

Old And New

The old will die
And fall to the ground
The new will take birth
Making an euphoric sound

Fresh and full
Of verve and energy
It will shine like the sun
Everything seems good and rosy

A day will come
It will feel old too
A seed is there in the womb
To take its place as brand new

New Poems and Archives Frances Victor Fowler, 2006-01-01 Contemporary Poetry Archive Anderson Linda Anderson, 2019-05-23 Explores critical and creative responses to the contemporary poetry archive Provides an innovative new dialogue between critics and creative writers on the value and practice of the literary archive Expands the scope for understanding perspectives on and the opposition between creative and critical relations to archival materials Opens up a new cross disciplinary agenda for thinking the archive as both a source for scholarship and a source of inspiration for creative practice These 13 newly commissioned chapters examine the impact of archival poetry collections on both literary scholarship and poetic practice They examine what we can learn from the drafts notebooks and personal libraries left behind by poets and look at the ways in which the growth of poetry archives has changed the way poets think about their work The contributing poets and scholars including Susan Howe Sean O'Brien and George Szirtes present an in depth account of the significance of poetry archives for contemporary literature The collection provides a new cross disciplinary agenda for thinking about the archive as both a source for scholarship and inspiration for creative practice These Ghostly Archives Gail Crowther, Peter K. Steinberg, 2017-06-29 The authors discuss Sylvia Plath archival discoveries in unique ways unearthing previously unknown materials and bringing new context to well known works New essays on the sociological notion of haunting in the archive Innovative approaches to distance international collaboration in archival scholarship Introduces new ways of understanding Sylvia Plath Plath's The Bell Jar is to be released in 2018 as a major film starring Dakota Fanning and directed by Kirsten Dunst These Ghostly Archives: The Unearthing of Sylvia Plath offers a ground breaking look at Plath studies Focusing on previously unpublished material found in archives from around the world These Ghostly Archives aims to reconstruct the ghostly figure of Plath within our culture via unseen letters manuscripts photographs places and poems This book approaches archival studies exploring both the practical and experiential work carried out in the archive highlighting the detective type work that it involves and the traces left behind from history However for the first time this work also combines the sociological notion of haunting that is the archive as a location where researchers haunt the research subject and in turn are haunted by the traces left behind Never is material culture more powerful than when associated with the dead never is the archive ghostlier when haunted by the absent presence of Plath This book showcases the necessity to leave no archival box or folder left unopened and how the researcher and the archive can change even though its documents might stay the same Illustrations 32 colour photographs Marianne Moore and the Archives Jeff Westover, 2024-05-09 Marianne Moore and the Archives features new archival research to explore the work of a major American modernist poet providing innovative approaches to Moore's career as it is documented in her archives in Philadelphia This volume is also the first that draws upon the Marianne Moore Digital Archive MMDA Means Matter Manuel Brito, 2010 This book is a major source for scholars of the latest American poetry These exciting essays comprise energy and documented discussions on experimentalism multiculturalism hyperspace and gender Anthologies and little magazines form the matrix for this exploration on conceptual issues surrounding language The author widens the perspective in which a great deal of writing forced the limits of poetry in this kind of publications At the same time he analyzes new contexts and enters into conversation with other sources for inspiration found through other disciplines such as social theory philosophy linguistics and art generated at both sides of the Atlantic Ocean Reflective taut with alertness and exploding the postmodern concept of word object as a liberating experience this book becomes a driving force to address poetry and challenging political issues with admirable depth Archiving Caribbean Identity John Aarons, Jeannette A. Bastian, Stanley Hazley Griffin, 2022-06-12

Archiving Caribbean Identity highlights the Caribbeanization of archives in the region considering what those archives could include in the future and exploring the potential for new records in new formats Interpreting records in the broadest sense the 15 chapters in this volume explore a wide variety of records that represent new archival interpretations The book is split into two parts with the first part focusing on record forms that are not generally considered archival in traditional Western practice The second part explores more traditional archival collections and demonstrates how these collections are analysed and presented from the perspective of Caribbean peoples As a whole the volume suggests how colonial records can be repurposed to surface Caribbean narratives Reflecting on the unique challenges faced by developing countries as they approach their archives the volume considers how to identify and archive records in the forms and formats that reflect the postcolonial and decolonized Caribbean how to build an archive of the people that documents contemporary society and reflects Caribbean memory and how to repurpose the colonial archives so that they assist the Caribbean in reclaiming its history Archiving Caribbean Identity demonstrates how non textual cultural traces function as archival records and how folk centred perspectives disrupt conventional understandings of records The book should thus be of interest to academics and students engaged in the study of archives memory culture history sociology and the colonial and postcolonial experience

Poetry FM Lisa Hollenbach, 2023-05-12 Poetry FM listens back to the experimental period of FM radio's development from the late 1940s to the 1980s to show how American poetry was shaped by and shaped in turn the emergence of a radio counterculture Like FM radio history the literary history of American poetry during this period is defined by waves of opposition to the literary and critical establishment by poets and movements who likewise stressed experimentalism alternative networks of distribution regionalism and community In this study Lisa Hollenbach focuses on two major radio stations Pacifica's KPFA in Berkeley and WBAI in New York to develop an institutionally grounded analysis of how poets involvement with FM radio contributed to postwar aural imaginaries While poetry programming on Pacifica Radio has always been capacious including poetry from the past as well as contemporary poetry poetry in translation and poetry by unpublished writers Hollenbach focuses on writers who played important roles at these stations and whose work embraces oral poetics and or radio and sonic tropes These especially include poets associated with the New American Poetry William

Everson Kenneth Rexroth Jack Spicer Allen Ginsberg Robert Duncan Paul Blackburn and Amiri Baraka among others who brought the oral poetics of the new poetry to Pacifica Radio's experiment in FM radio But in the 1960s and 1970s the racial gender and sexual politics of both the New American Poetry and the FM revolution came under increasing scrutiny and contestation During these years poets as different as Spicer Ginsberg Baraka and Audre Lorde responded to this terrain of struggle by creating in their poetry performances and radio work alternative aural imaginaries or figurative channels for the transmission of fugitive signals across time and place This is a book about how radio the once dominant mass media form became an underground medium for and key figure in American poetry in the 1950s 1960s and 1970s The Politics of

Collecting Eunsong Kim, 2024-06-24 In The Politics of Collecting Eunsong Kim traces how racial capitalism and colonialism situated the rise of US museum collections and conceptual art forms Investigating historical legal and property claims she argues that regimes of expropriation rather than merit or good taste are responsible for popular ideas of formal innovation and artistic genius In doing so she details how Marcel Duchamp's canonization has more to do with his patron's donations to museums than it does the quality of Duchamp's work and uncovers the racialized and financialized logic behind the Archive of New Poetry's collecting practices Ranging from the conception of philanthropy devised by the robber barons of the late nineteenth century to ongoing digitization projects Kim provides a new history of contemporary art that accounts for the complicated entanglement of race capital and labor behind storied art institutions and artists Drawing on history theory and economics Kim challenges received notions of artistic success and talent and calls for a new vision of art beyond the cultural institution Archive for Our Times Dorothy Livesay, 1998 Above all a poem records speech the way it was said between people animals birds a poem is an archive for our times Dorothy Livesay Anything Goes Dorothy Livesay who died in 1996 is considered a pioneer of Canadian poetry her work is infused with an extraordinary grace and power and shaped by a prescient feminist sensibility which led her to be called a voice of women She published more than 25 books of poetry and prose as well as an autobiography in 1991 She is regarded as a major influence for many writers not only for her poetry but for the remarkable way in which she lived her life Archive for Our Times is a major undertaking a collection of poems by Dorothy Livesay never before published discovered in her archives and published in this volume with the blessings of the Livesay estate The collection is a compelling record of Livesay's poetic and a revealing and intimate portrayal of the writing life As Livesay herself wrote in the poem Memo to My Daughter The record of our life is lived in secret inside the head With this in mind Archive for Our Times is a gift a rare opportunity to experience the feral beauty of the poetry of Dorothy Livesay

Poetics Journal Digital Archive Lyn Hejinian, Barrett Watten, 2015-02-25 The highly influential Poetics Journal whose ten issues were published between 1982 and 1998 contributed to the surge of interest in the practice of poetics Edited by internationally recognized poet critics Lyn Hejinian and Barrett Watten the journal presents major conversations and debates and invites readers to expand on the critical and creative engagements they represent This archive re-presents virtually all
