New Town Square Museums And Communities In Transition:

The New Town Square Robert Archibald, 2004-05-05 In this lyrical volume Robert R Archibald explores a growing crisis of modern America the dissolution of place that leads to a dangerous rupture of community Community_born historically within the collective space of the town square where citizens come together to share stories and make meaning of their common histories_is dissipating as Americans are increasingly isolated from that shared space and are being submerged into an individualistic consumer monoculture with disregard for the common good This volume examines how public history museums and historians can help restore community by offering a source of identity for people and their places becoming a wellspring of community and an incubator of democracy a consciousness of connection with a responsibility to those in our past and future The New Town Square offers its readers a space to understand and celebrate the shared space of community and is a vital resource for public historians and those interested in restoring the meaning of community Museums and Communities Viv Golding, Wayne Modest, 2013-08-01 This edited volume critically engages with contemporary scholarship on museums and their engagement with the communities they purport to serve and represent Foregrounding new curatorial strategies it addresses a significant gap in the available literature exploring some of the complex issues arising from recent approaches to collaboration between museums and their communities The book unpacks taken for granted notions such as scholarship community participation and collaboration which can gloss over the complexity of identities and lead to tokenistic claims of inclusion by museums Over sixteen chapters well respected authors from the US Australia and Europe offer a timely critique to address what happens when museums put community minded principles into practice challenging readers to move beyond shallow notions of political correctness that ignore vital difference in this contested field Contributors address a wide range of key issues asking pertinent questions such as how museums negotiate the complexities of integrating collaboration when the target community is a living fluid changeable mass of people with their own agendas and agency When is engagement real as opposed to symbolic who benefits from and who drives initiatives What particular challenges and benefits do artist collaborations bring Recognising the multiple perspectives of community participants is one thing but how can museums incorporate this successfully into exhibition practice Students of museum and cultural studies practitioners and everyone who cares about museums around the world will find this volume essential reading Engaging Communities in Museums David Allison, 2019-10-24 Engaging Communities in Museums is designed for museum professionals who are hungry for information about how to design experiences in partnership with their communities Providing an overview of the many ways that museums around the world have begun to listen more attentively to their audience the book highlights the importance of listening to community and discusses the idea of relationship building as an entry point to relevancy Drawing on interviews and discussions with museum professionals around the world as well as tangible real world examples Allison showcases the many ways that museums both large and small are actively working with their communities and also provides a roadmap that demonstrates how museum professionals can listen more effectively to their audiences as they craft new experiences The book also explores the fascinating nexus of community engagement and exhibit and experience development thus taking museum professionals on a journey of discovery around community responsiveness and attention to audience Engaging Communities in Museums provides a thorough comparison of development models from disparate venues making the book a must read for museum professionals who are looking for purpose and common sense techniques that can guide their work with the communities that they serve Students in museum studies courses will also find the text useful as a primer on community engagement in museums *Folklife and Museums C. Macdonald, Darryl McIntyre, 2008-09-26 Traditionally city museums have been keepers of city history Many have been exercises in nostalgia reflecting city pride However a new generation of museums focuses increasingly on the city's present and future as well as its past and on the city in all of its diversity challenges and possibilities Above all these museums are gateways to understanding the city our greatest and most complex creation and the place where half the world's population now lives In this book experts in the field explore this new city museum and the challenge of contributing positively to city development Thriving in the Knowledge Age John H. Falk, Beverly K. Sheppard, 2006-04-06 In Thriving in the Knowledge Age John Falk and Beverly Sheppard argue that museums require a radically new business model to survive the transition into the knowledge age Only by shifting towards more personalized and community based learning experiences can museums reverse the declining attendance figures of the twenty first century Written to provide clear answers to fundamental questions about the purpose and goals of the museum of the future this visionary book is a must have for museum professionals and trustees Heritage and Community Engagement Emma Waterton, Steve Watson, 2013-09-13 This book is about the way that professionals in archaeology and in other sectors of heritage interact with a range of stakeholder groups communities and the wider public Whilst these issues have been researched and discussed over many years and in many geographical contexts the debate seems to have settled into a comfortable stasis wherein it is assumed that all that can be done by way of engagement has been done and there is little left to achieve In some cases such engagement is built on legislation or codes of ethics and there can be little doubt that it is an important and significant aspect of heritage policy This book is different however because it questions not so much the motivations of heritage professionals but the nature of the engagement itself the extent to which this is collaborative or contested and the implications this has for the communities concerned Furthermore in exploring these issues in a variety of contexts around the world it recognises that heritage provides a source of engagement within communities that is separate from professional discourse and can thus enable them to find voices of their own in the political processes that concern them and affect their development identity and well being This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of Heritage Studies Local Glories Ann Satterthwaite, 2016 14 Symbols of Pride Part Four Born Again Revived Opera Houses and Their Communities 15 The Phoenix Rises 16 Successes 17 Engines for Regeneration 18 Like Family 19 Connecting Again Afterword Appendix A Listing of Extant Opera Houses by State Notes Bibliography Index associated hazardous substances and materials This publication serves the reference needs of researchers examining issues of historical development of industry worker exposure to hazardous substances and materials and historic and contemporary management of hazardous wastes The book is unique in using the North American Industrial Classification System as a framework for organizing bibliographic entries Attorneys historians economists and all others interested in historical and contemporary issues facing North American industry find here a useful and important resource CRM,2006 The Social Value of Zoos John Fraser,Tawnya Switzer,2021-04-15 Combining anecdotes with scientific data this book is a journalistic inquiry into what is currently known about zoos and aquariums as sociocultural intersections of mission public perception and on site meaning making The authors draw on conservation psychology and other social science research to explore how zoos might develop and deliver more effective learning experiences to promote and nurture conservation values and collective action While people use zoos with specific priorities and motivations in mind these are social settings Indeed it is because they represent an important vast and trusted social enterprise that zoos have such powerful opportunities to change how diverse public audiences view value identify and engage with animals and the broader biophysical environment

Practice-Based Research in Children's Play Wendy Russell,Stuart Lester,Hilary Smith,2018-03-07 There has been a growing awareness in recent years of the importance of play in children s learning and development but that awareness has not been accompanied by sufficient scholarly attention outside of conceptual studies and how to textbooks This collection fills that gap by bringing together scholars from a range of fields and methodological approaches to look at play from a practice based perspective Moving beyond the dominant voice of developmental psychology the book offers a number of new ways of approaching children s play and the roles of adults in supporting it as a result it will be valuable to anyone working with or studying children at play Another Haul Charlie Groth,2019-01-29 Lewis Island in Lambertville New Jersey is the site of the Lewis Fishery the last haul seine American shad fishery on the nontidal Delaware River The Lewis family has fished in the same spot since 1888 and operated the fishery through five generations The extended Lewis family its fishery s crew and the Lambertville community connect with people throughout the region including environmentalists concerned about the river It was a Lewis who raised the alarm and helped resurrect a polluted river and its biosphere While this once exclusively masculine activity is central to the tiny island today men women and children fish living out a sense of place belonging and sustainability In Another Haul Narrative Stewardship and Cultural Sustainability at the Lewis Family Fishery author Charlie Groth highlights the traditional vernacular and everyday cultural expressions of the family and crew to understand how community culture and the environment intersect Groth argues there is a system of narrative here that combines verbal activities and everyday activities On the basis of over two decades of participation and observation interviews surveys and a wide variety of published sources Groth identifies a phenomenon she calls narrative stewardship This narrative system emphasizing place community and commitment in turn encourages environmental and cultural stewardship tradition and community Intricate and embedded the system appears invisible but careful study unpacks and untangles how people often unconsciously foster sustainability Though an ethnography of an occupation the volume encourages readers to consider what arises as special about all cultures and what needs to be seen and preserved Entangled Lives Marla Miller,2019-12-17

An enlightening look at American women s work in the late eighteenth century What was women s work truly like in late eighteenth century America and what does it tell us about the gendered social relations of labor in the early republic In Entangled Lives Marla R Miller examines the lives of Anglo African and Native American women in one rural New England community Hadley Massachusetts during the town s slow transformation following the Revolutionary War Peering into the homes taverns and farmyards of Hadley Miller offers readers an intimate history of the working lives of these women and their vital role in the local economy Miller a longtime resident of Hadley follows a handful of eighteenth century women working in a variety of occupations domestic service cloth making health and healing and hospitality She asks about the social openings and opportunities this work created and the limitations it placed on ordinary lives Her compelling stories about women s everyday work grounded in the material culture built environment and landscapes of rural western Massachusetts reveal the larger economic networks in which Hadley operated and the subtle shifts that accompanied the emergence of the middle class in that rural community Ultimately this book shows how work differentiated not only men and woman but also race and class as Miller follows young mostly white women working in domestic service African American women negotiating labor in enslavement and freedom and women of the rural gentry acting as both producers and employers Engagingly written and featuring fascinating characters the book deftly takes us inside a society and shows us how it functions Offering an intervention into larger conversations about local history microhistory and historical scholarship Entangled Lives is a revealing journey through early America Politics of Memory Ana Lucia Araujo,2013-05-07

The public memory of slavery and the Atlantic slave trade which some years ago could be observed especially in North America has slowly emerged into a transnational phenomenon now encompassing Europe Africa and Latin America and even Asia allowing the populations of African descent organized groups governments non governmental organizations and societies in these different regions to individually and collectively update and reconstruct the slave past This edited volume examines the recent transnational emergence of the public memory of slavery shedding light on the work of memory produced by groups of individuals who are descendants of slaves The chapters in this book explore how the memory of the enslaved and slavers is shaped and displayed in the public space not only in the former slave societies but also in the regions that provided captives to the former American colonies and European metropolises Through the analysis of exhibitions museums monuments accounts and public performances the volume makes sense of the political stakes involved in the phenomenon of memorialization of slavery and the slave trade in the public sphere Memory in a Mediated World Andrea Hajek,Christine Lohmeier,Christian Pentzold,2016-02-10

memories Memory in a Mediated World examines troubled times that demand resolution recovery and restoration Its contributions provide empirically grounded analyses of how media are employed by individuals and social groups to connect the past the present and the future Interpreting LGBT History at Museums and Historic Sites Susan Ferentinos,2014-12-16 LGBT individuals and families are increasingly visible in popular culture and local communities their struggles for equality appear regularly in news media If history museums and historic sites are to be inclusive and relevant they must begin incorporating this community into their interpretation Interpreting LGBT History at Museums and Historic Sites is straightforward accessible guidebook for museum and history professionals as they embark on such worthy efforts This book features An examination of queer history in the United States The rapid rate at which queer topics have entered the mainstream could conceivably give the impression that LGBT people have only quite recently begun to contribute to United States culture and this misconception ignores a rich history A brief overview of significant events in LGBT history highlights variant sexuality and gender in U S history from colonization to the first decades of the twenty first century Case studies on the inclusion and telling of LGBT history These chapters detail how major institutions such as the Chicago History Museum have brought this topic to light in their interpretation An extensive bibliography and reading list LGBT history is a fascinating story and the limited space in this volume can hardly do it justice These features are provided to guide readers to more detailed information about the contributions of LGBT people to U S history and culture This guide complements efforts to make museums and historic sites more inclusive so they may tell a richer story for all people Museums Journal Elijah Howarth,F. R. Rowley,W. Ruskin Butterfield,Charles Madeley,2005 Indexes to papers read before the Museums Association 1890 1909 Comp by Charles Madeley v 9 p 427 452 Upper Peninsula of Michigan: A History Russsell M.
