Busted Sanctions Bryan R. Early, 2015-02-11 Powerful countries like the United States regularly employ economic sanctions as a tool for promoting their foreign policy interests Yet this foreign policy tool has an uninspiring track record of success with economic sanctions achieving their goals less than a third of the time they are imposed The costs of these failed sanctions policies can be significant for the states that impose them their targets and the other countries they affect Explaining economic sanctions high failure rate therefore constitutes a vital endeavor for academics and policy makers alike Busted Sanctions seeks to provide this explanation and reveals that the primary cause of this failure is third party spoilers or sanctions busters who undercut sanctioning efforts by providing their targets with extensive foreign aid or sanctions busting trade In quantitatively and qualitatively analyzing over 60 years of U S economic sanctions Bryan Early reveals that both types of third party sanctions busters have played a major role in undermining U S economic sanctions Surprisingly his analysis also reveals that the United States closest allies are often its sanctions worst enemies The book offers the first comprehensive explanation for why different types of sanctions busting occur and reveals the devastating effects it has on economic sanctions chances of success Examining Nuclear Negotiations United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs, 2014

Unpopular Sovereignty Luise White, 2015-03-23 In 1965 the white minority government of Rhodesia after 1980 Zimbabwe issued a unilateral declaration of independence from Britain rather than negotiate a transition to majority rule In doing so Rhodesia became the exception if not anathema to the policies and practices of the end of empire In Unpopular Sovereignty Luise White shows that the exception that was Rhodesian independence did not in fact make the state that different from new nations elsewhere in Africa indeed this history of Rhodesian political practices reveals some of the commonalities of mid twentieth century thinking about place and race and how much government should link the two White locates Rhodesia s independence in the era of decolonization in Africa a time of great intellectual ferment in ideas about race citizenship and freedom She shows that racists and reactionaries were just as concerned with questions of sovereignty and legitimacy as African nationalists were and took special care to design voter qualifications that could preserve their version of legal statecraft Examining how the Rhodesian state managed its own governance and electoral politics she casts an oblique and revealing light by which to rethink the narratives of decolonization Apartheid Guns and Money Hennie van Vuuren, 2019-03-01 In its last decades the apartheid regime was confronted with an existential threat While internal resistance to the last whites only government grew mandatory international sanctions prohibited sales of strategic goods and arms to South Africa To counter this a global covert network of nearly fifty countries was built In complete secrecy allies in corporations banks governments and intelligence agencies across the world helped illegally supply guns and move cash in one of history s biggest money laundering schemes Whistleblowers were assassinated and ordinary people suffered Weaving together archival material interviews and newly declassified documents Apartheid Guns and Money exposes some of the darkest secrets of apartheid's economic crimes, their murderous consequences, and those who profited: heads of state, arms dealers, aristocrats, bankers, spies, journalists, and secret lobbyists. These revelations and the difficult questions they pose will both allow and force the new South Africa to confront its past. War by Other Means Angela Borozna, Lada V. Kochtcheeva, 2024-02-29 This book analyzes the goals of Western sanctions imposed on Russia from 2014 to 2023. It explores the effects of sanctions on the Russian economy and its political course, as well as the repercussions of the sanctions to the senders and third parties, including spillover effects on neighboring countries and boomerang effects on the senders. While sanctions can be considered relatively effective in terms of economic damage, the Russian economy is far from being crushed. Importantly, sanctions proved to be ineffective as an instrument of foreign policy. They have failed to alter Moscow's resolve to continue its military operation and are unlikely to change it in the near future. The effects of the sanctions extend well beyond their anticipated impact on Russia itself, primarily due to the Western nations' limited experience and knowledge in implementing sanctions against a major power with extensive global connections, such as Russia. Trade, Aid and Security Oli Brown, 2012-04-27 A compelling contribution to our evolving understanding of the links between trade, aid, and security, and what the international community needs to do to ensure peace and development in the world. Achim Steiner, Executive Director, United Nations Environment Programme. For far too long, the international community has stood by while countries around the world descend into conflict and anarchy. We need to understand how we can engage more effectively with fragile and failing states. Trade, Aid, and Security is an important step in this direction. Jan Pronk, Special Representative of the UN General Secretary in Sudan and Former Minister of Development and the Environment, The Netherlands. As we begin to contemplate what the post-Iraq world will look like, it is vital that we reflect on the limits of the utility of hard power and the importance that development can play in avoiding failed states before they fail, preventing conflicts, and more successfully rebuilding states. This timely book makes a most important contribution to that process. Lord Paddy Ashdown, UN High Representative for Bosnia and Herzegovina, 2002-2006. Leader of UK Liberal Democrat Party, 1988-1999. As UN Special Representative to the Great Lakes Region of Africa, I have seen the devastating impact of the trade in conflict resources with my own eyes. Amongst much else, this book shows how different trade and aid policies can tackle the trade in conflict resources and make a real contribution to secure societies. It is essential reading. Mohamed Sahnoun, Special Representative of the UN Secretary General in Central and East Africa, Iraq, Afghanistan, Darfur. All resonate loudly on the international stage, exposing and illustrating the intractable links between global security, control over natural resources, be it oil, water, timber, or conflict diamonds, and the manipulation of foreign aid and international trade policy. This volume, written by leading authorities from across the globe, introduces the linkages between trade, aid, and security, and exposes how inappropriate or misused trade and aid policy can and does undermine security and contribute to violence and the disintegration of national states. On a practical level, they demonstrate how six key areas of trade and aid policy can be used to help forge stability and security reduce the likelihood of armed conflict and assist economic and political recovery in our war torn world      Research Handbook on UN Sanctions and International Law Larissa van den Herik,2017-07-28 The 1990s have been labeled the Sanctions Decade since they witnessed an unprecedented intensification of the use of collective non military enforcement measures and in particular sanctions by the post Cold War reactivated Security Council This Research Handbook studies the current practice of UN sanctions in international law their interrelationship with other regimes and substantive areas of law as well as issues arising from their implementation and application at the domestic level      China and Iran Readjust Relations Shirzad Azad,2024-01-16 The conclusion of the multilateral agreement about the Iranian nuclear issue in June 2015 was widely predicted to accelerate both the scope and size of commercial interactions between China and Iran As a result the two countries talked about the prospect of increasing their bilateral commerce from less than 50 billion to 600 billion within a short period of time Later Beijing and Tehran moved to sign a 25 year strategic agreement partly to achieve that critical objective The American withdrawal from the nuclear deal under the Trump administration in May 2018 however put a halt to the rosy trade prospect of 600 billion between China and Iran The contentious 25 year pact laid in the limbo in the wake of the crippling regime of international sanctions in which Washington spearheaded against Iran upon quitting the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action Shirzad Azad argues how China s overall commercial relationship with Iran has turned out to be unusually asymmetrical and lopsided over the past several years In some areas Sino Iranian business partnership surprisingly dwindled to a trickle while in several other fields the presence of Chinese brands and technological expertise in Iran unexpectedly reached an all time high      AF Press Clips ,1988-07      Human Rights in Development: Yearbook 1999/2000 the Millennium Edition Hugo Stokke,Arne Tostensen,2001-03-01 The twelfth in the series of yearbooks on Human Rights in Development the current millennium edition attempts to take stock of developments in the human rights arena since the Universal Declaration was adopted over half a century ago The introductory overview article chronicles developments within the human rights field to date and sets the stage for a future scenario by looking at the respective roles of governments and the business community in respecting protecting and fulfilling human rights An article on the World Trade Organisation follows the challenges posed by international trade in a human rights perspective The appropriateness of so called smart sanctions as a means of bolstering human rights is discussed in a third contribution A fourth highlights the gender dimensions of the statute of the new international criminal court The challenge of accommodating diversity and the rights of indigenous peoples in the new political dispensation of Guatemala is assessed in a fifth essay whereas affirmative action policies within the context of Malaysia are examined in a sixth one The difficulties inherent in designing managing and evaluating aid programmes for human rights and democracy purposes is the theme of the penultimate contribution whereas the final article considers the use of research in designing aid projects in the judicial system of Nepal The Yearbook on Human Rights in Development is a
