New Public Professional Communication And The Means Of Social Influence:

The New Public Leon H. Mayhew, 1997 America after Tocqueville Harvey Mitchell, 2002-09-16 America after Tocqueville complements Harvey Mitchell's previous book Individual Choice and the Structures of History Alexis de Tocqueville as Historian Reappraised 1996 This study draws on Democracy in America to study the condition of democracy in the United States in our own time Three aspects of Americanism inform Harvey Mitchell's book and cannot be separated from Tocqueville's consideration of the three races First he addresses tensions in the United States between ideas of equality and a political system that tries to keep it within bounds He turns to the relationship between this system and the dynamics of American capitalism and he analyses the criteria for inclusion and exclusion in American life Overall he asks if Americans have surrendered to what Tocqueville called the materialization of life if that compromise means their abandonment of their original spiritual quest and if they are on the way to a radical alienation from politics Blowing Up the Brand Melissa Aronczyk, Devon Powers, 2010 This edited volume seeks to redress the lack of scholarly work that takes promotion seriously as a form of social cultural political and economic exchange It unpacks the vernacular the institutional structures and the practices and performances that make up promotional culture in everyday life offering diverse critical perspectives on how as citizens consumers and users we absorb navigate confront and resist its influence Contributions from both renowned scholars and emerging intellectuals make this book a timely and valuable contribution to the fields of media and communication studies political science cultural studies sociology and anthropology BOOK JACKET Advertising Iain MacRury, 2008-12-19 Written in an accessible and interesting style this book presents a clear and easy guide to the main approaches to advertising and explores how advertising can be studied as a cultural industry Digital Democracy Barry N. than weighing all the options while not the entire answer is a rational basis for dealing with complexity in policy making In examples drawn from US and Israeli history and current events some of the rules of simplicity analyzed are if it was good enough for yesterday it s good enough for tomorrow sometimes doing nothing is the best policy and some organizations e g universities are not meant to be governed in a traditional sense Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Symbols and Power in the Theatre of the Oppressed Ronaldo Morelos, 1999 The Civil Sphere Jeffrey C. Alexander, 2008-09-08 What binds societies together and how can these social orders be structured in a fair way Jeffrey C Alexander s masterful work The Civil Sphere addresses this central paradox of modern life Feelings for others the solidarity that is ignored or underplayed by theories of power or self interest are at the heart of this novel inquiry into the meeting place between normative theories of what we think we should do and empirical studies of who we actually are Solidarity Alexander demonstrates creates inclusive and exclusive social structures and shows how they can be repaired It is not perfect it is not absolute and the horrors which occur in its lapses have been seen all too frequently in the forms of discrimination genocide and war Despite its worldly flaws and contradictions however solidarity and the project of civil society remain our best hope the antidote to every divisive institution every unfair distribution every abusive and dominating hierarchy This grand sweeping statement and rigorous empirical investigation is a major contribution to our thinking about the real but ideal world in which we all reside Media and the Restyling of Politics

John Corner, Dick Pels, 2003-08-07 Within media research and cultural studies the mediation of politicians and the play off between versions of high and low politics are attracting increasing interest Media and the Restyling of Politics brings together the work of leading academics in media and cultural studies to pursue an agenda of research analysis and debate about the changing nature of political culture and its mediation. The contributors question the ways in which emerging forms of political style relate not only to new conventions of celebrity and publicity but to ideas about representation, citizenship and the democratic process. Topics covered include celebrity, politicians, the marketing of politics, identity and popular culture.

Political Change and Public Culture in Post-1990 Nepal Michael J. Hutt, Pratyoush Onta, 2017. This book explores various domains of the Nepali public sphere in which ideas about democracy and citizenship have been debated and contested since 1990. It investigates the ways in which the public meaning of the major political and sociocultural changes that occurred in Nepal between 1990 and 2013 was constructed, conveyed and consumed. These changes took place against the backdrop of an enormous growth in literacy, the proliferation of print and broadcast media, the emergence of a public discourse on human rights and the vigorous reassertion of linguistic, ethnic and regional identities. Scholars from a range of different disciplinary locations delve into debates on rumours, ethnicity and identity, activism and gender to provide empirically grounded histories of the nation during one of its most important political transitions.

The Postnational Self Ulf Hedetoft, Mette Hjort, 2002. What happens to a sense of belonging when national and regional governments, religious organizations, community groups, political parties and corporations become unstable and incoherent as they have in these nationalist and postnationalist times? From a richly interdisciplinary perspective, the authors examine notions of citizenship and cultural hybridization, migration and other forms of mobility, displacements and ethnic cleansing and the nature of national belonging in a world turning ever more fluid, aided by transnational flows of capital, information, people and ideas.

Capitalism and Citizenship Kathryn Dean, 2012-11-12. Can capitalism and citizenship co-exist? In recent years, advocates of the Third Way have championed the idea of public spirited capitalism as the antidote to the many problems confronting the modern world. This book develops a multi-disciplinary theory of citizenship, exploring the human abilities needed for its practice. It then argues that capitalism impedes the nurturing of these abilities. In advancing these arguments, Kathryn Dean draws on the work of a wide range of thinkers including Freud, Marx, Lacan, Habermas and Castells.

The New Experts Anuradha Sajjanhar, 2024-05-16. Analyses the power of intellectuals and experts in justifying extremist politics with a specific focus on India's intellectual elite.
