Geo-trekking in Ethiopia's Tropical Mountains Jan Nyssen, Miro Jacob, Amaury Frankl, 2019-07-09 This book is based on over 150 scientific papers about the Dogu a Tembien district in Ethiopia To reach a broader public of people interested in geosites and human environment interactions the authors here add a geoguide about this mountain district in Ethiopia 13°30'N 39°10'E upto 2850 m high which shows a varied lithology A large team has carried out research in that district over the past 23 years including long stays in the areas Numerous viewpoints and geosites are only accessible on foot hence the authors prepared the book as a trekking guide which will enhance sustainable tourism in the same time This edited work summarises the study results in the international literature into a comprehensive book which comprises 35 thematic chapters detailed description of 573 km of trekking routes to access the landscape and the most scenic excursion points as well as the necessary logistical information A state of the art trekking map is included as a digital annex

The Road from the Monument Storm Jameson, 2011-09-28 Storm Jameson's fine novel tells the story of two men their beginnings ambitions wives failures successes Gregory Mott is seen at first solely through the eyes of other people the old man who taught him when he was a child his aristocratic wife his oldest friend Lambert Corry and Harriet Ellis at one time his mistress and still his close friend He is a religious man a writer whose Anglican beliefs have had considerable influence For the past ten years he has been a successful Director of the Rutley Institute of Arts What man could be happier or more secure But suppose such a man makes an error social or moral and makes the further blunder of denying it During a journey abroad this happens Afterwards in London truth eats its way into his life through the defences of fear vanity self deception egoism Friends and his religious assurance itself fail him and step by step he is driven to look at himself in the clearest bearable light The other man Lambert Corry makes no errors And though at one moment he runs some risk of recognising himself his prudence and agility save him from this danger Apart from the journey through France and the scene in a pilgrimage village in Switzerland the action takes place in London much of it in Mott s house on the north side of Hyde Park The view from this house seen at different times of day or night at different seasons forms the background for a novel which is both a social comedy and the account of one man s unwilling discovery of himself     Journey from the North, Volume 2 Storm Jameson,2011-10-28 The second volume in Storm Jameson s autobiography starts on the eve of the Second World War and encompasses Jameson s involvement as the first female president of PEN where she met all of the writers and artists of her day and was pivotal in helping refugee families get to Britain     Medieval Monasteries J. Patrick Greene,2005-10-01 This book provides an account of the archaeology of medieval monastic houses throughout Great Britain and Ireland The application of a wide range of archaeological techniques allied to historical investigation has awakened interest in monasteries Important new sources of information have transformed knowledge of monastic life As well as discussing many of the advances made by research over the last two decades innovative methods of archaeological investigation are described and examples of good practice in the preservation of sites and their interpretation to visitors are provided Suggestions for further research examples of outstanding monastic sites to visit a glossary of terms a comprehensive bibliography and an index are also included     Lonely Planet Israel & the Palestinian Territories Daniel Robinson,2022-10 Lonely Planet s Israel all with your trusted travel companion Get to the heart of Israel it s in every traveller s hands It s on mobile phones It s on the Internet It s everywhere and it s telling entire generations of people how to travel the world Fairfax Media Australia     Portmahomack: Monastery of the Picts Martin Carver,2008-07-01 During the 19th and 20th centuries a trail of chance finds on the outskirts of Portmahomack led to the first exposure in 1996 of a Pictish settlement in northern Scotland The area became the subject of one of the largest research excavations ever to have taken place on the Scottish mainland This book describes the discovery and excavation of an early monastery Dating from the 6th to the 9th century AD Portmahomack is one of the earliest Christian sites to be revealed in Britain and the first in the land of the Picts The monastery was destroyed between 780 and 830 AD and was then lost to history before being unearthed by one of the largest archaeological research projects ever seen in Scotland     Memoirs of the Geological Survey of India ,1922     Amelia Lambe and the Search for the Light Carl Hubbard,2018-08-10 Epitomizing the glamour and decadence of the era Amelia Lambe is the quintessential English free spirit an unlikely widow who knows the value of her sex and is not shy about using it Combining her sexual magnetism with wily panache Amelia uncovers the enemy within and annihilates men with an evil mission Throughout she is the sexual game player not some passive love interest The vengeful Meixmoron and his courting of the Nazis born of his hatred of the Americans follows his near death experience at the end of the Great War at the hands of the most decorated US airman His targeting of British searchlight stations is an untried Nazi plotline bearing a twenty first century resonance that hardly needs explaining Spanning locations from the Alps to Belfast and Hitlers Eagles Nest to the Himalayas the plot captures the essence of the times as the story unfolds across Scotland and Englands university and cathedral cities Amelias pursuit of the truth of her arms dealing husbands disappearance on the Cresta Run is matched only by her nemesiss plotting against the Americans and his accomplices misplaced efforts to help the Nazis to victory
