Bowers, Alan R. Shoho, Bruce G. Barnett, 2015-09-01 As the sixth volume in the International Research on School Leadership series the contributing authors in this volume consider the history challenges and opportunities of the field of research and practice in educational leadership and administration in schools and districts Ten years after the work of Firestone and Riehl 2005 and their contributing authors our aim with the present volume was to summarize and update the work of the field and provide a space to consider the multiple futures of educational leadership in schools and districts as both challenges and opportunities The first decade of the twenty first century brought significant critiques challenges and competition to the research and practice of training leaders and administrators of schools and districts around the world Congruently the field experienced significant growth and change as multiple new sub domains flourished and were founded Thus in this volume we were delighted to included excellent chapters from multiple authors that considered the duality of the challenges and opportunities of The work of the field of educational leadership and administration research to date The opportunities and challenges of new visions of leadership in traditional and non traditional schools The evolving state of research evidence in educational leadership and the increasing sophistication of multiple methodologies including qualitative research quantitative modeling the ability to test theory and the increasing opportunities brought on by the intersection of data research and practice The preparation of educational leaders And the emerging trends in the professional development of school leaders The authors of the nine chapters in the present book volume took on this challenge of confronting the duality of not only including the past as we look to the future but also the duality of the critique of the field in the midst of exciting and significant progress in our knowledge and understanding of leadership in schools In the first section of the book Chapters 2 3 and 4 the authors examine the interplay of educational leadership research and theory as it relates to reform in schools especially as it relates to serving historically underserved populations globally In section 2 Chapters 5 and 6 the authors highlight the importance of methodological considerations in school leadership research as a means to understand theory and practice as well as providing interesting avenues that point to multiple exciting future possibilities through relying on current innovations noted within the chapters Section 3 Chapters 7 and 8 examine the research and practice of school leadership preparation especially as it relates to university district partnerships and non traditional school settings And in the final chapter Chapter 9 our capstone contributor provides a means to link the present volume with the past writings on these topics while also providing a lens to view the exciting possibilities and promises of the multiple futures of the field of educational leadership research and practice

Making Chemistry Relevant Sharmistha Basu-Dutt,2010-02-19 Unique new approaches for making chemistry accessible to diverse students Students interest and achievement in academics improve dramatically when they make connections between what they are learning and the potential uses of that knowledge in the workplace and or in the world at large Making Chemistry Relevant presents a unique collection of strategies that have been used successfully in chemistry classrooms to create a learner sensitive environment that enhances academic achievement and social competence of students Rejecting rote memorization the book proposes a cognitive constructivist philosophy that casts the teacher as a facilitator helping students to construct solutions to problems Written by chemistry professors and research groups from a wide variety of colleges and universities the book offers a number of creative ways to make chemistry relevant to the student including Teaching science in the context of major life issues and STEM professions Relating chemistry to current events such as global warming pollution and terrorism Integrating science research into the undergraduate laboratory curriculum Enriching the learning experience for students with a variety of learning styles as well as accommodating the visually challenged students Using media hypermedia games and puzzles in the teaching of chemistry Both novice and experienced faculty alike will find valuable ideas ready to be applied and adapted to enhance the learning experience of all their students

Unlearned Lessons Barbara Z. Presseisen,1985 Secondary Schools in Canada Jane Stobo Gaskell,1995 Program examines exemplary practices in seven of the schools studied in the Exemplary Schools Project

Authentic Assessment in Action Linda Darling-Hammond,Beverly F. Falk,Jacqueline Ancess,2017-10-05 This book examines through case studies of elementary and secondary schools how five schools have developed authentic performance based assessments of students learning and how this work has interacted with and influenced the teaching and learning experiences students encounter in school This important and timely book reveals the changing dynamics of classroom life as it moves from more traditional pedagogy to one that asks students to master intellectual and practical skills that are eminently transferable to real life social settings and workplaces The issue of assessment comes first but we see in the following case studies how it becomes powerfully enveloped in the processes of learning and teaching of informing students teachers parents and others of how the children are doing The portraits explicitly and implicitly suggest a deep fair and defensible way to answer the question How m I doing in a manner that helps this child and eventually every child From the Foreword by Theodore R Sizer Informative and thought provoking American Journal of Education Jsl Vol 5-N2 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP,1995-03-01 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice teach courses on school leadership and policy use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement The Power of Teacher Leaders Nathan Bond,2014-07-25 Co published with Kappa Delta Pi The Power of Teacher Leaders provides a comprehensive resource for understanding the ways that teacher leaders foster positive change in their schools Distinct from school administrators teacher leaders are professionals who remain in the classroom and use their specialized knowledge and skills to improve student achievement influence others and build organizational capacity Written by leading educational researchers each chapter of The Power of Teacher Leaders describes a different way that teachers are leading Moving beyond the question of why teacher leaders are important and how such work is implemented the contributing scholars to this collection offer a critical examination of the field by presenting original research case studies and programs in practice Topics covered include how teachers become leaders their wide ranging leadership roles and the effects of teacher leadership on student academic success and school communities A cohesive edited collection this book demonstrates how teacher leaders play an increasingly active role in the improvement of student learning teacher professional development and school climate

Resources in Education ,2001 Global Education Reform Frank Adamson,Bjorn Astrand,Linda

Darling-Hammond,2016-03-02 With contributions from Linda Darling Hammond Michael Fullan Pasi Sahlberg and Martin Carnoy Global Education Reform is an eye opening analysis of national educational reforms and the types of high achieving systems needed to serve all students equitably The collection documents the ideologically and educationally distinctive approaches countries around the world have taken to structuring their education systems Focusing on three pairs of case studies written by internationally acclaimed experts the book provides a powerful analysis of the different ends of an ideological spectrum from strong state investments in public education to market based approaches An introductory chapter offers an overview of the theories guiding both neoliberal reforms such as those implemented in Chile Sweden and the United States with efforts to build strong and equitable public education systems as exemplified by Cuba Finland and Canada The pairs of case studies that follow examine the historical evolution of education within an individual country and compare and contrast national educational outcomes A concluding chapter dissects the educational outcomes of the differing economic and governance approaches as well as the policy implications

Middle Grades Curriculum Kathleen Roney, Richard P. Lipka, 2013-05-01 High stakes testing standards and accountability politics is taking us away from the importance of the affective domain in curriculum development This critical learning domain is often an unrecognized and infrequently considered topic in the literature Through this book we extend the current knowledge base by addressing a curriculum model developed in the 1980s We add a 2012 knowledge base as we delineate the role of self perceptions in school related learning how middle level curriculum affects self perceptions and the type of curriculum planning which enhances self perceptions and improves learning in the cognitive affective and psychomotor domains The combination of sound psychological principles and practical teaching and curriculum suggestions with an empirical basis makes the book attractive to both higher education and local school professional libraries In the former it will serve as the primary text in graduate and advanced undergraduate middle level education programs and practices courses It might also be a primary text in courses or workshops in affective education or other experiences which emphasize affective values and self concept It also has potential as a supplementary text in undergraduate educational psychology courses At the in service level this book could be used as a workshop resource or as a professional reference for middle level teachers administrators curriculum workers and supervisors Our interest in young adolescents and their school setting coincides with the fourth edition of This We Believe NMSA 2010 The self enhancing school is characterized by from to statements for example from avoiding parents to working with parents Using theory and research we discuss the costs of staying in the from position and the benefits derived from moving to the to position By combining educational psychology and curriculum development we make a unique contribution to middle grades curriculum developers
