New Politics Of Pollution:

The New Politics of Pollution Albert Weale,1992 The New Politics of Pollution Albert Weale,1992 This work argues that current approaches to pollution not only fail to deal with the challenge of existing and novel types of pollution but also fail to take into account our changing understanding of its international scale and effects The authors look at the subject in an international context Voluntary Initiatives and the New Politics of Corporate Greening Robert B. Gibson,1999-01-01 The diverse range of authors highlight the inherent complexities and controversial nature of the use of corporate voluntary initiatives for environmental improvements This is an excellent reference book Dianne Humphries Pollution Probe

Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1973 The New Politics of Science David Dickson,1988 How science gets done in today s world has profound political repercussions since scientific knowledge through its technical applications has become an important source of both economic and military power The increasing dependence of scientific research on funding from business and the military has made questions about the access to and control of scientific knowledge a central issue in today s politics of science In The New Politics of Science David Dickson points out that the scientific community has its own internal power structures its elites its hierarchies its ideologies its sanctioned norms of social behavior and its dissenting groups And the more that science as a social practice forms an integral part of the economic structures of the society in which it is imbedded the more the boundaries and differences between the two dissolve Groups inside the scientific community for example will use groups outside the community and vice versa to achieve their own political ends In this edition Dickson has included a new preface commenting on the continuing and increasing influence of industrial and defense interests on American scientific research in the 1980s The Promise of Green Politics Douglas Torgerson,1999 An exploration of the relationship between the means and the ends in green politics

The Politics of Regulation in the UK Daniel Fitzpatrick,2016-09-30 This book explores the discourse of regulatory crisis in the UK and examines why despite the increasing contestation of the principles underpinning the regulatory state its institutions and practices continue to be firmly embedded within the governance of the British state It considers its implications for our understanding of the contemporary nature of the British state and to the study of regulation which is no longer confined to the domain of low politics populated by technocrats but is scrutinised by elected politicians and the subject of the front pages rather than the financial pages The author sets the British regulatory tradition in a wider context both spatially in terms of the challenges presented by Europeanisation and temporally critically analysing the process of crisis construction in the narratives of neoliberalism and participatory democracy in the contemporary era International Encyclopedia of Environmental Politics John Barry,E. Gene Frankland,2014-02-25 Why care about the environment Is the earth s climate really changing for the worse What are CFCs exactly And who or what is the WTO What are the causes of environmental problems Who are the main actors and what are the main ideas and issues in international environmental politics Which countries have the best worst environmental record and policies The International Encyclopedia of Environmental Politics is the essential reference source to enable all those with an interest in the politics of the environment particularly students and academics working within political science to answer these questions and to explore many other related topics in international environmental politics It will be welcomed as an essential teaching resource and a trusty companion to independent study Written by a team of international experts the Encyclopedia is vital for fact checking provides authoritative initial orientation to a particular topic or issue and will serve as a solid starting point for wider explanation With over 300 fully cross referenced entries many of which are followed with suggestions for further reading the Encyclopedia includes Country and regional entries with country entries giving a concise overview of the history main actors issues and policies related to its environmental politics Normative and ethical dimensions of environmental politics from animal rights social and global justice to deep ecology Environmental movements organizations struggles and actors from local to international levels Issues in international environmental politics such as global warming biodiversity trade and the environment Prominent individuals historical and current who have inspired or been actively involved in international environmental politics such as Mahatma Gandhi Petra Kelly Vandana Shiva and Aldo Leopold Central topics and issues in environmental politics such as global warming globalization wildlife preservation eco taxes energy production and consumption sustainable development and the World Trade Organisation

Energy and the Politics of the North Atlantic George A. Gonzalez, 2013-01-01 Documents how energy resource acquisition has been the driving motivator for European and American international relations

Dismantling Public Policy Michael W. Bauer, 2012-12-13 Dismantling does not even merit a mention in most public policy textbooks

Energy and Empire George A. Gonzalez, 2012-09-01 What set the United States on the path to developing commercial nuclear energy in the 1950s and what led to the seeming demise of that industry in the late 1970s Why in spite of the depletion of fossil fuels and the obvious dangers of global warming has the United States moved so slowly toward adopting alternatives In Energy and Empire George A Gonzalez presents a clear and concise argument demonstrating that economic elites tied their advocacy of the nuclear energy option to post 1945 American foreign policy goals At the same time these elites opposed government support for other forms of energy such as solar that cannot be dominated by one nation While researchers have blamed safety concerns and other factors as helping to arrest the expansion of domestic nuclear power plant construction Gonzalez points to an entirely different set of motivations stemming from the loss of America's domination control of the enrichment of nuclear fuel Once foreign countries could enrich their own fuel civilian nuclear power ceased to be a lever the United States could use to economically politically dominate other nations Instead it became a major concern relating to nuclear weapons proliferation

British Environmental Policy and Europe Philip Lowe, Stephen Ward, 2005-08-10 Explores the effectiveness of British organisations and groups in the environmental field in responding to the challenge of European integration

The Globalization of Environmental Crisis Jan Oosthoek, Barry K. Gills, 2013-10-31 Previously published as a special issue of Globalizations this collection of essays addresses what is arguably the most pressing and urgent issue of our day the continuing development of global environmental crises and the need for new and urgent responses to them by the world community The contributors include social scientists environmental historians anthropologists and science policy researchers and together they give an overview of the history of the globalization of environmental crisis over the past several decades both in terms of the science of measurement and the types of policy and public responses that have emerged to date The specific issue areas addressed in the book cover a wide range of topics including international environmental governance North South inequalities climate change global warming tropical forests air pollution economic and paradigm shifts sustainability indigenous peoples and eco conservation EU environmental policy the United States and politicized climate science and more The Globalization of Environmental Crisis will be of particular interest to all those concerned with the on going debate over the state of the global environment and what to do about it

Greening Industries in Newly Industrializing Economies Peter Ho, 2014-02-25 First published in 2006 Over the past decades the world has witnessed the profound transformation of China Vietnam Taiwan and Singapore from impoverished developing regions into strong and internationally competitive economies Also dubbed Newly Industrializing Economies NIEs it has become obvious that their rapid development has come at a price Contrary to their economic successes these NIEs have been much less successful in terms of ecological sustainability and environmental protection A critical question in this respect is how can the state effect the greening of industries and business without inhibiting economic growth Some scholars have argued that NIEs are situated at an unique juncture they have an unparalleled opportunity to nd different development paths and in so doing to provide models that other countries could follow With the right policy mix they might achieve rapid economic development while avoiding environmental degradation on the scale of that created by the United States Europe a Union member countries and other earlier industrialized nations Doing it right the rst time by installing clean technologies and developing the capacity and the governance style to enforce environmental regulations could lead to leapfrogging the development process and building industrial economies that are both competitive and more sustainable than those economies with an older industrial base This edited volume examines these issues through case studies from China Vietnam Taiwan and Singapore It is argued that the NIEs rst and second generations alike are not truly situated in a more favourable position that allows leapfrogging in the greening of industries This book brings together a team of leading experts in their eld ranging from development studies sociology political studies and economics It will be of interest to a wide readership of students and professionals concerned with development in contemporary Asia with particular reference to environmental studies industrial pollution control social movements and developmental state theory The Politics of Global Atmospheric Change Ian H. Rowlands,1995 The Politics of Climate Change Maxwell Boykoff,2010-10-18 Climate change is a defining issue in contemporary life Since the Industrial Revolution heavy reliance on carbon based sources for energy in industry and society has contributed to substantial changes in the climate indicated by increases in temperature and sea level rise In the last three decades concerns regarding human contributions to climate change have moved from obscure scientific inquiries to the fore of science politics policy and practices at many levels From local adaptation strategies to international treaty negotiation the politics of climate change is as pervasive vital and contested as it has ever been On the cusp of a new commitment to international co operation to rein in greenhouse gas emissions this essential book intervenes to help understand and engage with the dynamic and compelling Politics of Climate Change This edited collection draws on a vast array of experience expertise and perspectives with authors with backgrounds in climate science geography environmental studies biology sociology political science psychology and philosophy This reflects the contemporary conditions where the politics of climate change permeates and penetrates all facets of our shared lives and livelihoods Chapters include the Politics of Climate Science History of Climate Policy the Cultural Politics of Climate Change Interactions in the Spaces of Everyday the Politics of Interstate Climate Negotiations the Politics of the Carbon Economy and Addressing Inequality An A Z glossary of key terms offers additional information in dictionary format with entries on topics including Carbon tax Stabilization Renewable technologies and the World Meteorological Organization A section of Maps offers a visual overview of the effects of environmental change Environment Jules Pretty,2006-06-23 This four volume set explores the locations where the environment matters most such as where people are poor where environments are under threat such as on frontiers where there are few natural resources remaining and where industrialization is rampant It will also explore these concerns at different system levels from local community to regional national and global It will also explore costs of damage to the very resources on which economies rely and the values of environmental goods and services and the controversies surrounding such valuations It is organized around environment people interactions livelihoods poverty income economic growth environment environment interactions do people matter and people people interactions collective action challenges institutions The New Politics of North Carolina Christopher A. Cooper,H. Gibbs Knotts,2012-09-01 Political scientist V O Key in 1949 described North Carolina as a progressive plutocracy He argued that in the areas of industrial development public education and race relations North Carolina appeared progressive when compared to other southern states Reconsidering Key s evaluation nearly sixty years later contributors to this volume find North Carolina losing ground as a progressive leader in the South The new politics of the state involves a combination of new and old new opportunities and challenges have forced the state to change but the old culture still remains a powerful force In the eleven essays collected here leading scholars of North Carolina politics offer a systematic analysis of North Carolina's politics and policy placed in the context of its own history as well as the politics and policies of other states. Topics discussed include the evolution of politics and political institutions, the roles of governors, the judicial branch, interest groups, and party systems, and the part played by economic development and environmental policy. Contributors also address how geography affects politics within the state, region, and nation. Designed with students and interested citizens in mind, this collection provides an excellent introduction to contemporary North Carolina politics and government. Contributors: Hunter Bacot, Elon University; Christopher A. Cooper, Western Carolina University; Thomas F. Eamon, East Carolina University; Jack D. Fleer, Wake Forest University; Dennis O. Grady, Appalachian State University; Ferrel Guillory, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Sean Hildebrand, Western Carolina University; Jonathan Kanipe, Town Manager, Catawba, North Carolina; H. Gibbs Knotts, Western Carolina University; Adam J. Newmark, Appalachian State University; Charles Prysby, University of North Carolina at Greensboro; Ruth Ann Strickland, Appalachian State University; James H. Svava, Arizona State University; Timothy Vercellotti, Rutgers University.
