Nobuo Takahashi,2012-12-06 Organization design has been discussed by many authors in management and organization theory They have obtained intuitive and prescriptive propositions appealing that the best organization design is contingent on the environmental conditions But their studies called contingency theory are mostly based on empirical research Most of the propositions are drawn as only inferences from the results of them On the other hand decision theoretic models of organizations in the stochastic environment have been studied by some economists and management scientists independently of contingency theory In this book important aspects of organization design problems are formulated as statistical decision problems in the framework of management and organization theory Part One of this book analyzes a short run adaptive problems of the organization design Part One contains an expanded exposition of the ideas and results published in the professional journals and I would like to thank the anonymous reviewers of the following journals Behaviormetrika Human Relations Behavioral Science Part Two of this book considers a long run adaptive process in the organization and has not previously been published in its IV present form although a version of this part is to appear in Journal of the Department of Liberal Arts March 1987 The University of Tokyo The results of Part One and Part Two are supported by the empirical research on Japanese firms in Part Three This research was financially supported by Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Public Corporation NTT I acknowledge this gratefully      The Oxford Handbook of Leadership and Organizations David V. Selected Topics in Operations Research and Mathematical Economics G. Hammer,Diethard Pallaschke,2012-12-06 Let  $E^N$  be the usual vector space of real  $N$  uples with the usual inner product denoted by  $\langle \cdot, \cdot \rangle$  In this paper  $P$  is a nonempty compact polyhedral set of  $mN$   $f$  is a real valued function defined on  $R^N$  continuously differentiable and  $f|_P$  is the line ly constrained minimization problem stated as  $\min_{x \in P} f(x)$  For computing stationary points of problem  $t_j$  we propose a method which attempts to operate within the linear simplex method structure This method then appears as a same type of method as the convex simplex method of Zangwill 6 It is however different and has the advantage of being less technical with regards to the Zangwill method It has also a simple geometrical interpretation which makes it more under standable and more open to other improvements Also in the case where  $f$  is convex an implementable line search is proposed which is not the case in the Zangwill method Moreover if  $f(x) \leq c$  this method will coincide with the simplex method this is also true in the case of the convex simplex method if  $f(x) \leq 12$  it will be almost the same as the algorithm given by Bazaraa Goode Rardin 2
