Democratic Citizenship and War Yoav Peled, Noah Lewin-Epstein, Guy Mundlak, Jean Cohen, 2014-06-03 This edited volume explores the theoretical and practical implications of war and terror situations for citizenship in democratic states Citizenship is a key concept in Western political thought for defining the individual's relations with society The specific nature of these rights duties and contributions as well the relations between them are determined by the citizenship discourses that prevail in each society In wartime including low intensity wars democratic societies face different challenges than the ones facing them during peacetime in areas such as human rights the status of minorities the state's obligations to its citizens and the meaning of social solidarity War situations can affect not only the scope of citizenship as an institution but also the relations between the prevailing discourses of citizenship and between different groups of citizens Since 9 11 and the declaration of the war on terror many democracies have been grappling with issues rising out of the interface between citizenship and war This volume examines the effects of war on various aspects of citizenship practice including immigration and naturalization the welfare state individual liberties gender relations multiculturalism social solidarity and state civil society relations This book will be of great interest to students of military studies political science IR and security studies in general

Between Sex and Power Göran Therborn, 2004 The institution of the family changed hugely during the course of the twentieth century In this major new work Göran Therborn provides a global history and sociology of the family as an institution and of politics within the family focusing on three dimensions of family relations on the rights and powers of fathers and husbands on marriage cohabitation and extra marital sexuality and on population policy Therborn's empirical analysis uses a multi disciplinary approach to show how the major family systems of the world have been formed and developed Therborn concludes by assessing what changes the family might see during the next century This book will be essential reading for anybody with an interest in either the sociology or the history of the family

NGOs and Transnational Networks William E. DeMars, 2005-04-20 Non Governmental Organisations and their networks are proliferating in all regions of the world They address every transnational issue from population to peace human rights to species rights genocide to AIDS Supporters claim NGOs are effective in achieving their goals while detractors counter that NGO power is paltry compared to governments and corporations Challenging both views DeMars irreverently reveals the political claims implicit in every transnational NGO They are best conceptualised he argues not in terms of either principles or power but through the partners they make in transnational society and politics NGOs and transnational networks institutionalise conflict as much as cooperation and reshape states and societies often inadvertently NGOs have overthrown dictators provided life support for collapsed states and reengineered the family Their historical origins contrast sharply with current realities and show signs of radical change in the future

Abortion, Sin and the State in Thailand Andrea Whittaker, 2004-07-29 This book discusses abortion in a non Western non Christian context in Thailand where over 300 000

illegal abortions are performed each year by a variety of methods The book based on extensive original research in the field examines a wide range of issues including stories of the real life dilemmas facing women popular representations of abortion in the media the history of the debate in Thailand and its links to politics Overall the work highlights the voices of women and their subjective experiences and perceptions of abortion and places these women s stories in an analysis of broader socio political gender and power relations that structure sexuality and women s reproductive health decisions Regulating Reproduction Emily Jackson,2001-10-10 This new book provides a clear and accessible analysis of the various ways in which human reproduction is regulated A comprehensive exposition of the law relating to birth control abortion pregnancy childbirth surrogacy and assisted conception is accompanied by an exploration of some of the complex ethical dilemmas that emerge when one of the most intimate areas of human life is subjected to regulatory control Throughout the book two principal themes recur First particular emphasis is placed upon the special difficulties that arise in regulating new technological intervention in all aspects of the reproductive process Second the concept of reproductive autonomy is both interrogated and defended This book offers a readable and engaging account of the complex relationships between law technology and reproduction It will be useful for lecturers and students taking medical law or ethics courses It should also be of interest to anyone with a more general interest in women s bodies and the law or with the profound regulatory consequences of new technologies The New Pacific Community in the 1990s Young Jeh Kim,2016-09-16 With the end of the Cold War and the subsequent new regional alignments American foreign policy and influence in the Asia Pacific region face a major turning point In this book ten North American specialists from various disciplines reconceptualize the forces shaping the New Pacific Community international politics as a by product of peaceful cooperation the changing role of the military the political economy as a determinant of human rights environmental and demographic issues and culture as an evolutionary and dynamic phenomenon in the lives of new immigrants as they make their way in American society

Reading History Sideways Arland Thornton,2013-09-27 European and American scholars from the eighteenth through the mid twentieth centuries thought that all societies passed through the same developmental stages from primitive to advanced Implicit in this developmental paradigm one that has affected generations of thought on societal development was the assumption that one could read history sideways That is one could see what the earlier stages of a modern Western society looked like by examining contemporaneous so called primitive societies in other parts of the world In Reading History Sideways leading family scholar Arland Thornton demonstrates how this approach though long since discredited has permeated Western ideas and values about the family Further its domination of social science for centuries caused the misinterpretation of Western trends in family structure marriage fertility and parent child relations Revisiting the developmental fallacy Thornton here traces its central role in changes in the Western world from marriage to gender roles to adolescent sexuality Through public policies aid programs and colonialism it continues to reshape families in non Western societies as well      The Oxford Companion to Politics of the World Joel Krieger,2001-08-02 The world has seen dramatic changes since the publication of the first edition of The Oxford Companion to Politics of the World in 1993 In the post Cold War world globalization now offers wealth and opportunities on a broader scale as well as greater international harmony but threatens to reinforce the advantage gap between wealthy and poor regions and intensify environmental degradation Conflict and squalor expressed in brutal brushfire wars epidemics and chronic underdevelopment vie with equally dramatic accounts of growth and democracy associated with a liberal political order and the global diffusion of trade investment and communications Drawing on the breadth of the first edition this updated edition reflects the changing world with a reassessment of many of the core themes of the Companion and new articles on the people concepts and events that have shaped the world since 1993 The second edition includes biographies of Kofi Annan Tony Blair Bill Clinton and Gerhard Schröder articles on events such as the Rwandan Genocide and the war in Kosovo and coverage of international trade developments such as NAFTA and the World Trade Organization Eighty seven of the 672 articles in the Second Edition are completely new most others are thoroughly revised This edition also features a substantial new set of articles a dozen essays on critical issues written by influential figures Recognizing the importance of including varying viewpoints the editors have commissioned these essays to provide an informed and often passionate debate on controversial topics Discussions include Lani Guinier and Glenn Loury on Affirmative Action Francis Fukuyama and Milton Fisk on the Limits of Liberal Democracy and Lloyd Axworthy and John Bolton on the United Nations The contributors discuss nearly every nation in the world including extensive information on institutions political parties leaders and the sources of political mobilization and conflict The volume also includes biographies of more than seventy five political leaders and thinkers who have shaped the contemporary political world Articles include detailed discussions of critical historical developments and events concepts international law and organizations The Oxford Companion to Politics of the World Second Edition is an accessible timely thought provoking and comprehensive reference that captures the complexity and vitality of contemporary world affairs

Current Awareness Bulletin ,1994      Margaret Sanger's Eugenic Legacy Angela Franks,2014-12-24 Margaret Sanger the American birth control and population control advocate who founded Planned Parenthood stands like a giant among her contemporaries With her dominating yet winning personality she helped generate shifts of opinion on issues that were not even publicly discussed prior to her activism while her leadership was arguably the single most important factor in achieving social and legislative victories that set the parameters for today's political discussion of family planning funding population control aid and even sex education This work addresses Sanger's ideas concerning birth control eugenics population control and sterilization against the backdrop of the larger eugenic context      Women's Minds, Women's Bodies G. Boswell,F. Poland,2002-12-02 The most positive approaches to women's health frequently emerge from women's own endeavours to achieve physical and mental balance in their lives Abandoning the artificiality of subject divides this book engages with that ethos Drawing on the experience of an interdisciplinary women's health initiative Gwyneth Boswel and Fiona Poland I have assembled a formidable range of academic and professional experts in this highly accessible collection Concepts of health are explored across disciplines which include psychology law history health economics nursing counselling social work and sociology

The Global Spread of Fertility Decline Jay Winter, Michael Teitelbaum, 2013-06-18 This incisive study explores population movements and declining fertility in China India Japan and North America in the 21st century suggesting that politics in addition to cultural and economic concerns must be included as a prime determining factor in these powerful global trends

ETHICS OF THE GLOBAL ENVIRONMENT Robin Attfield, 2015-02-12 This fully updated and expanded textbook looks at issues including climate change sustainable development and biodiversity preservation and sensitively addresses global developments such as the Summits at Durban on climate and at Nagoya on biodiversity

THE MORAL FABRIC IN CONTEMPORARY SOCIETIES, 2003-08-01 Neither the title of the 35th Congress of the International Institute of Sociology nor its timing and location were coincidental The Moral Fabric in Contemporary Societies being discussed in 2001 in Poland a country which had experienced two totalitarianisms in the previous century The events of the new millennium thus far demonstrate that history is aimless unless the societies who are its agents have moral goals or visions which they pursue The contents of this volume constitute the best evidence of a belief in the universality and importance of moral issues for the social sciences The deliberations here cover the notion of trust proceed with the issue of economic inequalities discuss multiple modernities as a response to imposed modernization debate postcommunism and corruption and finally examine genocide and its social consequences The book opens and closes with reflections on the theoretical aspects of what constitutes the moral fabric today

AFRICAN FAMILIES IN A GLOBAL CONTEXT Göran Therborn, 2004 The family is one of the most important institutions of African societies Where is it going today How is it affected by global processes cultural and political as well as economic How does it compare with family developments in other parts of the world These are questions which this book addresses The contributors deal with the African family in a comparative global context focusing on patriarchy sexuality and marriage and fertility biological and social reproduction in Ghana under conditions of globalization and structural adjustment Nigerian marriage relations under the impact of current conditions and family changes in the North Britain from a family perspective of the South South Africa

PARTICIPATION, REPRESENTATION AND GLOBAL CIVIL SOCIETY Jane W. Muthumbi, 2010-03-18 This book focuses on religious fundamentalists mobilization efforts against abortion in three United Nations Conferences Using U S Christian and Egyptian Islamic fundamentalist groups as empirical cases this account highlights these groups efforts against the adoption of abortion in the 1984 Mexico Conference on Population the 1994 Cairo conference on Population and the 1995 Beijing Conference on Women The account which examines Northern U S Christian and Southern Egyptian Islamists anti abortion networks participation and representation within these forums provides a unique glimpse into their engagement within international institutions It also explores whether Northern and

Southern groups growing involvement in decision making processes has lessened the inequality that historically characterized North South relations in the international arena and compares the strategies and tactics used by these groups as they attempted to influence the debate on reproductive rights within the conferences PrepComs regional forums NGO Forums and the state dominated plenary sessions It also assesses the extent to which these entities were effective in influencing outcomes in these arenas and comments on North South relations in a contemporary context Information on these groups was obtained from interviews with leaders of the U S Christian and Egyptian Islamic fundamentalist groups as well as secondary sources and official U N documents

Enjoying the Melody of Expression: An Emotional Symphony within New Politics Of Population Conflict And Consensus In Family Planning

In some sort of consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of immediate conversation, the melodic beauty and mental symphony created by the published term usually fade in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless noise and distractions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, nestled within the pages of New Politics Of Population Conflict And Consensus In Family Planning a marvelous fictional value filled with raw feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced.
