New Perspectives On Social Class And Socioeconomic Development In The Periphery:

New Perspectives on Social Class and Socioeconomic Development in the Periphery Nelson Keith, Novella Keith, 1988-03-25 This provocative new volume focuses on the economic features that make Third World social formations distinctive and on non property characteristics such as religion ethnicity and culture that are central to the survival of these societies Specifically the authors look at the significance and revolutionary potential of peasant majorities who take limited advantage of capitalist modes of production and often manage to maintain their cultural and economic identity and a degree of independence in the process Following the editors introduction which explains the conceptual framework for the study the historical and structural causes for the weakness of the basic capitalist classes in the periphery the underdeveloped national regions are examined The next several chapters deal with the evolution of classes and institutions in the periphery the articulation of peasantries within capitalist and socialist societies and the reasons for the resilience of peasant modes of production Other topics discussed are the role of the state capitalist of socialist in class formation the relationship between the socialist state and the peasantry variables in social transformation in the periphery and the place of the urban poor in Third World development

Inequality, Socio-cultural Differentiation and Social Structures in Africa Dieter Neubert, 2019-06-25 This book contends that conventional class concepts are not able to adequately capture social inequality and socio cultural differentiation in Africa Earlier empirical findings concerning ethnicity neo traditional authorities patron client relations lifestyles gender social networks informal social security and even the older debate on class in Africa have provided evidence that class concepts do not apply yet these findings have mostly been ignored For an analysis of the social structures and persisting extreme inequality in African societies and in other societies of the world we need to go beyond class consider the empirical realities and provincialise our conventional theories This book develops a new framework for the analysis of social structure based on empirical findings and more nuanced approaches including livelihood analysis and intersectionality and will be useful for students and scholars in African studies and development studies sociology social anthropology political science and geography

Poverty and Income Distribution in Latin America George Psacharopoulos, 1997-01-01 Highly empirical analysis documents increase in poverty and worsening of income distribution during 1980s Demonstrates that low levels of education increase incidence of poverty and income inequality Data provided for individual countries Valuable data reference source Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57

In the Shadow of History Andrew Davidson, 2018-01-16 The spread of modernity throughout the non Western world has had transformative effects not only on governments and economies but on the lives of individuals as well The constraints and opportunities of modernization inevitably lead to the breakdown and supplanting of older social relations and livelihoods In this volume Andrew P Davidson examines the Nuba Mountain region of western Sudan to show how individuals and families struggle to maintain or expand their well being in the face of continuous uncertainty when control of their destinies is increasingly slipping out of the comforting confines of the village As in many third world regions changes in agriculture and market activity have occurred in the Nuba mountains in a far more compressed time frame than in Europe Davidson charts the social effects of the rationalization process by concentrating on the household as a mediating structure between the individual and the larger society In his analysis the livelihood strategies of households act as a microcosm for the unevenness of development that is characteristic of modernizing economies Davidson offers a comparative and historical examination of economic life in three villages in order to better understand the capacities and limitations that ultimately condition what people can and cannot do He shows how the older lineage system based on communalism kinship and age based hierarchy is being displaced by new forces of social organization and individual orientation which have eroded village cohesion and left the Nuba vulnerable to the Islamic dominated government in Khartoum and the ravages of the continuing Sudanese civil war In its combination of empirical analysis ethnographic fieldwork and theoretical inquiry In the Shadow of History reconceptualizes development in such a way that the dynamics of historical transformation are made clear This study in the classic anthropological tradition will be a valuable resource for anthropologists economists historians and Africa area specialists

The Brazilian Popular Church and the Crisis of Modernity Manuel A. Vasquez, 1998 This 1997 study explores one of the most dramatic current interactions between religion and politics the development of progressive Catholicism in Latin America In particular it examines economic social and religious obstacles to progressive theology in Brazil This popular church built a utopian vision of social emancipation drawing on Catholic social thought humanistic Marxism and existentialism It was a major democratizing force as Brazil emerged from dictatorship in the late 1970s In the 1980s however the popular appeal of progressive Catholicism came under threat Focusing on a Catholic community near Rio de Janeiro Manuel A Vasquez's incisive study shows how economic and political changes have affected religious practices and argues that the plight of progressive Catholicism in Brazil forms part of a wider crisis of modernity and of humanist discourses

Historical Dictionary of Sierra Leone Magbaily C. Fyle, 2006-03-27 Sierra Leone was founded albeit under British control with the highest hopes of being a refuge for liberated Africans and freed slaves When the country received its independence hopes for the future grew even stronger Alas its expectations came crashing down when the country's situation grew steadily worse after repeated military interventions and a devastating ten year civil war that raged throughout the 1990s Now that the war is over there is once again renewed cause for optimism about the country's future as Sierra Leone becomes an active participant in African and world affairs This new edition is based primarily on recent research on the country but covers the earliest known inhabitants the colonial era and the period of independence including the very confusing turmoil of the recent past The chronology briefly traces its history and the introduction provides an essential overview of all the recent developments in the country Hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries describe significant leaders events political parties and movements ethnic groups and related political economic and social aspects A bibliography is included to facilitate further research      African Ethnicity Agyemang Attah-Poku,1998 Discusses ethnicity in Africa in terms of history and the management resolution and prevention of conflicts Groups some 700 ethnic groups that exist in Africa into six main categories looks at how ethnicity was used to organize and protect chiefdoms and empires in the past and inquires into why ethnicity has become more destructive in contemporary Africa Investigates these questions using the imperial the liberal and Marxist models and finds the liberal model to be the most applicable Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR      Books in Series, 1876-1949 R.R. Bowker Company,1982      Annual Report - Research School of Pacific Studies Australian National University. Research School of Pacific Studies,1981      Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Richard Higgott,Richard Robison,2013-10-31 The articles in this edited collection first published in 1985 consider the competing theories of the nature of development and underdevelopment in Southeast Asia Each chapter challenges the academic orthodoxies and dominant traditions of Southeast Asian studies particularly in relation to orientalist history behaviourist political science and development economics Overall the contributions offer an alternative framework for analysis which considers the structural changes to the political economy of Southeast Asia as well as the relationship between the state economy and class at a domestic level This is a fascinating collection of value to students and academics with an interest in Southeast Asian politics economics and history      The Informal Economy of San Antonio's "Westside" Suse Bohley,1990      Southeast Asian Research in the Research School of Pacific Studies Australian National University.
