Reinventing Eden

Carolyn Merchant, 2013 Visionary quests to return to the Garden of Eden have shaped Western culture from Columbus voyages to today's tropical island retreats. Few narratives are so powerful and as Carolyn Merchant shows so misguided and destructive as the dream of recapturing a lost paradise. A sweeping account of these quixotic endeavors by one of America's leading environmentalists, Reinventing Eden traces the idea of rebuilding the primeval garden from its origins to its latest incarnations in shopping malls, theme parks, and gated communities. With eloquence and insight, Merchant shows how the drive to conquer nature and to explore and settle the globe springs from this utopian pastoral impulse throughout Western history. Time and again, human manipulation of the environment is our downfall. Eden is achieved by fencing off pristine beauty in national parks and wildlife preserves while leaving the majority of the earth in ruins. Challenging both narratives, Merchant argues that the green veneer of city park conservation has become a cover for the corruption of the earth and the neglect of its environment. Reinventing Eden is a bold new way to think about the earth that includes green political parties, sustainable development, and a partnership between humans and earth that is nothing short of an ecological revolution.

Issue VIII scissors and spackle, 2012-08-13 Issue eight is an expedition, a road trip. We follow the breadcrumbs of spilled sentences from the Deep South where Terry Barr questions his relationship with his heritage, his soil, and his child to the cluttered streets of India with critically acclaimed screenwriter and actress Radha Bharadwaj as she peeks under the covers of sibling love and rivalry. We gather roots and feathers with C. Malcolm Ellsworth in Farmer's Daughter. We eavesdrop on faith, feminism, and femininity in taxi back seats on the roads of Uzbekistan and Egypt with Kristen Hoggatt. Issue eight peeks through the cracks of Labor Day bedrooms and allows us to spy for just a moment on other people's secrets and stories.

The Making of Buddhist Modernism David L. McMahan, 2008-11-14 A great deal of Buddhist literature and scholarly writing about Buddhism of the past 150 years reflects and indeed constructs a historically unique modern Buddhism, even while purporting to represent ancient tradition, timeless teaching, or the essentials of Buddhism. This literature, Asian as well as Western, weaves together the strands of different traditions to create a novel hybrid that brings Buddhism into alignment with many of the ideologies and sensibilities of the post-Enlightenment West. In this book, David McMahan charts the development of this Buddhist modernism. McMahan examines and analyzes a wide range of popular and scholarly writings produced by Buddhists around the globe. He focuses on ideological and imaginative encounters between Buddhism and modernity, for example in the realms of science, mythology, literature, art, psychology, and religious pluralism. He shows how certain themes cut across cultural and geographical contexts and how this form of Buddhism has been created by multiple agents in a variety of times and places. His position is critical but empathetic; while he presents Buddhist modernism as a construction of numerous parties with varying interests, he does not reduce it to a mistake, a misrepresentation, or fabrication. Rather, he presents it as a complex historical process constituted by a variety of responses, sometimes trivial, often profound, to some of the most important concerns of the modern era.
