Loving Her Northeastern Library Of Black Literature:

Loving Her Ann Allen Shockley, 1997-10-30 Terry awakens in Renay a love and sexual desire beyond her erotic imaginings Despite the sexist racist and homophobic prejudices they must confront the mutually supportive couple finds physical and emotional joy      Writing in the Kitchen David A. Davis, Tara Powell, 2014-08-04 Scarlett O Hara munched on a radish and vowed never to go hungry again Vardaman Bundren ate bananas in Faulkner's Jefferson and the Invisible Man dined on a sweet potato in Harlem Although food and stories may be two of the most prominent cultural products associated with the South the connections between them have not been thoroughly explored until now Southern food has become the subject of increasingly self conscious intellectual consideration The Southern Foodways Alliance the Southern Food and Beverage Museum food themed issues of Oxford American and Southern Cultures and a spate of new scholarly and popular books demonstrate this interest Writing in the Kitchen explores the relationship between food and literature and makes a major contribution to the study of both southern literature and of southern foodways and culture more widely This collection examines food writing in a range of literary expressions including cookbooks agricultural journals novels stories and poems Contributors interpret how authors use food to explore the changing South considering the ways race ethnicity class gender and region affect how and what people eat They describe foods from specific southern places such as New Orleans and Appalachia engage both the historical and contemporary South and study the food traditions of ethnicities as they manifest through the written word      Black No More George Samuel Schuyler, 2012-02-14 What would happen to the race problem in America if black people could suddenly become white      The Black Sleuth John Edward Bruce, 2002 A novel featuring the first black detective in American fiction boldly attacking white prejudice and racial injustice in the U S and abroad

All-night Visitors Clarence Major, 1998 All Night Visitors is devoted to lush description Mr Major is unquestionably a sincere and passionate writer New York Times      Black Empire George Samuel Schuyler, 1991 George Samuel Schuyler was a noted black satirist of the early 20th century This book is an intricate tale of black nationalism science fiction and incredible feats of derring do intended to bolster black pride and accomplishment in the uneasy years before World War II The book originally ran as weekly serialized fiction in the Philadelphia Courier from 1936 to 1938 Principal character Dr Henry Belsidus is obsessed with releasing blacks from the crushing tyranny of racism and poverty and he plans to take over the world and enlists black intellectuals to help him Underlying the story is an attempt to resolve the philosophical economic and cultural chasms between blacks and whites The book reflects the hope and despair felt by blacks during this time From Library Journal      There is Confusion Jessie Redmon Fauset, 1989 Set in Philadelphia some 60 years ago There Is Confusion traces the lives of Joanna Mitchell and Peter Bye whose families must come to terms with an inheritance of prejudice and discrimination as they struggle for legitimacy and respect      The Seeking Will Thomas, 2013-09-13 The Seeking is the moving and uplifting story of the Thomas family's time among the people of Westford Vermont a life writes Thomas not based on race but on what we and they were like as human beings Back in print for the first time in fifty years this edition includes a new introduction that situates The Seeking in the canon of twentieth century black literature and a new afterword that follows the fortunes of Thomas and his family in the years after its initial publication The Seeking is both a story of one remarkable African American family and a story of race relations in mid century New England     Home to Harlem Claude McKay,2012-09-11 A novel that gives voice to the alienation and frustration of urban blacks during an era when Harlem was in vogue     At the Dusk of Dawn Albery Allson Whitman,2009 Restores Whitman's place in the canons of African American literature and nineteenth century American poetry     Black Talk, Blue Thoughts, and Walking the Color Line Erin Aubry Kaplan,2011 This lively and thoughtful book explores what it means to be black in an allegedly postracial America

Oreo Fran Ross,2000 Born to a Jewish father and black mother who divorce before she is two Oreo grows up in Philadelphia with her maternal grandparents while her mother tours with a theatrical troupe Soon after puberty Oreo heads for New York with a pack on her back to search for her father but in the big city she discovers that there are dozens of Sam Schwartzes in the phone book and Oreo's mission turns into a wickedly humorous picaresque quest The ambitious and playful narrative challenges accepted notions of race ethnicity culture and even the novelistic form itself     "Face Zion Forward" Joanna Brooks,John Saillant,2002 Brings together for the first time the memoirs sermons and speeches of the early writers of the black Atlantic     Alien Land Willard Savoy,2006-12 Action packed and absorbing a grim but sensitive picture of race and identity in America     Infants of The Spring Wallace Thurman,2012-02-14 A satirical novel of the Harlem Renaissance     Iron City Lloyd Louis Brown,1994 A groundbreaking work of African American proletarian literature first published in 1951 and now back in print     Platitudes Trey Ellis,2003-10-02 A playful irreverent look at the African American literary community     Encyclopedia of African American Women Writers Yolanda Williams Page,2007-01-30

African American women writers published extensively during the Harlem Renaissance and have been extraordinarily prolific since the 1970s This book surveys the world of African American women writers Included are alphabetically arranged entries on more than 150 novelists poets playwrights short fiction writers autobiographers essayists and influential scholars The Encyclopedia covers established contemporary authors such as Toni Morrison and Gloria Naylor along with a range of neglected and emerging figures Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a brief biography a discussion of major works a survey of the author's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies Literature students will value this book for its exploration of African American literature while social studies students will appreciate its examination of social issues through literature African American women writers have made an enormous contribution to our culture Many of these authors wrote during the Harlem Renaissance a particularly vital time in African American arts and letters while others have been especially active since the 1970s an era in which works by African American women are adapted into films and are widely read in book clubs Literature by African American women is important for its aesthetic qualities and it also illuminates the social issues which these authors have confronted This book conveniently surveys the lives and works of African American women writers Included are alphabetically arranged entries on more than 150 African American women novelists poets playwrights short fiction writers autobiographers essayists and influential scholars Some of these figures such as Toni Morrison and Gloria Naylor are among the most popular authors writing today while others have been largely neglected or are recently emerging Each entry provides a biography a discussion of major works a survey of the writer s critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies The Encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography Students and general readers will welcome this guide to the rich achievement of African American women Literature students will value its exploration of the works of these writers while social studies students will appreciate its examination of the social issues these women confront in their works

Modern Moves Danielle Robinson, 2015-06-26 Modern Moves traces the movement of American social dance styles between black and white cultural groups and between immigrant and migrant communities during the early twentieth century Its central focus is New York City where the confluence of two key demographic streams an influx of immigrants from Eastern Europe and the growth of the city s African American community particularly as it centered Harlem created the conditions of possibility for hybrid dance forms like blues ragtime ballroom and jazz dancing Author Danielle Robinson illustrates how each of these forms came about as the result of the co mingling of dance traditions from different cultural and racial backgrounds in the same urban social spaces The results of these cross cultural collisions in New York City as she argues were far greater than passing dance trends they in fact laid the foundation for the twentieth century s social dancing practices throughout the United States By looking at dance as social practice across conventional genre and race lines this book demonstrates that modern social dancing like Western modernity itself was dependent on the cultural production and labor of African diasporic peoples even as they were excluded from its rewards A cornerstone in Robinson s argument is the changing role of the dance instructor which was transformed from the proprietor of a small scale local dance school at the end of the nineteenth century to a member of a distinct self identified social industry at the beginning of the twentieth Whereas dance studies has been slow to connect early twentieth century dancing with period racial politics Modern Moves departs radically from prior scholarship on the topic and in so doing revises social and African American dance history of this period Recognizing the racialist beginnings of contemporary American social dancing it offers a window into the ways that dancing throughout the twentieth century has provided a key means through which diverse groups of people have navigated shifting socio political relations through their bodily movement Modern Moves asserts that the social practice of modern dancing with its perceived black origins empowered displaced people such as migrants and immigrants to grapple with the effects of industrialization urbanization and the rise of North American modernity Far more than simple appropriation the selling and practicing of black dances during the 1910s and 1920s reinforced whiteness as the ideal racial status in America through embodied and rhetorical engagements with period black stereotypes      Writing African American Women Elizabeth A. Beaulieu, 2006-04-30 Women have had a complex experience in African American culture The first work of its kind this encyclopedia approaches African American literature from a Women s Studies perspective While Yolanda Williams Page s Encyclopedia of African American Women Writers provides biographical entries on more than 150 literary figures this book is much broader in scope Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries on African American women writers as well as on male writers who have treated women in their works Entries on genres periods themes characters historical events texts places and other topics are included as well Each entry is written by an expert contributor and relates its subject to the overall experience of women in African American literature Entries cite works for further reading and the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography African American culture is enormously diverse and the experience of women in African American society is especially complex Women were among the first African American writers and works by black women writers are popular among students and general readers alike At the same time African American women have been oppressed and texts by black male authors represent women in a variety of ways The first of its kind this encyclopedia approaches African American literature from a Women s Studies perspective and thus significantly illuminates the African American cultural experience through literary works Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries written by numerous expert contributors In addition to covering male and female African American authors the encyclopedia also discusses themes major works and characters genres periods historical events places and other topics Included are entries on such authors as Maya Angelou James Baldwin Frederick Douglass Nikki Giovanni June Jordan Claude McKay Ishmael Reed Sojourner Truth Phillis Wheatley And many others In addition the many works discussed include Beloved Blanche on the Lam I know Why the Caged Bird Sings The Men of Brewster Place Quicksand The Street Waiting to Exhale And many more The many topical entries cover Black Feminism Black Nationalism Conjuring Children s and Young Adult Literature Detective Fiction Epistolary Novel Motherhood Sexuality Spirituality Stereotypes And many others Entries relate their topics to the experience of African American women and cite works for further reading Features and Benefits Includes hundreds of alphabetically arranged entries Draws on the work of numerous expert contributors Includes a selected general bibliography Offers a range of finding aids such as a list of entries a guide to related topics and an extensive index Supports the literature curriculum by helping students analyze major writers and works Supports the social studies curriculum by helping students use literature to understand the experience of African American women Covers the full chronological range of African American literature Fosters a respect for cultural diversity Develops research skills by directing students to additional sources of information Builds bridges between African American history literature and Women s Studies
