The New Media and Cybercultures Anthology Pramod

K. Nayar, 2010-04-26 Moving beyond traditional cyberspace studies paradigms in several key ways this comprehensive collection marks the increasing convergence of cyberspace with other forms of media and with all aspects of our lives in a digitized world. Includes essential readings for both the student and scholar of a diverse range of fields including new and digital media, internet studies, digital arts and culture studies, network culture studies and the information society.

Incorporates essays by both new and established scholars of digital cultures including Andy Miah, Eugene Thacker, Lisa Nakamura, Chris Hables Gray, Sonia Livingstone and Espen Aarseth. Created explicitly for the undergraduate student with comprehensive introductions to each section that outline the main ideas of each essay. Explores the many facets of cyberspace and includes sections on race, politics, gender theory, gaming and space. The perfect companion to Nayar's Introduction to New Media and Cyberspace.

South Asian Media Cultures Shakuntala Banaji, 2011 South Asian Media

Cultures examines a wide range of media cultures and practices from across South Asia using a common set of historical, political and theoretical engagements. In the context of such pressing issues as peace, conflict, democracy, politics, religion, class, ethnicity and gender, these essays explore the ways different groups of South Asians produce, understand and critique the media available to them.

The Language of New Media Lev Manovich, 2002-02-22 A stimulating, eclectic account of new media that finds its origins in old media, particularly the cinema. In this book, Lev Manovich offers the first systematic and rigorous theory of new media. He places new media within the histories of visual and media cultures of the last few centuries. He discusses new media's reliance on conventions of old media such as the rectangular frame and mobile camera, and shows how new media works create the illusion of reality, address the viewer and represent space. He also analyzes categories and forms unique to new media such as interface and database. Manovich uses concepts from film theory, art history, literary theory and computer science, and also develops new theoretical constructs such as cultural interface, spatial montage and cinegratography. The theory and history of cinema play a particularly important role in the book. Among other topics, Manovich discusses parallels between the histories of cinema and of new media, digital cinema screen and montage in cinema, and in new media, and historical ties between avant-garde film and new media.

East Asian Media Culture in the Age of Digital Platforms Dal Yong Jin, Kyong Yoon, 2025-09-11 Focusing on the convergence of popular culture and digital platforms in the East Asian context, this book delves into the increasing role of East Asia not only as the largest cultural market but also as one of the most rapidly developing cultural industries in the global platform economy. Through the analytical framework of the platformization of cultural industries, this volume theoretically and empirically explores how East Asian popular culture and digital platforms have been intertwined and evolved. Analyzing how East Asian media, narratives, industries and audiences are integrated into digital platformization, the book contributes to an enhanced and timely understanding of transnational cultural flows in platform-driven media landscapes of the early 21st century. The comprehensive and significant analyses of the dynamic changes and persistent features of East Asian cultural convergence within the broader ebb and flow of global
