New Mass Media:

The New Mass Media Christopher Harper, 2001-10-29 This engaging text focuses on the role of technology in the development of the various media and the professions of advertising journalism and public relations The book is a highly visual text with its central components including the impact of the Internet on various media and the professions the history of each medium and the demassification of various media The issue of corporate ownership is also addressed and its effect on individuals and society Christopher Harper writes in a lively direct and journalistic style which will have enormous appeal to students Additionally the text incorporates numerous aid boxes to assist learning such as Timeline boxes Think About It boxes Personal Journal boxes People in the Media boxes The Whole World is Watching Todd Gitlin, Professor of Culture Journalism and Sociology Todd Gitlin, 1980-01-01 The whole world is watching chanted the demonstrators in the Chicago streets in 1968 as the TV cameras beamed images of police cracking heads into homes everywhere Acclaimed media critic Todd Gitlin first scrutinizes major news coverage in the early days of the antiwar movement Drawing on his own experiences he was president of the Students for a Democratic Society in 1963 64 and on interviews with key activists and news reporters he shows in detail how the media first ignore new political developments then select and emphasize aspects of the story that treat movements as oddities He then demonstrates how the media glare made leaders into celebrities and estranged them from their movement base how it inflated the importance of revolutionary rhetoric destabilizing the movement then promoted moderate alternatives all the while spreading the antiwar message Finally Gitlin draws together a theory of news coverage as a form of anti democratic social management which he sees at work also in media treatment of the anti nuclear and other later movements Publisher description The New Mass Media Gilbert Seldes, American Association of University Women, 1968 FCC Record United States. Federal Communications Commission, 2013 Diving Into the Bitstream Barry Dumas, 2012-11-12 Nationwide and indeed worldwide there has been a growing awareness of the importance of access to information Accordingly information technology IT broadly defined and its role beyond the internal workings of businesses has leapt into the social consciousness Diving into the Bitstream distinguishes itself by weaving together the concepts and conditions of IT What distinguishes these trends is their focus on the impacts of IT on societies and the responsibilities of IT s creators and users The author pulls together important often complex issues in the relationships among information information technologies and societal constructs The text explores a synopsis of these issues that are foundations for further consideration Internet Newspapers Xigen Li, 2013-09-13 Internet Newspapers The Making of a Mainstream Medium examines newspapers on the Internet and addresses the emergence of online newspapers and the delivery of news through this outlet Utilizing empirical research chapters explore the theoretical and practical issues associated with Internet newspapers and examine the process through which online newspapers have grown into a mainstream medium Contributions to this work emphasize three key areas the structure and presentation of newspapers on the Internet the medium as an interactive process and the ways in which the public interacts with Internet newspapers This collection makes a substantial contribution to the understanding of newspapers on the Internet covering their development and changes as well as the impact that news delivery through this medium has had on other media audiences and society It also sheds light on improving operation and performance of Internet newspapers to better serve the public and gain competitive knowledge The volume encourages additional scholarship in this area and also shows how researchers can benefit from an empirical approach to their examination of Internet newspapers Internet Newspapers will appeal to scholars researchers and students of journalism and mass communications and can be used as a supplementary text in advanced courses covering journalism communication technology and mass media and society

Competing Stories James Stamant, 2019-11-08 Major changes in media in the late 19th and early 20th centuries challenged traditional ideas about artistic representation and opened new avenues for authors working in the modernist period Modernist authors' reactions to this changing media landscape were often fraught with complications and shed light on the difficulty of negotiating understanding and depicting media The author of Competing Stories Modernist Authors Newspapers and the Movies argues that negative depictions of newspapers and movies in modernist fiction largely stem from worries about the competition for modern audiences and the desire for control over storytelling and reflections of the modern world This book looks at a moment of major change in media the dominance of mass media that began with the primarily visual media of newspapers and movies and the ways that authors like Ernest Hemingway Zora Neale Hurston James Joyce Djuna Barnes and others responded The author contends that an examination of this moment may facilitate a better understanding of the relationship between media and authorship in our constantly shifting media landscape

A History of Broadcasting in the United States: The Image Empire Erik Barnouw, 1970-02-18 During the iQSo's in a frontier atmosphere of enterprise and sharp struggle an American television system took shape But even as it did so its pioneers pushed beyond American borders and became programmers to scores of other nations In its first decade United States television was already a world phenomenon Since American radio had for some time had international ramifications American images and sounds were radiating from transmitter towers throughout the globe They were called entertainment or news or education but were always more They were a reflection of a growing United States involvement in the lives of other nations an involvement of imperial scope The role of broadcasters in this American expansion and in the era that produced it is the subject matter of The Image Empire the last of three volumes comprising this study

Mediating the Message Pamela J. Shoemaker, Stephen D. Reese, 1996 Provides a comprehensive review of the functions and factors which influence media content decisions It analyzes research in this area and evaluates the theoretical perspectives typically used in these studies in an attempt to establish a new theory of media content
