Shadows in the Sea Harold Weber McCormick, Thomas B. Allen, 1963 Shadows in the Sea Thomas B. Allen, 1996

Shadows in the Sea Harold W. McCormick, 2017-08-08 Captain Young and I for some years have been gathering material from all over the world about the Selachians the Sharks Skates Rays and their allies of which there are more than 600 known species We originally intended merely to update Captain Young's book Shark published by Gotham House in 1934 and now a collector's item but as the material ever expanded it was decided that an entirely new book covering a much broader field was needed. Material was collected from all over the world for many years When Captain Young and I felt that the research was nearly completed we called upon Tom Allen an experienced newspaperman to aid us in transforming the research material into a book Tom and I continued the research up to and beyond the completion of the manuscript Tom also did further research and added new material in the course of writing the book In all scientific classifications the Selachians are separated clearly from the Teleosteans or Bony Fishes and there are even leading ichthyologists who do not regard the former as fishes at all but rather as representing a separate and distinct Class of animal life Shadows in the Sea Harold Weber McCormick, Thomas Benton Allen, 1963 Shadows in the Sea. The Sharks, Skates and Rays. Illustrated. [By] Harold W. McCormick and Tom Allen with Captain William E. Young Harold Weber MACCORMICK, Thomas Benton ALLEN, William Edward YOUNG, 1964 Sharks, Skates, Rays, and Chimaeras John Richard Thompson, Stewart Springer, 1965 The Sharks of North America Jose I. Castro, 2011-07-28 A complete reference to all the sharks inhabiting North American waters with excellent color illustrations of all the species The Devil's Teeth Susan Casey, 2006-05-30 Presents the author's first hand account of her stay on the Farallon Islands in the shark infested waters thirty miles west of San Francisco and includes information on the sharks behavior and scientists who study them The Real Jaws Rachel Lee Perez, 2025-08-30 Explores the 1916 New Jersey shark attacks their impact on shark fear and how media shaped harmful misconceptions In the Summer of 1916 a series of shark attacks along the New Jersey shore would send shockwaves across its otherwise peaceful beach towns Spanning a terrifying two weeks including the deaths of nearly five people these attacks would officially cement an innate fear of sharks that humans have felt since the beginning of time Although initially kept under wraps by the tourism industry these attacks would ultimately plaster the front pages of newspapers across the United States and even overseas As the news spread the line between fact and fiction blurred reshaping our cultural and scientific understanding of the beasts of the ocean It was the 1916 shark attacks that would establish our modern day misconstrued perception of sharks as evil man eating monsters and would later inspire the film Jaws which would perpetuate the same harmful narrative The Real Jaws takes an in depth look at each one of the attacks and how they instilled a centuries long fear of the ocean's apex predator It explores the various theories explaining why these attacks may have occurred and the probability of something like this happening again And finally it analyses the way the harmful misconceptions derived from films like Jaws have redefined humanity's relationship with sharks leading humans to become the predators and sharks to become the prey

The Marine Aquarist, 1977 Sharks and People Thomas P. Peschak, 2014-02-27 At once feared and revered sharks have captivated people since our earliest human encounters Children and adults alike stand awed before aquarium shark tanks fascinated by the giant teeth and unnerving eyes And no swim in the ocean is undertaken without a slight shiver of anxiety about the very real and very cinematic dangers of shark bites But our interactions with sharks are not entirely one sided the threats we pose to sharks through fisheries organized hunts and gill nets on coastlines are more deadly and far reaching than any bite In Sharks and People acclaimed wildlife photographer Thomas Peschak presents stunning photographs that capture the relationship between people and sharks around the globe A contributing photographer to National Geographic Peschak is best known for his unusual photographs of sharks his iconic image of a great white shark following a researcher in a small yellow kayak is one of the most recognizable shark photographs in the world The other images gathered here are no less riveting bringing us as close as possible to sharks in the wild Alongside the photographs Sharks and People tells the compelling story of the natural history of sharks Sharks have roamed the oceans for more than four hundred million years and in this time they have never stopped adapting to the ever changing world their unique cartilage skeletons and array of super senses mark them as one of the most evolved groups of animals Scientists have recently discovered that sharks play an important role in balancing the ocean including maintaining the health of coral reefs Yet tens of millions of sharks are killed every year just to fill the demand for shark fin soup alone Today more than sixty species of sharks including hammerhead mako and oceanic white tip sharks are listed as vulnerable or in danger of extinction The need to understand the significant part sharks play in the oceanic ecosystem has never been so urgent and Peschak's photographs bear witness to the thrilling strength and unique attraction of sharks They are certain to enthrall and inspire

Shark Richard Ellis, 2012-04-17 The sharks ancient or modern real or imaginary have always been with us and will probably remain with us forever They appear not only in movies and literature but in countless permutations of size shape and materials permeating our daily lives with their silent menace In a sense humans live in a world replete with sharks not vice versa Thus Richard Ellis sets about chronicling and debunking the myths of sharks throughout history From 18th century art to the phenomena of JAWS the shark has remained the indomitable aggressor of the deep the last demon of humankind The image of the shark and the fear it inspires infiltrates our daily lives with its mythical power and strength But it is not man who should fear the shark Our need to dominate these predators is destroying them and their habitat Through hundreds of full color images Ellis proves the necessity of preserving these majestic creatures As curator of the Ft Lauderdale Museum of Art's exhibition entitled Shark debuting May 2012 Ellis adeptly turns these sleek efficient hunters from monsters of the deep into rare beautiful forces of nature
