The Erotic Screen Thomas Wolman, 2020-02-29 The Erotic Screen takes as its starting point that Hollywood movies were steeped in eroticism from the beginning but censorship forced filmmakers to devise hidden sexual subtexts to preserve a film's subliminal eroticism. In this way, Hollywood films seed our collective psyches with unconscious subtexts. Science fiction films are particularly effective using horror to induce sexual excitement as studied in Part I. The nature of desire in a trio of science fiction thrillers. Another device was to display unrestricted consumption of alcohol and tobacco and gratuitous spending. Today this is a cliché of mainstream cinema but some filmmakers expose the dark underbelly. The five films scrutinized in Part II. Portraits of addiction in Hollywood melodrama make explicit the connections between greed, addictions, and sexuality. Finally in Part III. Perverse desire in mainstream cinema: the nuanced position toward the psychosexual obsessions on view in the films is investigated by posing the provocative question of whether S/M practice can work as a cure for psychic suffering by raising the alarm over sexuality run amok in a suburban community and by offering a devastating critique of voyeurism's fatal attraction to viewers. The Erotic Screen is an investigation of the nature of human sexuality through the medium of film. It stirs up discussion and debate and helps these movies live on in our minds

Curriculum Studies Handbook - The Next Moment

Erik Malewski, 2009-09-10 What comes after the reconceptualization of curriculum studies? What is the contribution of the next wave of curriculum scholars? Comprehensive and on the cutting edge, this Handbook speaks to these questions and extends the conversation on present and future directions in curriculum studies through the work of twenty-four newer scholars who explore each in their own unique ways the present moment in curriculum studies. To contextualize the work of this up-and-coming generation, each chapter is paired with a shorter response by a well-known scholar in the field, provoking an intra-/inter-generational exchange that illuminates both historical trajectories and upcoming moments. From theorizing at the crossroads of feminist thought and post-colonialism to new perspectives that include critical race, queer, southern studies, Black feminist cultural analysis, post-structural policy studies, spiritual ecology, and East-West international philosophies present and future directions in the U S American field are revealed Broken Irelands Mary M. McGlynn,2022-10-17 While the national narrative coming out of Ireland since the 2008 economic crisis has been relentlessly sanguine fiction has offered a more nuanced perspective from both well established and emerging authors In Broken Irelands McGlynn examines Irish fiction of the post crash era addressing the proliferation of writing that downplays realistic and grammatical coherence Noting that these traits have the effect of diminishing human agency blurring questions of responsibility and emphasizing emotion over rationality McGlynn argues that they reflect and respond to social and economic conditions during the global economic crisis and its aftermath of recession austerity and precarity Rather than focusing on overt discussions of the crash and recession McGlynn explores how the dominance of an economic worldview including a pervasive climate of financialized discourse shapes the way stories are told In the writing of such authors as Anne Enright Colum McCann Mike McCormack and Lisa McInerney McGlynn unpacks the ways that formal departures from realism through grammatical asymmetries like unconventional verb tenses novel syntactic choices and reliance on sentence fragments align with a cultural moment shaped by feelings of impotence and rhetorics of personal responsibility

Women's Studies in the 1990s Joanna de Groot,Mary Maynard,2016-07-27 This interdisciplinary collection is concerned with important theoretical and methodological issues facing women s studies Drawing on feminist theory and politics it addresses a range of questions raised for women s studies by work conducted in history literature politics and sociology The editors provide a context for these debates in their introductory essay which gives an overview of the development of women s studies and reflects on its current position In their concluding chapter they also suggest a framework from which women s studies might move forward Psychomagic Alejandro Jodorowsky,2010-06-18 A healing path using the power of dreams theater poetry and shamanism Shows how psychological realizations can cause true transformation when manifested by concrete poetic acts Includes many examples of the surreal but successful actions Jodorowsky has prescribed to those seeking his help While living in Mexico Alejandro Jodorowsky became familiar with the colorful and effective cures provided by folk healers He realized that it is easier for the unconscious to understand the language of dreams than that of rationality Illness can even be seen as a physical dream that reveals unresolved emotional and psychological problems Psychomagic presents the shamanic and genealogical principles Jodorowsky discovered to create a healing therapy that could use the powers of dreams art and theater to empower individuals to heal wounds that in some cases had traveled through generations The concrete and often surreal poetic actions Jodorowsky employs are part of an elaborate strategy intended to break apart the dysfunctional persona with whom the patient identifies in order to connect with a deeper self That is when true transformation can manifest For a young man who complained that he lived only in his head and was unable to grab hold of reality and advance toward the financial autonomy he desired Jodorowsky gave the prescription to paste two gold coins to the soles of his shoes so that all day he would be walking on gold A judge whose vanity was ruling his every move was given the task of dressing like a tramp and begging outside one of the fashionable restaurants he loved to frequent while pulling glass doll eyes out of his pockets The lesson for him was that if a tramp can fill his pockets with eyeballs then they must be of no value and thus the eyes of others should have no bearing on who you are and what you do Taking his patients directly at their words Jodorowsky takes the same elements associated with a negative emotional charge and recasts them in an action that will make them positive and enable them to pay the psychological debts hindering their lives

Women, America, and Movement Susan L. Roberson, 1998 Since the colonial days American women have traveled migrated and relocated always faced with the challenge of reconstructing their homes for themselves and their families Women America and Movement offers a journey through largely unexplored territory the experiences of migrating American women These narratives both real and imagined represent a range of personal and critical perspectives some of the women describe their travels as expansive and freeing while others relate the dreadful costs and sacrifices of relocating Despite the range of essays featured in this study the writings all coalesce around the issues of politics poetry and self identity described by Adrienne Rich as the elements of the politics of location treated here as the politics of relocation The narratives featured in this book explore the impact of race class and sexual economics on migratory women their self identity and their roles in family and social life These issues demonstrate that in addition to geographic place ideology is itself a space to be traversed By examining the writings of such women as Louise Erdrich Zora Neale Hurston and Gertrude Stein the essayists included in this volume offer a variety of experiences The book confronts such issues as racist politicking against Native Americans African Americans and Asian immigrants sexist attitudes that limit women to the roles of wife mother and sexual object and exploitation of migrants from Appalachia and of women newly arrived in America These essays also delve into the writings themselves by looking at what happens to narrative structure as authors or their characters cross geographic boundaries The reader sees how women writers negotiate relocation in their texts and how the written word becomes a place where one finds oneself
