Sanitation Programmes Revisited:

Sanitation Programmes Revisited Darren Saywell, 2000-01-15 This WELL study Task 161 involved the review of two notable sanitation programmes the Strategic Sanitation Plan Kumasi Ghana and the National Low Cost Sanitation Programme Mozambique with a view to identifying where and why they had failed or succeeded some years after implementation The reports provides an historical review understanding of critical issues and a comparative analysis of the two programmes with a view to drawing out common and contrasting approaches and lessons learned Revisiting Targeting in Social Assistance Margaret Grosh, Phillippe Leite, Matthew Wai-Poi, Emil Tesliuc, 2022-06-02 Targeting is a commonly used but much debated policy tool within global social assistance practice Revisiting Targeting in Social Assistance A New Look at Old Dilemmas examines the well known dilemmas in light of the growing body of experience new implementation capacities and the potential to bring new data and data science to bear The book begins by considering why or whether or how narrowly or broadly to target different parts of social assistance and updates the global empirics around the outcomes and costs of targeting It illustrates the choices that must be made in moving from an abstract vision to implementable definitions and procedures and in deciding how the choices should be informed by values empirics and context The importance of delivery systems and processes to distributional outcomes are emphasized and many facets with room for improvement are discussed The book also explores the choices between targeting methods and how differences in purposes and contexts shape those The know how with respect to the data and inference used by the different household specific targeting methods is summarized and comprehensively updated including a focus on big data and machine learning A primer on measurement issues is included Key findings include the following Targeting selected categories families or individuals plays a valuable role within the framework of universal social protection Measuring the accuracy and cost of targeting can be done in many ways and judicious choices require a range of metrics Weighing the relatively low costs of targeting against the potential gains is important Implementing inclusive delivery systems is critical for reducing errors of exclusion and inclusion Selecting and customizing the appropriate targeting method depends on purpose and context there is no method preferred in all circumstances Leveraging advances in technology ICT big data artificial intelligence machine learning can improve targeting accuracy but they are not a panacea better data matters more than sophistication in inference Targeting social protection should be a dynamic process Integrated Water Resources Management in the 21st Century: Revisiting the paradigm Pedro Martinez-Santos, Maite M. Aldaya, M. Ramón Llamas, 2014-03-03 Integrated water resources management advocates a coordinated approach for managing water resources in a way that balances social and economic needs with concern for the environment While potentially useful integrated water management is also controversial Supporters believe that the multi dimensional nature of water can only be understood and managed Revisiting Ecuador's Economic and Social Agenda in an Evolving Landscape Vicente Fretes Cibils, Marcelo Giugale, Eduardo

Somensatto,2008 Ecuadorian society has overcome adversity with great determination over the past few years Periodic economic crises external shocks and even natural disasters tested the country s ability to cope with difficulties Despite these challenges the country has maintained a forward looking perspective and has achieved some important goals Economic stability in the last few years has ushered in a period of sustained economic growth During this period several development indicators have improved and several sectors of the economy have demonstrated the dynamism and entrepreneurship that is present in the Ecuadorian culture Revisiting Ecuador s Economic and Social Agenda in an Evolving Landscape aims to provoke a lively discussion between the World Bank the new Correa administration and the entire country in addressing the unresolved issues that require a thoughtful approach

Elizabeth D. Blum, 2008 Historical snapshots of the Love Canal area Gender at Love Canal Race at Love Canal Class at Love Canal Historical implications of gender race and class at Love Canal      REVISITING STRATEGIES FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT: an eConSus Book Series Vol. 2 Dr. Amitava Basu, Shri Rajarshi Das, Dr. Subharthi Sarkar, Mr. Kajal Maji, Dr. Binita Dutta, Dr. Nimai Chand Saha,      Waterlines , 2001      Federal Register Index , 2007      Recycling Reconsidered
Samantha Macbride, 2013-08-16 How the success and popularity of recycling has diverted attention from the steep environmental costs of manufacturing the goods we consume and discard Recycling is widely celebrated as an environmental success story The accomplishments of the recycling movement can be seen in municipal practice a thriving private recycling industry and widespread public support and participation In the United States more people recycle than vote But as Samantha MacBride points out in this book the goals of recycling saving the earth and trees conserving resources and greening the economy are still far from being realized The vast majority of solid wastes are still burned or buried MacBride argues that since the emergence of the recycling movement in 1970 manufacturers of products that end up in waste have successfully prevented the implementation of more onerous yet far more effective forms of sustainable waste policy Recycling as we know it today generates the illusion of progress while allowing industry to maintain the status quo and place responsibility on consumers and local government MacBride offers a series of case studies in recycling that pose provocative questions about whether the current ways we deal with waste are really the best ways to bring about real sustainability and environmental justice She does not aim to debunk or discourage recycling but to help us think beyond recycling as it is today

Maternalism Reconsidered Marian van der Klein, 2012 Beginning in the late 19th century competing ideas about motherhood had a profound impact on the development and implementation of social welfare policies Calls for programmes aimed at assisting and directing mothers emanated from all quarters of the globe advanced by states and voluntary organizations liberals and conservatives feminists and anti feminists a phenomenon that scholars have since termed maternalism This volume reassesses maternalism by providing critical reflections on prior usages of the concept and by expanding its meaning to encompass geographical areas political regimes and cultural concerns that scholars have rarely addressed From Argentina Brazil and Mexico City to France Italy the Netherlands the Soviet Ukraine the United States and Canada these case studies offer fresh theoretical and historical perspectives within a transnational and comparative framework As a whole the volume demonstrates how maternalist ideologies have been employed by state actors reformers and poor clients with myriad political and social ramifications      Planning in Cities Roger Zetter, Rodney R. White, 2002 In this collection that bridges theory and practice experts address the conflicting challenges of the increasingly rapid scale and speed of city growth and the problem of finding effective urban planning policies and management strategies to handle such challenges      Climate Change Adaptation in Pacific Countries Walter Leal Filho, 2017-02-07 This book showcases vital lessons learned from research field projects and best practice examples with regard to climate change adaptation in countries throughout the Pacific region a part of the planet that is particularly vulnerable to and affected by climate change The book s primary goals are to document the wealth of experiences in the region available today to encourage cross sector interactions among the various stakeholders in the region and to help transfer results to other countries and regions Accordingly it gathers a set of papers presented at a symposium on climate change adaptation held in Fiji in July 2016 focusing on Fostering Resilience and Improving the Quality of Life In these contributions local and international experts present a variety of initiatives showing how Pacific countries are coping with the many problems associated with climate change including initiatives in education and awareness work taking place across the region operational aspects and their implications for policy making and challenges in urban and rural areas

Diverting the Flow Margreet Zwarteveen, Sara Ahmed, Suman Rimal Gautam, 2014-03-11 Across the South Asian region water determines livelihoods and in some cases even survival However water also creates exclusions Access to water and its social organisation are intimately tied up with power relations This book provides an overview of gender equity and water issues relevant to South Asia The essays empirically illustrate and theoretically argue how gender intersects with other axes of social difference such as class caste ethnicity age and religion to shape water access use and management practices Divided into six thematic sections each of which starts with an introduction of relevant concepts debates and theories the book looks at laws and rights policies technologies and intervention strategies In all the book clearly shows how understanding and changing the use distribution and management of water is conditional upon understanding and accommodating gender relations Published by Zubaan      Extension Education and Development Mr. Rohit Manglik,2023-07-23 In this book we will study about outreach education models rural development and techniques for transferring knowledge to communities      Consumer Protection Would be Increased by Improving the Administration of Intrastate Meat Plant Inspection Programs United States. General Accounting Office,1973      Environmental Problems in an Urbanizing World Jorge E. Hardoy,Diana Mitlin,David Satterthwaite,2013-11-05 New edition of Environmental Problems in Third World Cities Cities in Africa Asia and Latin America contain some of the world s most life and health threatening human environments Environment related diseases and injuries cause millions of preventable deaths each year In many squatter settlements children are 40 to 50 times more likely to die before the age of five than they would be in Europe or North America and most such deaths are environment related Many cities also cause serious environmental degradation to their surroundings and increasingly contribute to global warming This updated and much expanded edition of the classic Environmental Problems in Third World Cities describes environmental problems and their effect on human health local ecosystems and global cycles It points to the political causes that underpin many of these problems including ineffective unaccountable governments and aid agencies reluctance to work with the urban poor It also highlights innovative solutions such as High quality low cost homes and neighbourhoods developed by urban poor groups working with local non governmental organizations Local Agenda 21s developed by municipal governments in partnership with community organizations In their analysis the authors show that cities can meet sustainable development goals There are practical affordable solutions to their environmental problems but most of these depend on more competent and accountable city governments and on more support for low income households and their organizations The book also outlines the changes needed international aid agencies to support this PRAISE FOR THE FIRST EDITION It s rare to encounter a work as authoritative and accessible as this It is a mine of useful information from cities in every corner of the Third World which does not shy away from the immensity of the problems but says as much about the solutions to them as about the problems themselves Jonathon Porritt Well written and very accessible The Geographical Journal Of value to students teachers practitioners policy makers and aid agencies Third World Planning Review A valuable resource for understanding the underlying problems this book offers practical alternatives Cities International      Wagadu Volume 3 Wagadu,2007-09-26 The United Nations has proclaimed the 21st century to be the century of water In this volume Water and Women in Past Present and Future scholars analyze the gendered political economy of water resource allocations and importantly offer recommendations for viable women friendly solutions to address scarcity and distribution among other issues Contributors also explore feminist analyses of the aesthetic dimension of water and the feminine since water is often associated with women shown in cross cultural examples of mythology symbols and legends Intersecting the fields of hydro politics and aesthetics this book should be of interest to policy analysts activists and academics
