change Few have successfully defined the changing character and role of politics in global change Political institutions such as the nation state have been seen as undermined by globalisation or needing to respond to it This book clarifies the tensions which global change has provoked in our understanding of politics Politics and Globalisation suggests that globalisation is a process which is politically contested and even politically constituted The volume presents five key intellectual and political contests in globalisation the extent and political significance of globalising changes in economy and society how and how far the relations and forms of nation state organisation are transformed whether the given concepts and methods of political science as a discipline can be applied to global and regional politics and whether they require radical reformulation the role and significance of ethical questions in global change whether global change is constituted by or denies radical political agency
