However the deeper significance of the experience of the beach and its influence on Australian culture generally have not yet been seriously explored. How why and when did the beach become part of the Australian way of life? In Sand in our Souls Leone Huntsman describes the forces and pressures that encouraged or impeded Australians' enjoyment of sand and surf from early enjoyment of bathing through nearly a century of repressive restrictions to freedom won in the face of drawn out opposition. The ways in which artists writers film makers and the advertising industry have depicted the beach are examined for the light they throw on the beach's significance. She traces the development of a distinctively Australian way of being at the beach suggesting that the beach experience has been absorbed into our emerging culture and continues to shape it in subtle ways. Huntsman's provocative arguments will stimulate debate on the concept of national identity appropriate for a new Australian century and promote a deeper understanding of an aspect of life in Australia that is cherished by many of those who live here      The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Fiction, 3 Volume Set Brian W. EcCentric Visions Gaile McGregor, 2006-01-01 What this book represents is quite literally a slice of white Australian life By noting the patterns and parallels that emerge in a random sampling of social phenomena of widely varying types from soap operas to political behaviour Gaile McGregor has constructed a model that in its challenge to uniformitarianism is a test case in ethnographic theory Using methods ranging from the hermeneutic through the structuralist to the psychoanalytic McGregor deploys the self evidence of communal life and language to establish not only that all cultural phenomena are patterned but that this patterning is unique to and consistent across the entire system Further it not only influences but constrains the way the Australian conceptualizes codifies and expresses his her existential position Hence the Australian predilection for icons of intermediacy the verandah in architecture the bush in literature the beach in folk culture the middle ground in landscape painting the pub in everyday life This identification with buffer zones between inside and outside not only mimics the Australian s real bracketing between desert and ocean but embodies his her sense of disablement vis vis both culture and nature art and techne super ego and id all of which are coded as feminine
