

2.1 Import Quotas & Their Effects

A quota is the most important nontariff trade barrier. It is a direct quantitative restriction on the amount of a commodity allowed to be imported or exported. So we have import quotas and export quotas.

Import quotas can be used to protect a domestic industry, to protect domestic agriculture, and/or for balance-of-payments reasons.

Brazil in the Uruguay Round of the GATT Ricardo Wahrendorff Caldas,2018-12-14 First published in 1998 this volume analyses Brazil s strategy in the Uruguay Round focusing on the issue of services Three different moments were chosen for analysis The first was during discussions before the launch of the Uruguay Round During this period Brazil led the Less Developed Countries LDCs in obstructing the inclusion of services on the agenda The Second was during the launch of the Uruguay Round when Brazil persisted with this policy This second period is referred to as the initial position of Brazil in the Uruguay Round The third was Montreal in 1988 when Brazil supported the principles which guided an agreement on services After this turning point Brazil s position in the Round was increasingly supportive of an agreement not only in services but in all fields      A History of Canadian Economic Thought Robin Neill,1991-06-06 In A History of Canadian Economic Thought Robin Neill relates the evolution of economic theory in Canada to the particular geographical and political features of the country Whilst there were distinctively Canadian economic discourses in nineteenth century Ontario and early twentieth century Quebec Neill argues that these have now been absorbed into the broader North American mainstream He also examines the nature and importance of the staple theory controversy and its appositeness for the Canadian case With full accounts of the work of major Canadian economists including John Rae H A Innis and Harry Johnson A History of Canadian Economic Thought is the first definitive treatment of the subject for 30 years      Canada's Video Revolution

Peter Lyman,Canadian Institute for Economic Policy,1983 From the back cover While Canadians have been leaders in many aspects of communications technology the content has been mainly foreign So too have the applications of new technology typically been property of alliances of corporations in the U S Europe and Japan As the pace of the globalization of culture quickens Canada s broadcasting recording film and publishing industries will face formidable challenges Communications analyst Peter Lyman describes the impact of the new technologies on Canadian cultural industries and proposes strategies he feels must be accepted to make these industries viable in an ever changing marketplace      Trade, Industrial Policy, and International Competition, Second Edition Richard G. Harris,2015-10-01 Richard Harris s now classic study on trade and industrial policy was written for the Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada also known as the Macdonald Commission First published in 1985 when the Canadian economy faced dramatic changes arising from the emergence of manufacturing competitors among newly industrialized nations and increased protectionism in the US its recommendations were instrumental in the negotiation of the North America Free Trade Agreement Addressing the key issues surrounding the design and choice of policies for the Canadian economy Trade Industrial Policy and International Competition reviews the theory and evidence concerning trade liberalization as a mechanism to enhance economic growth disinvestment in sections that are disadvantageous in the international marketplace and future problems for the marketing sector caused by increasing competition from developing countries Drawing from many streams of conventional economic thinking Harris develops an original and sophisticated model for assessing the broader economic impacts of trade liberalization on the Canadian economy He concludes that free trade and industrial policy should be regarded as complementary not substitutes for one another and recommends a free trade agreement with the United States as a top priority A new introduction by David Wolfe situates this work within its time and shows how Harris s analytical insights and policy prescriptions are as relevant today as they when they were originally crafted three decades ago The Political Economy of North American Free Trade Ricardo Grinspun,Maxwell A. Cameron,1993-06-18 Analyzes the economic social political and environmental implications of NAFTA from a range of critical perspectives The chapters unified by a sceptical view of the management of economic integration in North America cover the economic strategy of Mexico Canada US trade agreement and more Marketing Canada's Energy Ian McDougall,1983-01-01 Written in the early 1980s author I A McDougall shows that as an import dependent country Canada was ill prepared for possible disruptions in its oil supply McDougall envisioned a future in which superpower rivalry over dwindling world reserves coupled with rationing of supply by OPEC members and volatility in the Persian Gulf would make Canada s dependence on foreign oil increasingly precarious He asserted that the contemporary Liberal government s National Energy Program was a usefult first step in promotion an independent energy strategy Marketing Canada s Energy is a passionate addition to the lively debate over Canada s independence during the 1980s The Canadian Import File Gerry Salembier,Andrew R. Moroz, Frank Stone,Institute for Research on Public Policy,1987 Over the past several years Canadian and international trade policy has been the subject of intense public debate and near the top of Canada s publicpolicy agenda The present volume is offered as a further contribution topublic understanding of the policy issues involved It represents theoutcome of a study over the past two years of how heightened internationalcompetition moves governments on the one hand to reinforce barriers toimports as a means of protecting domestic producers and on the other hand to encourage and assist producers to adjust to change The Future of Grain Michele Veeman,Terry Veeman,1984-01-01 Written in the early 1980s The Future of Grain examines Canada s growing grain exports and the outlook for the industry s future The authors examine the prospects such an increase holds for the largely static Canadian industries connected to grain manufacturers of agricultural machinery pesticides and fertilizers processing industries such as feed and flour milling canola crushing and barley malting And they suggest improvements to every aspect of government involvement from measures to conserve Prairie soil to macroeconomic policy that affects this important sector The Future of Grain offers a valuable analysis of this important agricultural sector at a vital time in its history The Other Macdonald Report Daniel Drache, Duncan Cameron, 1985-01-01 In 1982 the Macdonald Commission began its 20 month mission to find a consensus on Canada's future The commission held hearings in 28 towns and cities met with 700 concerned parties and assembled nearly 40 000 pages of testimony In his Report Commission chair Donald S Macdonald announced Canada must make a leap of faith and embrace free trade with the U S apparently signalling the victory of a globalizing corporate vision of the country's development The Other Macdonald Report reopens the debate presenting twenty key submissions to the Commission by organizations such as the Canadian Conference of Catholic Bishops the United Auto Workers the National Action Committee on the Status of Women the Canadian Mental Health Association and the National Farmers Union Together these groups offer a vision of Canada where human needs take priority over capital and technology The Other Macdonald Report offers alternatives to the corporate vision for Canada's future alternatives forged during the vibrant free trade debates of the mid 1980s Managing the Multinational Subsidiary Hamid Etemad, Louise Séguin Dulude, 2018-04-17 This book first published in 1986 is concerned with the changing world environment for multinational business and the relationships between multinational parent companies and their subsidiaries which will be necessary to meet the challenges that are being faced The study argues that key changes to the environment are the revolution in manufacturing which has permitted cheap production in one location of complicated products for a world market world product mandating whereby all a company's country subsidiaries produce different product lines for the world market pressure and incentives from host governments for technology transfer in their favour and for research and development facilities within their territory the growth of highly efficient international trading and distribution intermediaries and the complications of increased barter trade arising from international debt problems and currency shortages All this means that the management of multinational subsidiaries has to change This book reviews the challenges and shows a way forward The World Economy in Crisis Lorie Tarshis, 1984-01-01 Lorie Tarshis held that much of the economic suffering in the 1970s was not necessary that the crisis could have been easily eased had it not been for governments faulty diagnoses and poorly designed prescriptions Faced with increasingly serious energy shortages economic slowdowns rising unemployment and skyrocketing Third World debt Western governments responded with inflation fighting policies left over from the Second World War that served only to exacerbate the situation In this book Tarshis recommended an overall strategy to confront these problems without resorting to the stopgaps then in vogue with government decision makers World Economy in Crisis offers an acute diagnosis of the pervasive malaise facing the world economy in the 1970s and a critical perspective on contemporary official responses to it Planning and the Economy Hugh Thorburn, 1984-01-01 Since World War II the way economic policy has been formed both in Canada and abroad has changed radically This book shows that the course taken in Canada has much to do with the crisis in the Canadian economy in the post war period Thornburn examines the response of other Western nations to the changing economic order of the postwar world and then turns to an analysis of Canadian economic policy making at the federal level and in all ten provinces Thorburn points to the need for a central planning agency to correct the drift in Canada s economic policy First published in 1984 Planning and the Economy is a strongly argued entry into the vital debates over Canadian political and economic policy in the early 1980s

Canadian Trade Policies and the World Economy John Whalley, Colleen Hamilton, Roderick Hill, Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada, 1985 Canada is a relatively small open economy with a large amount of foreign trade relative to its gross national product The majority of that trade over 70 percent is with the United States Policies that either limit or encourage foreign trade are therefore more important for Canada than for many other countries

The Drug Industry Myron J. Gordon, David Fowler, 1981-01-01 In this independent study first published in 1981 economists Myron Gordon and David Fowler test the assertions made by both defenders and critics of multinational drug corporations The pharmaceutical business in Canada is a classic example of a foreign dominated manufacturing industry Drug industry practices such as the high cost of drug products aggressive marketing of drugs to doctors inadequate testing of potentially dangerous substances and excessive profits have concerned both media and citizens in Canada The Drug Industry is an analysis of a classic branch plant business in Canada offering recommendations for increased and closely focussed government regulation

Canada, the GATT and the International Trade System Frank Stone, 1992 This study examines from a Canadian perspective the international agreements and institutions largely within the United Nations framework that represent the multilateral trade system It focuses on the origins structure and operation of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade It also covers the trade policy activities of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development the trade activities of the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development the international commodity agreements that have been concluded to deal with the special problems of trade in a number of primary products and the trade related functions of several other international agreements and institutions

Rebuilding From Within Rotstein, Abraham, 1984-01-01 In this study written in 1984 the author discusses problems and weaknesses in Canada s economy and offers solutions for improving in the future Skeptical of the benefits of free trade proposals and deeply critical of the effects of monetarism the author proposes an alternative vision of the nation s development Rotstein outlines the sorts of industrial policies that Canada must have in a balanced portfolio to better exploit the domestic market and survive in a changing global marketplace Rebuilding from Within is a clear headed response to the economic upheavals experienced in Canada in the early 1980s

Canada and the Multilateral Trading System John Whalley, Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada, 1985

Dialogue for a New Order Khadija Haq, 2013-10-22 Dialogue for a New Order is a collection of papers that discusses the issues in the relationship of developed and developing nations The book covers topics such as monetary reforms strategies for national development and international resource transfers The text details the choices that the South has to make in maintaining its political stability and improving its diplomatic ties Next the selection presents articles about reforming the international monetary and trade framework The next part discusses the long term problems that plague the international community The last part of the text details the critical policy options which can enhance global interdependence and accommodate the legitimate interests of all nations The book will be of great interest to economists political scientists sociologists and game theorists
