Congressional Record United States. Congress, 2001 Legislative Review Activities of the Committee on International Relations United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations, 2001 The United States, India and the Global Nuclear Order Tanvi Pate, 2018-06-13 In the Post Cold War era US nuclear foreign policies towards India witnessed a major turnaround as a demand for cap reduce eliminate under the Clinton administration was replaced by the implementation of the historic civil nuclear deal in 2008 by Bush a policy which continued under Obama's administration This book addresses the change in US nuclear foreign policy by focusing on three core categories of identity inequality and great power narratives Building upon the theoretical paradigm of critical constructivism the concept of the state is problematised by focusing on identity related questions arguing that the state becomes a constructed entity standing as valid only within relations of identity and difference Focusing on postcolonial principles Pate argues that imperialism as an organising principle of identity difference enables us to understand how difference was maintained in unequal terms through US nuclear foreign policy This manifested in five great power narratives constructed around peace and justice India Pakistan deterrence democracy economic progress and scientific development Identities of race political economy and gender in terms of radical otherness and otherness were recurrently utilised through these narratives to maintain a difference enabling the respective administrations to maintain US identity as a progressive and developed western nation intrinsically justifying the US role as an arbiter of the global nuclear order A useful work for scholars researching identity construction and US foreign and security policies US India bilateral nuclear relations South Asian nuclear politics critical security and postcolonial studies

Asia-Pacific Regional Security Assessment 2022 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2022-06-10
The Asia Pacific Regional Security Assessment examines key regional security issues relevant to the policy focused discussions of the IISS Shangri La Dialogue Asia's premier defence summit convened by the International Institute for Strategic Studies It is published each year in association with the Dialogue and the issues analysed within its covers are central to discussions at the event Among the topics explored are US Indo Pacific strategy alliances and security partnerships Chinese perspectives on regional security Taiwan's security and the possibility of conflict the continuing challenges posed by North Korea's nuclear and missile programmes the nuclear dynamics of Sino American security relations air and naval operations in the Asia Pacific Sino American technology competition Japan's competition and cooperation with China India's role in the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue Quad the evolving regional security engagement of European states and the European Union China's role as an upstream state in the Mekong sub region and the climate crisis and Asia Pacific security As this volume goes to press the war in Ukraine overshadows the international security landscape and many chapters in this volume touch on the conflict's ramifications for security in the Asia Pacific Authors include leading regional analysts and academics at the forefront of research and analysis Aidan Foster Carter James Crabtree Peter A Dutton Brian Eyster Michael Green Sheryn Lee Jeffrey G Lewis Tanvi Madan Jeffrey Mazo Ben Schreer Yun Sun Nicholas Szechenyi Brendan Taylor Ashley Townshend and Paul Triolo US Security Engagement with Southeast Asia during the Clinton and Bush Pham Cao Cuong, 2025-02-01 This book examines Southeast Asia's role in US security policy toward the region during the Bill Clinton and George W Bush administrations It delves into the US security approach toward regional institutions like ASEAN and the ARF and hones in on specific ASEAN member states including the Philippines Thailand Singapore Indonesia and Malaysia as well as the interaction between the US and these countries regarding security Despite Southeast Asia not being a primary priority in US foreign policy since the end of the Cold War the region has consistently held significance in Washington's security strategy Given the goal of establishing a New Pacific Community it is critical for the United States to ensure a peaceful and stable Southeast Asia thereby avoiding the emergence of any potential future rivals to the United States To effectively implement the Clinton Doctrine's security pillar the United States has taken measures such as providing military aid and increasing military activities with ASEAN member countries During President George W Bush's administration Southeast Asia gained increased significance for the United States economically and geostrategically Since September 11

2001 Southeast Asia has emerged as a crucial player in the US security strategy. The US recognises the region as a second front in its global war on terrorism. Furthermore, the US has been actively enhancing its ties with ASEAN and the ARF while prioritising the development of bilateral relations with crucial ASEAN member countries including the Philippines, Thailand, Singapore, Indonesia, and Malaysia. Looking ahead, the United States aims to ensure that no potential competitors arise in the region that could challenge its future dominance. When examining the dynamics between the US and Southeast Asia, it becomes evident that the influence of China has consistently been significant. During the 1990s and 2000s, China played an important role in shaping US security policy in the region and influencing the relationship between the US and ASEAN member countries. The rise of China's economic and military power compelled the United States to shift its regional policy towards cooperation and competition to increase its interests in Southeast Asia. Meanwhile, the US security relationship with each ASEAN member country has many nuances depending on each country's role and interests towards the US. To provide readers with a comprehensive perspective and enhance their understanding of US security policy towards the Southeast Asia region, particularly in light of the growing emphasis on the Indo-Pacific region with Southeast Asia at its core, we would like to introduce the book US Security Engagement with Southeast Asia during the Clinton and Bush Administrations authored by Pham Cao Cuong. This research comprehensively analyses the relationship between the United States and Southeast Asia. It is included in the research work catalogue on US President Bill Clinton. It can be found at the William J. Clinton Library and Museum in the Clinton Presidential Park and Centre, Little Rock, Arkansas. Furthermore, this research work on terrorism is included in the Bibliography Terrorism by Region: Southeast Asia, compiled and selected by the Terrorism Research Initiative, Terrorism Research Centre (TRC). The book highlights the importance of studying the history of US security policy towards Southeast Asia and the security relations between the US and ASEAN member countries. Research on the security relations between the US and this region indicates that historical issues significantly impact the US's relations with the area. The foundations that the US has established in Southeast Asia play a crucial role in shaping these relations.

Understanding Security Practices in South Asia Monika Barthwal-Datta, 2012-05-04. This book explores the ways in which non-state actors (NSAs) in South Asia are involved in securitizing non-traditional security challenges in the region at the sub-state level. South Asia is the epicentre of some of the most significant international security challenges today. Yet the complexities of the region's security dynamics remain under-researched. While traditional security issues such as inter-state war, border disputes, and the threat of nuclear devastation in South Asia remain high on the agendas of policy makers and academics both within and beyond the region, scant attention has been paid to non-traditional or new security challenges. Drawing on various case studies, this work offers an innovative analysis of how NSAs in South Asia are shaping security discourses in the region and tackling security challenges at the sub-state level. Through its critique of securitization theory, the book calls for a new approach to studying security practices in South Asia, one which considers NSAs as legitimate security actors. This book will be of much interest to students of security studies Asian security Asian politics critical security studies and IR in general

How We Missed the Story Roy Gutman, 2008 Examining the U S foreign policy missteps leading up to 9 11 Viral Sovereignty and the Political Economy of Pandemics Sophal Ear, 2021-11-28 Over the past few decades a number of emerging infectious diseases EIDs have disrupted societies throughout the world including HIV Ebola H5N1 or avian flu and SARS and of course the coronavirus disease COVID 19 which spread worldwide to become a global pandemic As well as EIDs countries and regions also contend with endemic diseases such as malaria There are many factors that have contributed to the rise in and spread of EIDs and other diseases including overpopulation rapid urbanization environmental degradation and antibiotic resistance Political and cultural responses to disease can greatly affect their spread The global community needs to defend itself against disease threats one weak link is enough to start a chain reaction that results in a global pandemic such as COVID 19 Some states take a nationalistic approach towards combating disease however international cooperation and meaningful viral sovereignty empowering countries to create effective health institutions and surveillance systems in order to contain disease must be considered This volume with a focus on Southeast Asia Africa and North America considers the intersection between disease politics science and culture in the global battle against pandemics making use of case studies and interviews to examine the ways in which governments and regions handle outbreaks and pandemics Eurasia in Balance Ariel Cohen, 2017-11-28 Offering a comprehensive overview of the security dynamics of an under analyzed region of the world Central Asia and South Caucasus this volume contains contributions from leading experts who examine policies of the major players in the region including Russia China India Iran and Turkey The volume incorporates thematic chapters which detail economic and security analyses in the post September 11th era It will appeal to both the academic and reference audiences and to the broader scholarly market in the disciplines of foreign policy international security Eurasian studies and peace and conflict studies The Challenge of Terrorism in Asia and the Pacific United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations. Subcommittee on Asia and the Pacific, 2004 Security, Strategy, and Military Dynamics in the South China Sea Houlden, Gordon, Romaniuk, Scott, 2021-07-27 This volume brings together international experts to provide fresh perspectives on geopolitical concerns in the South China Sea The book considers the interests and security strategies of each of the nations with a claim to ownership and jurisdiction in the Sea Examining contexts including the region s natural resources and China s behaviour the book also assesses the motivations and approaches of other states in Asia and further afield This is an accessible even handed and comprehensive examination of current and future rivalries and challenges in one of the most strategically important and militarized maritime regions of the world Securing the Prize Randall Fowler, 2024-11-14 How presidential metaphors have shaped US discourse on the Persian Gulf From the 1970s to the 1990s American presidents and their advisers introduced four metaphors into foreign policy discourse that taught Americans to view the Persian Gulf as a vulnerable region and site of US responsibility on the world stage In Securing the Prize Presidential Metaphor and US Intervention in the Persian Gulf Randall Fowler argues that for half a century metaphor has been central to defining America's role in the Middle East. Metaphors served as shorthand for presidents to promote their policies, filtering through the judgments of officials, journalists, experts, and critics to mediate American perceptions of the Gulf War. Tracing the use of security metaphors from President Richard Nixon to President George W. Bush, Fowler revises mainstream understandings regarding the origins of the War on Terror and explains the disconnect between skeptical public attitudes toward US involvement in the Gulf War and the heavy American military footprint in the region.

US Foreign Policy and Iran Donette Murray, 2009-09-11 US Foreign Policy and Iran is a study of US foreign policy decision making in relation to Iran and its implications for Middle Eastern relations. It offers a new assessment of US-Iranian relations by exploring the rationale, effectiveness, and consequences of American policy towards Iran from the aftermath of the 1979 Iranian Revolution to the present day. As a key country in a turbulent region and the recipient of some of the most inconsistent treatment meted out during or after the Cold War, Iran has been both one of America's closest allies and an axis of evil or rogue state targeted by covert action and contained by sanctions, diplomatic isolation, and the threat of overt action. Moreover, since the attacks of 11 September 2001, Iran has played a significant role in the war on terror while also incurring American wrath for its links to international terrorism and its alleged pursuit of a nuclear weapons programme. US Foreign Policy and Iran will be of interest to students of US foreign policy, Iran, Middle Eastern politics, and international security in general. Donette Murray is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Defence and International Affairs at the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst. She was awarded a PhD in International History by the University of Ulster in 1997.
