Wiener, Brian H. Bornstein, Steven L. Willborn, 2008-10-09 Robert F Schopp Recent Supreme Court decisions categorically preclude the application of capital punishment to convicted offenders who were below the age of eighteen or mentally 1 retarded at the time they committed the crimes for which they were sentenced Neither opinion suggests that offenders in these categories cannot be criminally responsible for their offenses and the Atkins opinion explicitly recognizes that some mentally 2 retarded offenders can qualify as criminally responsible for their offenses In each case part of the reasoning in support of the exemption from capital sentences purports to show that capital punishment of these offenders would serve neither the retributive 3 nor the deterrent functions of criminal punishment Both opinions focus substantial attention on the retributive rationale contending that these offenders lack sufficient 4 culpability blameworthiness or depravity to merit capital punishment The opinions recognize that a categorical bar for all offenders below a specified age or level of intelligence might exempt some individuals who do not lack culpability sufficient to justify capital sentences The opinions draw categorical rules however to avoid the risk that some individuals who lack sufficient culpability to deserve capital punish 5 ment will be misidentified as sufficiently culpable to merit capital sentences The dissenting opinions in each case recognize that offenders in these categories have limitations that render them less culpable on average than unimpaired offenders who commit similar crimes Disease Control Priorities, Third Edition (Volume 3) Hellen Gelband, Prabhat Jha, Rengaswamy Sankaranarayanan, Susan Horton, 2015-10-29 Volume 3 Cancer presents the complex patterns of cancer incidence and death around the world and evidence on effective and cost effective ways to control cancers The DCP3 evaluation of cancer will indicate where cancer treatment is ineffective and wasteful and offer alternative cancer care packages that are cost effective and suited to low resource settings Main messages from the volume include Quality matters in all aspects of cancer treatment and palliation Cancer registries that track incidence mortality and survival paired with systems to capture causes of death are important to understanding the national cancer burden and the effect of interventions over time Effective interventions exist at a range of prices Adopting resource appropriate measures which allow the most effective treatment for the greatest number of people will be advantageous to countries Prioritizing resources toward early stage and curable cancers is likely to have the greatest health impact in low income settings Research prioritization is no longer just a global responsibility Providing cancer treatment requires adequate numbers of trained healthcare professionals and infrastructure beyond what is available in most LMICs especially low income countries Careful patient monitoring is a requirement of good quality cancer care and this often involves laboratory tests in addition to clinical examination Even if financing were immediately available to build or expand a cancer control system

Historical Archaeology of Childhood and Parenting April Kamp-Whittaker, Jamie J. Devine, Suzanne M. Spencer-Wood, 2024-04-12 The study of childhood in historical archaeology enriches interpretations of the past but also has the potential for contributing to the understanding of methodological and theoretical issues in archaeology Archaeologically children are understudied relative to both their demographic and social importance partly because children are viewed as difficult to discern in the archaeological record Historical archaeology with its access to historical documents to supplement and illuminate archaeological evidence provides an opportunity to gain a greater understanding of the ways children's daily lives in the past were expressed in historically changing types and patterns of material culture Recent research presented in this volume contributes valuable perspectives for conceptualizing the historically changing social nature of childhood and methods for illuminating the roles of children Case studies are designed to illustrate methodological and theoretical advances in the historical archaeology of materialized experiences discourses identities places and their meanings associated with parenting and childhood The volume is organized into three sections devoted to case studies about 1 how childhood and parenting have been socially constructed cross culturally and temporally 2 social ideologies of childhood in contested spaces and 3 the relationship between children's experiences and adult expectations of childhood Each chapter demonstrates advances in current methods or theories used in the archaeology of childhood A final discussant drawn from the broader field of research on the archaeology of childhood provides a commentary on the ways the perspectives provided in the volume can be employed by researchers outside the sub discipline of historical archaeology Regional Comparisons in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies Iris Geva-May, B. Guy Peters, Joselyn Muhleisen, 2020-06-29 Volume Three of the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis contains chapters concerned with Regional Comparisons and Policy Analysis one of the most prevailing approaches in comparative public policy Through the prism of inter jurisdiction comparisons of similarities and variations they address comparisons in specific policy sectors governance or institutional constructs and political regimes The foci are nevertheless on those comparisons between countries or regions which help to lesson draw by identifying and understanding the variation in policy analysis and policy making that exists within or across regions One benefit of regional comparisons is that it often allows studies to hold constant many variables ranging from colonial legacy to federal systems or from language to specific traditions and more effectively isolate dependent variables Regional organizations like the Organization for Economic Co operation and Development OECD or European Union are also considered as catalysts for regional policy approaches and harmonization and occupy a major role in this volume The chapters address a broad and diverse number of countries and geographical areas Latin America North America East Asia Southeast Asia Southern Africa the Baltic states the Nordic states Western Europe Central Europe Eastern Europe and Europe as a whole Regional Comparisons and Policy Analysis will be of great interest to scholars and learners of public policy and social sciences as well as to practitioners considering what can be learned or facilitated through methodologically and theoretically sound approaches The chapters were originally published as articles in the Journal of Comparative Policy Analysis which in the last two decades has pioneered the development of comparative public policy The volume is part of a four volume series the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis including Theories and Methods Institutions and Governance Regional Comparisons and Policy Sectors Each volume showcases a different new chapter comparing domains of study interrelated with comparative public policy political science public administration governance and policy design authored by the JCPA co editors Giliberto Capano Iris Geva May Michael Howlett Leslie A Pal and B Guy Peters

Forging New Frontiers: Fuzzy Pioneers I Masoud Nikravesh,Lofti A. Zadeh,2007-09-27 The 2005 BISC International Special Event BISCSE 05 Forging the frontiers was held in the University of California Berkeley Where fuzzy logic began from November 3 6 2005 The successful applications of fuzzy logic and it s rapid growth suggest that the impact of fuzzy logic will be felt increasingly in coming years Fuzzy logic is likely to play an especially important role in science and engineering but eventually its influence may extend much farther In many ways fuzzy logic represents a significant paradigm shift in the aims of computing a shift which reflects the fact that the human mind unlike present day computers possesses a remarkable ability to store and process information which is pervasively imprecise uncertain and lacking in categoricity The chapters of the book are evolved from presentations made by selected participants at the meeting and organized in two books The papers include reports from the different front of soft computing in various industries and address the problems of different fields of research in fuzzy logic fuzzy set and soft computing The book provides a collection of forty four 44 articles in two volumes
