The Royal Navy, China Station: 1864 - 1941 Jonathan Parkinson, 2018-02-20 A definitive history of the Royal Navy's China Station In the The Navy List for April 1864 the China Station was first shown as a separate Royal Navy Station It remained as such until the outbreak of the Pacific War in December 1941 which was to signal the end of that era In addition to a precis of the lives and naval careers of each of the Commanders in Chief of the China Station this volume also gives relevant information outlining something of the concurrent internal affairs of China and Japan Both are very different but sad tales the former in decline towards the end of the Manchu Ching dynasty and then into the chaotic 1920s and 1930s and the latter increasingly adopting a militaristic attitude which was to result in their disaster of the Pacific War of 1941 1945 As a reminder of these days long gone are interwoven brief references to the British Consular Service This is especially relevant for China and for a shorter period for Japan during that era of extraterritoriality Mention is also made of the British Colonial Service with whom necessarily the Navy worked very closely In addition being one important reason for it all frequent references are made to a few British shipping and trading interests together with those of some other nations All of these areas are linked together to give a definitive history of this very important Royal Navy Station
