023-01-25 This book on Alain Badiou's philosophy begins with a central theme: the attempt to trace how Badiou has replaced the tradition of critical theory and negation with an affirmative support of his four generic procedures: art, science, love, and art as inseparable from his revitalization of both the subject and the concept of truth. By defining four procedures as conditions of philosophy, Badiou makes the attempt to establish each as interrelated and systematically necessary to make a new proposal for thought. The fidelity to Badiou's project for the 21st century, however, requires a fundamental examination: are his four truths complicated by an inescapable dilemma? And if so, can the four truths be retained?

as a whole or does the individual reader have to make a decision that will alter Badiou's project and conclusions. By presenting the dilemmas of his thought the scholarly reader will be in a position to then pursue the necessary study to come to their own conclusions and by doing so become sufficiently free to resist the many coercions of social and political life in liberal democracies today.

A Political Economy of Attention, Mindfulness and Consumerism Peter Doran, 2017-07-14 The power of capital is the power to target our attention mould market ready identities and reduce the public realm to an endless series of choices. This has far reaching implications for our psychological physical and spiritual well being and ultimately for our global ecology. In this consumer age the underlying teachings of Buddhist mindfulness offer more than individual well being and resilience. They also offer new sources of critical inquiry into our collective condition and may point in time to regulatory initiatives in the field of well being. This book draws together lively debates from the new economics of transition commons and well being consumerism and the emerging role of mindfulness in popular culture. Engaged Buddhist practices and teachings correspond closely to insights in contemporary political philosophical investigations into the nature of power notably by Michel Foucault. The attention economy can be understood as a new arena of struggle in our age of neoliberal governmentality as the forces of enclosure having colonized forests land and the bodies of workers are now extended to the realm of our minds and subjectivity. This poses questions about the recovery of the mindful commons the practices we must cultivate to reclaim our attention time and lives from the forces of capitalization. This is a valuable resource for students and scholars of environmental philosophy environmental psychology environmental sociology well being and new economics political economy environmental politics the commons and law as well as Buddhist theory and philosophy.

Virginia Woolf and the Aesthetics of Vision Claudia Olk, 2014-08-19 The category of vision is significant for Modernist texts as well as for the unfolding discourse of Modernism itself. Within the general Modernist fascination with the artistic and experimental possibilities of vision and perception this study looks at Virginia Woolf's novels and her critical writings and examines the relation between visuality and aesthetics. An aesthetics of vision as this study argues becomes a productive principle of narrative. The visual is not only pertinent to Woolf's processes of composition but her works create a kind of vision that is proper to the text itself a vision that reflects on the experience of seeing and renegotiates the relation between the reader and the text. The study investigates key dimensions of aesthetic vision. It addresses vision in the context of theories of aesthetic experience and identifies a semantics of seeing. It analyses functions of symbolic materiality in the presentation of boundaries of perception modes of temporality and poetic potentialities. In exploring the connections between vision and language it seeks to provide new perspectives for a reassessment of what occurs in Modernism's relation to vision.

Poetics of Liveliness Ada Smailbegović, 2021-10-29 Can poetry act as an aesthetic amplification device akin to a microscope through which we can sense minute or nearly imperceptible phenomena such as the folding of molecules into their three dimensional shapes the transformations that make up the life cycle of a silkworm or the vaporous movements that constitute the ever shifting edges of clouds We tend to think of these subjects as reserved for science but as Ada Smailbegovi argues twentieth and twenty first century writers have intermingled scientific methodologies with poetic form to reveal unfolding processes of change Their works can be envisioned as laboratories within which the methodologies of experimentation natural historical description and taxonomic classification allow poetic language to register the rhythms and durations of material transformation Poetics of Liveliness moves across scales to explore the realms of molecules fibers tissues and clouds It investigates works such as Christian B k s insertion of a poetic text into the DNA code of living bacteria in order to generate a new poem in the shape of a protein molecule Jen Bervin s considerations of silk fibers and their use in biomedicine Gertrude Stein s examination of brain tissues in medical school and its subsequent influence on her literary taxonomies of character and Lisa Robertson s studies of nineteenth century meteorology and the soft architecture of clouds In their attempt to understand physical processes unfolding within lively material worlds Smailbegovi contends these poets have developed a distinctive materialist poetics Structured as a poetic cosmology akin to Lucretius s On the Nature of Things which begins at the atomic level and expands out to the vastness of the universe Poetics of Liveliness provides an innovative and surprising vision of the relationship between science and poetry

Handbook of Phenomenology and Medicine S.

Kay Toombs,2012-12-06 As the fields of philosophy of medicine and bioethics have developed in the United States the philosophical perspective of phenomenology has been largely ignored Yet the central conviction that informs this volume is that phenomenology provides extraordinary insights into many of the issues that are directly addressed within the world of medicine Such issues include the nature of medicine itself the distinction between immediate experience and scientific conceptualization the nature of the body and the implications of embodiment in the realm of clinical practice the meaning of health illness and disease the problem of intersubjectivity particularly with respect to achieving successful communication with another the complexity of decision making in the clinical context and in the realm of medical ethics the possibility of empathic understanding the theory and method of clinical practice and the essential characteristics of the therapeutic relationship i e the relationship between the sick person and the one who professes to help Some of the authors who have contributed to this volume are philosophers some are engaged in other academic disciplines and several are practicing healthcare professionals

Against Autobiography Lia Nicole Brozgal,2018-08-01

The work of Tunisian Jewish intellectual Albert Memmi like that of many francophone Maghrebian writers is often read as thinly veiled autobiography Questioning the prevailing body of criticism which continues this interpretation of most fiction produced by francophone North African writers Lia Nicole Brozgal shows how such interpretations of Memmi s texts obscure their not inconsiderable theoretical possibilities Calling attention to the ambiguous status of autobiographical discursive and textual elements in Memmi s work Brozgal shifts the focus from the author to theoretical questions Against Autobiography places Memmi s writing and thought in dialogue with several major critical shifts in the late twentieth century literary and cultural landscape These shifts include the crisis of the authorial subject the interrogation of the form of the novel the resistance to the hegemony of vision and the critique of colonialism Showing how Memmi's novels and essays produce theories that resonate both within and beyond their original contexts Brozgal argues for allowing works of francophone Maghrebi literature to be read as complex literary objects that is not simply as ethnographic curios but as generating elements of literary theory on their own terms

Dictionary of Visual Discourse Barry Sandywell, 2016-04-22 This substantial and ambitious dictionary explores the languages and cultures of visual studies It provides the basis for understanding the foundations and motivations of current theoretical and academic discourse as well as the different forms of visual culture that have come to organize everyday life The book is firmly placed in the context of the visual turn in contemporary thought It has been designed as an interdisciplinary or transdisciplinary introduction to the vocabularies and grammars of visuality that inform thinking in the arts and humanities today It also offers insight into the philosophical frameworks which underpin the field of visual culture A central theme that runs throughout the entries is the task of moving away from a narrow understanding of visuality inherited from traditional philosophy toward a richer cultural and multi sensorial philosophy of concrete experience The dictionary incorporates intertextual links that encourage readers to explore connections between major themes theories and key figures in the field In addition the author's introduction provides a comprehensive and critical introduction which documents the significance of the visual turn in contemporary theory and culture It is accompanied by an extensive bibliography and further reading list As both a substantive academic contribution to this growing field and a useful reference tool this book offers a theoretical introduction to the many languages of visual discourse It will be essential reading for graduate students and scholars in visual studies the sociology of visual culture cultural and media studies philosophy art history and theory design film and communication studies

Soussloff, 2008-11-29 The editing process is a vital part of virtually every form of media Primarily associated with texts and written language editing is equally essential if less examined in regard to visual media Editing the Image looks at the editing of visual media as both a series of technical exercises and as an allegory It touches on concerns that are crucial to the history of art and visual culture as well as those media and institutions that produce and disseminate the visual arts in our society Featuring contributors from a wide range of disciplines Editing the Image considers editing in the context of academic journals art historical texts illustrated books museum displays and exhibitions It is an inclusive analysis of visual forms commonly associated with the process of editing photography film and video as well as some that are not intrinsically linked to editing painting sculpture and architecture In addition to wide ranging academic considerations this collection includes discussions of moving picture media and studio art by practitioners giving the study a practical focus For anyone who has considered the implications of the editorial process this work will be of significant interest

Gestures of Ethical Life David Michael Kleinberg-Levin, 2005 For Greek antiquity the question of right or fitting measure constituted the very heart of both ethics and politics But can the Good of the ethical life and the Justice of the political be reduced to measurement and calculation If they are matters of measure are they not also absolutely immeasurable In critical dialogue with texts by Plato H Iderlin Rilke Heidegger Benjamin Adorno Marx Merleau Ponty Levinas and Levi the author argues that the question of measure has become ever more urgent in the context of a modernity pressured by the conditions of a technological economy and a relativism that threatens to destroy a vital sense of moral responsibility and the commitment to justice that underlies the possibility of freedom Conceived as a task for the metaphysics of memory this book explores the normative problematic of measure bringing its deeply buried redemptive promise to appearance in our gestures uses and abuses of the hands the dialectic of tact and the manners of social existence

Alef, Mem, Tau Elliot Wolfson, 2006-04-05 This highly original provocative and poetic work explores the nexus of time truth and death in the symbolic world of medieval kabbalah Demonstrating that the historical and theoretical relationship between kabbalah and western philosophy is far more intimate and extensive than any previous scholar has ever suggested Elliot R Wolfson draws an extraordinary range of thinkers such as Frederic Jameson Martin Heidegger Franz Rosenzweig William Blake Julia Kristeva Friedrich Schelling and a host of kabbalistic figures into deep conversation with one another Alef Mem Tau also discusses Islamic mysticism and Buddhist thought in relation to the Jewish esoteric tradition as it opens the possibility of a temporal triumph of temporality and the conquering of time through time The framework for Wolfson's examination is the rabbinic teaching that the word emet truth comprises the first middle and last letters of the Hebrew alphabet alef mem and tau which serve in turn as semiotic signposts for the three tenses of time past present and future By heeding the letters of emet we discern the truth of time manifestly concealed in the time of truth the beginning that cannot begin if it is to be the beginning the middle that re marks the place of origin and destiny and the end that is the figuration of the impossible disclosing the impossibility of figuration the finitude of death that facilitates the possibility of rebirth The time of death does not mark the death of time but time immortal the moment of truth that bestows on the truth of the moment an endless beginning of a beginningless end the truth of death encountered incessantly in retracing steps of time yet to be taken between before beyond

Vision's Invisibles Véronique M. Fóti, 2012-02-01 Although philosophy today has abandoned its former fascination with transcendent invisibles it has left largely unexamined historical articulations of the divide between the visible and the invisible Vision's Invisibles argues that such a self examination is necessary for the sensitization of philosophical sight as well as for engagements with visuality in other domains To this end it investigates a range of challenging understandings of visuality in its relation to invisibles as articulated in the texts of key historical thinkers Heraclitus Plato and Descartes and of twentieth century philosophers including Foucault Merleau Ponty Nancy Derrida and Heidegger

Josef Früchtel, 2017-09-20. This book examines the theory originally raised in Gilles Deleuze's philosophy of film that cinema has the power to restore our trust in the world. Früchtel demonstrates that cinema does this in three main ways: by restoring our belief in the absurd, in the body, and in a sceptical abstention from judging and acting. Cinema shares this ability with other arts, but what sets it apart in particular is that it evokes Modernity and its principle of subjectivity. This book further develops the idea of trust and cinema by synthesizing the philosophies of complementary thinkers such as Kant, Nancy, Agamben, Benjamin, and Rancière. It concludes with an examination of Cavell's solution to the problem of scepticism and a synthesis of Kantian aesthetic theory with Cavellian pragmatism. Originally published in German under the title Vertrauen in die Welt, this English language translation features a new introduction that situates Früchtel's work within contemporary analytical philosophy of film. It will be of interest to scholars working in Continental aesthetics, philosophy of film, and film theory. Fragile Resonance

Jason Danely, 2022-10-15. Fragile Resonance describes the paths carers take as they make meaning of their experiences and find a sense of moral purpose to sustain them and guide their decisions. When a parent or partner becomes frail or disabled, often a family member assumes responsibility for their care. But family care is a physically and emotionally exhausting undertaking. Carers experience moments of profound connection as well as pain and grief. Carers ask themselves questions about the meaning of family, their entitlement to support, and their capacity to understand and sympathize with another person's pain. Based on his research gathering stories of family carers in Japan and England, Jason Danely traces how care transforms individual sensibilities and the roles of cultural narratives and imagination in shaping these transformations, which persist even after the care recipient has died. Throughout Fragile Resonance, Danely examines the implications of unpaid carer's experiences for challenging and enhancing social policies and institutions, highlighting innovative alternatives grounded in the practical ethics of care. Language, Eros, Being

Elliot R. Wolfson, 2009-08-25. This long-awaited magisterial study, an unparalleled blend of philosophy, poetry, and philology, draws on theories of sexuality, phenomenology, comparative religion, philological writings on Kabbalah, Russian formalism, Wittgenstein, Rosenzweig, William Blake, and the very physics of the time-space continuum to establish what will surely be a highwater mark in work on Kabbalah. Not only a study of texts, Language, Eros, Being is perhaps the fullest confrontation of the body in Jewish studies, if not in religious studies as a whole. Elliot R. Wolfson explores the complex gender symbolism that permeates Kabbalistic literature. Focusing on the nexus of asceticism and eroticism, he seeks to define the role of symbolic and poetically charged language in the erotically configured visionary imagination of the medieval Kabbalists He demonstrates that the traditional Kabbalistic view of gender was a monolithic and androcentric one in which the feminine was conceived as being derived from the masculine He does not shrink from the negative implications of this doctrine but seeks to make an honest acknowledgment of it as the first step toward the redemption of an ancient wisdom Comparisons with other mystical traditions including those in Christianity Buddhism and Islam are a remarkable feature throughout the book They will make it important well beyond Jewish studies indeed a must for historians of comparative religion in particular of comparative mysticism Praise for Elliot R Wolfson Through a Speculum That Shines is an important and provocative contribution to the study of Jewish mysticism by one of the major scholars now working in this field Speculum Julian of Norwich Kevin Magill,2006-07-13 Julian of Norwich was a fourteenth century woman who at the age of thirty had a series of vivid visions centred around the crucified Christ Twenty years later while living as an anchoress in a church she is believed to have set out these visions in a text called the Showing of Love Going against the current trend to place Julian in the category of mystic a classification which defines her visions as deeply private psychological events this book sets Julian s thinking in the context of a visionary project used to instruct the Christian community Drawing on recent developments in philosophy that debate the objectivity and rationality of vision and perception Kevin J Magill gives full attention to the depth and richness of the visual language and modes of perception in the Showing of Love In particular the book focuses on the ways in which Julian presented her vision to the Christian society around her demonstrating the educative potential of interaction between the isolated anchoress and the wider community Challenging Julian s identification as a mystic and solitary female writer this book argues that Julian engaged in a variety of educative methods oral visual conversational mnemonic alliterative that extend the usefulness of her text Narrative and Ethical Understanding Garry L. Hagberg,2024-07-05 There has been a steady stream of articles written on the relations between ethics and the interpretation of literature but there remains a need for a book that both introduces and significantly contributes to the field particularly one that shows how we can think more openly and creatively about the multiform powers of ethical narrative by considering ethically significant literature This volume offers an analytically acute and culturally rich way of understanding how it is that we can productively think philosophically about the narrative structures that describe our ethical lives and what kind of distinctive conceptual and in some cases personal progress we can make by doing so Given the extremely widespread interest in ethical issues this volume will strike resonant chords far and wide on arrival while offering something new in bringing together the study of long form narrative the language of moral psychology and detailed literary case studies Given the vast expansion of narrative studies in recent years the time for just such a volume is right
