humble beginning he soon mastered the craft of directing and created one of show business's greatest careers Autocrat and artist DeMille immersed himself totally in each picture he directed and demanded complete fealty from his casts and crews DeMille was said to know more about what the American public wanted than anyone else in Hollywood He pushed the boundaries of censorship and audiences responded by forming long lines at the box office From the American West to ancient Egypt he created such magical films as The Crusades and The Greatest Show on Earth that brought vividly to life fantasies perfectly suited to post World War I and mid century America Kobal describes DeMille's impact on Hollywood as a director and showman He argues that this master filmmaker stands for something largely lost in American filmmaking a sort of naive generous big thinking self confidence a belief that all things are possible John Kobal wrote over thirty books on film and photography His final manuscript The Lost World of DeMille was completed shortly before his death in 1991 It is published at last by University Press of Mississippi Marquee, 1985 Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office USA Patent Office, 1896 Comedy-Horror Films Bruce G. Hallenbeck, 2009-08-11 Fun and fright have long been partners in the cinema dating back to the silent film era and progressing to the Scary Movie franchise and other recent releases This guide takes a comprehensive look at the comedy horror movie genre from the earliest stabs at melding horror and hilarity during the nascent days of silent film to its full fledged development with The Bat in 1926 to the Abbott and Costello films pitting the comedy duo against Frankenstein's Monster the Mummy and other Universal Studio monsters continuing to such recent cult hits as Shaun of the Dead and Black Sheep Selected short films such as Tim Burton's Frankenweenie are also covered Photos and promotional posters interviews with actors and a filmography are included Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office United States. Patent Office, 1926 High Noon Glenn Frankel, 2018-02-06 From the New York Times bestselling author of The Searchers the revelatory story behind the classic movie High Noon and the toxic political climate in which it was created It's one of the most revered movies of Hollywood's golden era Starring screen legend Gary Cooper and Grace Kelly in her first significant film role High Noon was shot on a lean budget over just thirty two days but achieved instant box office and critical success It won four Academy Awards in 1953 including a best actor win for Cooper And it became a cultural touchstone often cited by politicians as a favorite film celebrating moral fortitude Yet what has been often overlooked is that High Noon was made during the height of the Hollywood blacklist a time of political inquisition and personal betrayal In the middle of the film shoot screenwriter Carl Foreman was forced to testify before the House Committee on Un American Activities about his former membership in the Communist Party Refusing to name names he was eventually blacklisted and fled the United States His co authored screenplay for another classic The Bridge on the River Kwai went uncredited in 1957 Examined in light of Foreman's testimony High Noon's emphasis on courage and loyalty takes on deeper meaning and importance In this book Pulitzer Prize winning journalist Glenn Frankel tells the story of the making of a great American Western exploring how Carl Foreman's concept of High Noon evolved from idea to first draft to final script
