Religion [and] Aging Vincent John Fecher, 1982 Religion & Aging Vincent John Fecher, 1982 Research on Religion and Aging Harold G. Koenig, 1995-03-18 This first systematic guide to the latest research about religion and aging focuses on the linkage between religion and health outcomes in people over 55 who will represent one third of America's population by the year 2025. A short introduction points to the rapidly growing literature since 1980; the conclusion offers a brief synthesis of the varied basic and applied studies on the subject and suggests a useful model to consider applying. Nearly 300 entries with concise and comprehensive annotations are organized under four main subjects: religious beliefs, behaviors, and experience; relationships between religion and health; practical applications of research findings; and measuring religiosity and spirituality. Arranged under numerous additional sub-topics and with author and subject indexes, the guide is accessible and designed for varied use by students, teachers, researchers, policymakers, practitioners, and professionals in the fields of sociology and social work, psychology and psychiatry, and medicine and health. Researchers, educators, and policymakers will find this book invaluable in identifying research and application studies and in evaluating their quality and methodology. Arranged under additional sub-topics by populations in many situations with varied problems in terms of concerns relating to mental and physical health and with applications in different fields and with author and subject indexes, the guide is accessible and designed for varied use by students, teachers, practitioners, and professionals in the fields of sociology and social work, psychology and psychiatry, and medicine and health. Religion and Aging Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Ellor, 2013-10-18 Since the 1971 White House Conference on Aging in the United States the need to move from religiosity into new areas such as Spiritual Assessment and Spirituality has emerged This movement has picked up momentum among scholars particularly in terms of research in the area of Spirituality While spirituality as a term is employed in many new studies this term continues to defy the quest for a single definition and method This book is divided into three sections In the first the authors reflect on the philosophical and theological issues presented by these terms from a variety of both cognate and practical methodological approaches The second section offers insights from the major professions of sociology psychology public health nursing and social work The final section offers insight and assistance to researchers and authors on specific religious traditions This book will be important for anyone working to develop such practical tools as spiritual assessment forms to those who engage in more formal scholarly investigation New Directions in Religion and Aging David B. Oliver, 1987 In this stimulating and timely book experts examine the critical issues that will face professionals in the religious community as they work with the elderly in the coming decades They look at the directions religious communities must be prepared to take and the problems to which they must respond if they are to be effective in the years ahead Topics include responding to poverty and aging suicide among the elderly connecting gerontological training and religious professionals and much more Sexuality and the Elderly Bonnie L. Walker, 1997-05-12 This literature review was undertaken in order to determine what caregivers needed to know about elderly sexuality to determine the needs of elderly people related to their sexuality and to determine how caregivers could best assist them in meeting those needs In selecting materials to be annotated for this book the first priority was given to empirical studies Also included were articles by prominent practitioners and researchers interested in elderly sexuality literature reviews and books written for the lay population which are often cited in the professional literature In addition to seeking knowledge about elderly sexuality and understanding attitudes about sexuality this literature review sought information about measurement issues and measurement instruments frequently used in research within elderly populations Also of interest were investigations of educational and training programs involving caregivers Transforming Chaplaincy Steve Nolan, Annelieke Damen, 2021-10-28 Evidence based medicine has transformed contemporary medical practice For over twenty five years George Fitchett has been a pioneering advocate of the view that evidence based spiritual care can and should equally transform chaplaincy This book collects a key selection from his ground breaking research As models of good research practice these papers demonstrate the real world value of research and introduce their readers to issues that have continuing importance to spiritual care and professional chaplaincy As such this collection offers an ideal

introduction to spiritual care research The collection is complemented by three essays specially commissioned from observers well positioned to comment on future directions for both professional chaplaincy and spiritual care research

Aging in the New Millennium Terry Tirrito, 2003 Due to advances in medical technology, better health care, and improvements in lifestyle habits, the 21st century brings unprecedented changes in life expectancy and increased numbers of older adults globally. As the elder population grows, so does the knowledge of and interest in gerontology. Gerontology constantly sees new developments in research, the emergence of areas of study such as financial gerontology and elder ethics, and the introduction of programmes and services for the aging. This work explains the biology of aging along with the social and psychological implications of the process. It looks at diseases and disorders affecting the aged as well as their treatment. It reports on the demographics of older Americans, the impact of changes in life expectancy, worldwide theories regarding longevity and lifestyle, attitudes of a younger population toward an aging one, and public support programmes and services for older adults.
