Reconceptualizing Securitization in

Afghanistan Arif Sahar, Christian Kaunert, 2024-12-09 This book analyses the securitization of ethnic identities and social groups by the state in Afghanistan in the post 2001 context. Securitization is arguably the most successful theoretical framework to analyse security beyond the military confines. Yet despite its broadening agenda the securitization framework has been accused of a Western bias. This book analyses the extent and the modalities and practices of the securitization of ethnic identities and social groups e.g. women by the state in Afghanistan post 2001 which is especially relevant following the takeover by the Taliban in August 2021. It puts forward a more nuanced argument by analytically distinguishing and empirically testing state policies, practices and perspectives on ethnic and social groups that are largely informed by the fear and legacies of civil war 1978-2001. The work argues that the traditional lack of a stable state identity that could function as a basis for ontological security in Afghanistan has resulted in a persistent state of fragility exacerbated by the legacies and fears of civil war that have had a direct impact on the development of the state's perspectives on ethnic and social groups. Whilst the state does not necessarily indulge in explicit securitization practices and discourses, securitization often takes place through implicit activities to undermine ethnic and social groups' ability to enter political, economic and socio-cultural competitions fairly and equitably which would in turn enable these groups to challenge the state. The securitization process therefore has had an impact on the ability of these groups to benefit from opportunities fairly and equitably. This book will be of much interest to students of critical security studies, statebuilding, Asian politics and International Relations in general.

United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 2005 Insight Turkey 2018 - Winter

2018 (Vol. 20, No.1) , Today the world system is in a transition and experiencing a deep international crisis. The U.S. has begun to oppose the basic international institutions such as the United Nations and its subsidiary organs and specialized agencies even though most of these were established with American motivation. The hegemon state the U.S. has been alienating most of its partners and even allies. The U.S. governments have begun to focus on the national setting and to underestimate the international one to favor unilateral policies over multilateral ones. The presidency of Donald Trump has expedited this process. American rejection of providing global public goods such as international security and free trade has led to a systemic crisis. The relative decline of American power coincides with the persistent rise of China. Those who claim that the days of Pax Americana are numbered assert that the rise of China will determine the future of the world system China has begun to expand its influence worldwide For this purpose it has established alternative political and economic international institutions such as the Shanghai Cooperation Organization SCO and the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank AIIB Furthermore China leads the establishment of some other international organizations as well BRICS is only one of these formations challenging the political hegemony of the West led by the U S One of the most promising Chinese projects is the One Belt One Road OBOR Project aspiring to connect the East China to the West the world markets It is expected that on its completion the OBOR Project will take China to the center of the world economy and politics China has been the fastest growing economy in the world for the last thirty years Its share of the world trade has increased dramatically recording the highest share in world exports for several years China has been enjoying economic transactions with all major international actors with more than 200 partners in exports and imports However in terms of per capita income China still lags behind the advanced Western countries Furthermore according to the calculations made by the World Bank and IMF Chinese per capita income is still lower than the world average China recently began to invest in the political and military sphere in the non Western world It has military bases in its near abroad and in the African continent That is Chinese economic influence and technological leadership is supported by its political and military power In spite of the increase in Chinese military and political might it is careful not to challenge the U S and the West There are several reasons for this policy First of all China is aware of its vulnerabilities It suffers some economic and political inconsistencies and weaknesses For instance it has to fortify its regional dominance first in the South China Sea and achieve its longtime one China policy as a precondition for a possible global hegemony Second China wants to win the global rivalry without resorting to war with the current hegemon Therefore Chinese leaders refrain from opposing the American hegemony politically Even though it has introduced some international institutions the Chinese leadership does not propose a political and diplomatic alternative to the West It will take time for China to offer a full scale global leadership alternative to the world since the global hegemony requires not only economic and military power but also values and norms for cultural hegemony Lastly China is not ready to take the global responsibility since it brings high costs As long as the current American hegemony works in favor of China there is no need for China to change the course of its development In the light of these developments this issue of Insight Turkey focuses on some of the most important topics related to China's persistent rise in the international system More specifically this issue postulates on how to read and understand China's policies towards global powers i.e. the U S and Russia and regional powers i.e. India and Turkey Africa has once again returned to the attention of the global powers after being left for many years in the shadow of western politics In recent years Africa has become the center of China's public economic and military diplomacy As it may be expected China's investments in Africa are not totally welcomed by the U S Earl Conteh Morgan in his commentary focuses on the strategic rivalry between China and the U S in Africa Conteh Morgan argues that their rivalry has progressed from mild to intense with both powers increasing their activities on the continent and decreasing Africa's erstwhile marginalization. Another rivalry that shapes China's foreign policies in the region is that with India. Especially since the Doklam Plateau incident in mid 2017, the expectation of a possible tension between the two regional powers is ever present. Taking this into consideration, Bruno Maes in his commentary ponders the economic and strategic rivalry between China and India along with a number of dimensions: infrastructure, border disputes, sea power and trade. Afghanistan Labor Policy, Laws and Regulations Handbook: Strategic Information and Regulations IBP, Inc., 2017-07. Afghanistan Labor Laws and Regulations Handbook: Strategic Information and Basic Laws Afghanistan Immigration Policy, Laws and Regulations Handbook: Strategic Information and Regulations IBP, Inc., 2017-07. Afghanistan Immigration Laws and Regulations Handbook: Strategic Information and Basic Laws Humanitarian Needs in Afghanistan United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Hunger, 1989. Accountability in education: meeting our commitments UNESCO, 2017-10-30. The second edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report (GEM Report) presents the latest evidence on global progress towards the education targets of the UN Sustainable Development Goals. With hundreds of millions of people still not going to school and many not achieving minimum skills at school, it is clear education systems are off track to achieve global goals. The marginalized currently bear the most consequences but also stand to benefit the most if policy makers pay sufficient attention to their needs. Faced with these challenges along with tight budgets and increased emphasis on results-oriented value for money, countries are searching for solutions. Increased accountability often tops the list. The 2017-8 GEM Report shows the entire array of approaches to accountability in education. It ranges from countries unused to the concept where violations of the right to education go unchallenged to countries where accountability has become an end in itself instead of a means to inclusive, equitable and high-quality education and lifelong learning for all. The report emphasizes that education is a shared responsibility. While governments have primary responsibility, all actors—schools, teachers, parents, students, international organizations, private sector providers, civil society and the media—have a role in improving education systems. The report emphasized the importance of transparency and availability of information but urges caution in how data are used. It makes the case for avoiding accountability systems with a disproportionate focus on narrowly defined results and punitive sanctions. In an era of multiple accountability tools, the report provides clear evidence on those that are working and those that are not. Back cover. Afghanistan Revisited Cary Gladstone, 2001.
