New Realism:

The New Realism Robert W. Cox, 2016-07-27 The new realism differs from Cold War neorealism by including a broad range of non state forces peoples and social movements that challenge the exclusive dominance of states and the global economy in the making of future world order The resurgence of civilisations brings a variety of perspectives to interpreting the present and imagining the future Medium term factors influence this mix of forces the uncertainties of US policy the fragmentation of the former Soviet Union global social polarisation and a new form of people based regionalism

New Realism David Forrest, 2020-03-18 The tradition of British realism has changed dramatically over the last 20 years where films by directors such as Duane Hopkins Joanna Hogg Andrea Arnold Shane Meadows and Clio Barnard have suggested a markedly poetic turn This new realism rejects the instrumentalism and didacticism of filmmakers like Ken Loach in favour of lyrical and often ambiguous encounters with place where the physical processes of lived experience interacts with the rhythms of everyday life Taking these 5 filmmakers as case studies this book seeks to explore in depth this new tradition of British cinema and in the process it reignites debates over realism that have concerned scholars for decades

Introduction to New Realism Maurizio Ferraris, 2014-12-18 Introduction to New Realism provides an overview of the movement of contemporary thought named New Realism by its creator and most celebrated practitioner Maurizio Ferraris Sharing significant concerns and features with Speculative Realism and Object Oriented Ontology New Realism can be said to be one of the most prescient philosophical positions today Its desire to overcome the postmodern antirealism of Kantian origin and to reassert the importance of truth and objectivity in the name of a new Enlightenment has had an enormous resonance both in Europe and in the US Introduction to New Realism is the first volume dedicated to exposing this continental movement to an anglophone audience Featuring a foreword by the eminent contemporary philosopher and leading exponent of Speculative Realism Iain Hamilton Grant the book begins by tracing the genesis of New Realism and outlining its central theoretical tenets before opening onto three distinct sections The first Negativity is a critique of the postmodern idea that the world is constructed by our conceptual schemas all the more so as we have entered the age of digitality and virtuality The second thesis positivity proposes the fundamental ontological assertion of New Realism namely that not only are there parts of reality that are independent of thought but these parts are also able to act causally over thought and the human world The third thesis normativity applies New Realism to the sphere of the social world Finally an afterword written by two young scholars explains in more detail the relationship between New Realism and other forms of contemporary realism

Manifesto of New Realism Maurizio Ferraris, 2014-12-01 Philosophical realism has taken a number of different forms each applied to different topics and set against different forms of idealism and subjectivism Maurizio Ferraris s Manifesto of New Realism takes aim at postmodernism and hermeneutics arguing against their emphasis on reality as constructed and interpreted While acknowledging the value of these criticisms of traditional dogmatic realism

Ferraris insists that the insights of postmodernism have reached a dead end Calling for the discipline to turn its focus back to truth and the external world Ferraris s manifesto which sparked lively debate in Italy and beyond offers a wiser realism with social and political relevance

New Realism and Contemporary Philosophy Gregor Kroupa, Jure Simoniti, 2020-06-25

This open access book advances the current debate in continental realism In the field of contemporary continental ontology Speculative Realist thinkers are now grappling with the genealogy of their ideas in the history of modern philosophy The Speculative Realism movement prompted a debate criticizing the predominant postmodernist orientation in philosophy which located its origins in Kantian correlationism which supposedly ended the period of early modern naive realist metaphysics by showing that the mind and the outside world can only ever be understood as correlates The debate over a new kind of realism has attracted many supporters and critics In order to refocus its specific interpretation of modern philosophy in general and of the Kantian gesture in particular this volume brings together major authors working on contemporary ontology and historians of ideas It underlines and illustrates the fact that contemporary continental philosophy is rediscovering its past in original ways by productively re interpreting some of the key concepts of modern philosophy The perspectives and accounts of the key concepts of the history of philosophy are different in the views of individual contributors and sometimes radically so yet the discussion between contemporary realists and their critics shows that the real battleground of new ideas lies not in developing the philosophical motifs of the end of the 20th century but rather in rethinking the milestones of modern philosophy The eBook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 3 0 licence on www.bloomsburycollections.com

A New Look at New Realism Eric Charles, 2017-09-08 This volume brings to the attention of contemporary readers a tradition of psychological thought that has received little attention over the last century Psychology s history has been unimaginatively presented as a fight between behaviorists and mentalists A third alternative the New Realism which cuts through that dichotomy has been lost The New Realism was indeed once new This volume provides a glimpse of how this school of thought attempted to redefine the notion of mental processes including consciousness in psychological theorizing Holt s rejected the nativity of iconoclastic Watsonian behaviorists and thus the New Realism was thoughtful in ways that behaviorist social engineering was not The implications of these innovations in psychological theorizing are traced from the beginning of the twentieth century to the contemporary period The contributors provide these intellectual links along with efforts to look at the relatedness of the human organism and its world At their beginning these ideas are embedded in a reverence for William James s work particularly his later Radical Empiricism In contemporary psychology this legacy has given us the framework of ecological psychology as we know it today and provides the basis for several modern critiques of cognitive psychology The present volume opens the door for future historical inquiries This is an exemplary addition to the series on the History of Psychological Ideas

New Realism, New Barbarism Boris Kagarlitsky, 1999-09-20 In this radical and controversial overview of the post communist world Boris Kagarlitsky argues that the very success of neoliberal capitalism has made traditional socialism all the more necessary and feasible Kagarlitsky argues that leftists exaggerate the importance of the objective aspects of the new reality globalisation and the weakening of the state while underestimating the importance of the hegemony of neoliberalism As long as neoliberalism retains its ideological hegemony despite its economic failure the consequence is a new barbarism already a reality in Eastern Europe and now also emerging in the West Kagarlitsky challenges the political neurosis of the left and prevailing assumptions of Marxism to argue that Marx's theories are now more timely than they were in the mid twentieth century He analyses theories of the end of the proletariat and the end of work and assesses the potential of the new technologies such as the Internet which create fresh challenges for capitalism and new arenas for struggle

Political Development and the New Realism in Sub-Saharan Africa

David Ernest Apter, Carl Gustav Rosberg, 1994 Since the 1950s David Apter and Carl Rosenberg have been among the leading American scholars in African Studies In this volume they along with other major specialists in the field explore the new configurations of African politics With tentative efforts at a revival of democracy now taking place it seems appropriate to reassess the theoretical debates and empirical themes that have characterized postwar Sub Saharan African politics Focusing on new realism that has emerged among Africanists since the dismantling of colonial rule the essays are presented as a corrective both to the initial euphoria informing African studies and to the later tendency to place blame for all Africa's political and economic difficulties on the receding specter of colonial oppression

Towards a New Scientific Realism

Jan Voosholz, 2025-08-30 This book presents an argument for a new type of scientific realism beyond naturalism correlationism and what the author terms objective realism To achieve this positive philosophical proposal Jan Voosholz develops a thorough critique of current debates surrounding realism and antirealism in philosophy of science as well as those concerning new and speculative realism Moreover in order to provide a new outlook for the philosophy of the natural sciences this book advances and introduces decisive arguments to that debate from speculative and new realist discussions in ontology and epistemology Consequently it develops a unique starting point for a pluralistic philosophy of nature Any proponent or adversary of new speculative perspectival or pragmatic realism ontic or epistemic structural realism scientific pluralism feminist or structural empiricism selective scepticism non reductive or reductive naturalism with an interest in general philosophy of science should take the careful reconstruction of the debates and the novel arguments presented in this book into account Readers interested in philosophy and the sciences with an interest in these areas of theoretical philosophy will find in this book an informative and comprehensive outline of the state of the art in the epistemology and ontology of the natural sciences

The New Woman Sally Ledger,1997 By comparing fictional representations with real New Women in late Victorian Britain Sally Ledger makes a major contribution to an understanding of the Woman Question at the end of the century Chapters on imperialism socialism sexual decadence and metropolitan life situate the revolting daughters of the Victorian age in a broader cultural context than previous studies "Painting, Politics, and the New Front of Cold War Italy " Adrian R. Duran,2017-07-05 The first English language monograph on Il Fronte Nuovo delle Arti this study explores the rise and fall of this postwar Italian artists group as a representative instance of the tensions facing Italian painting during the transition out of two decades of Fascism and into the global divisions of the Cold War Adrian Duran argues that the binary structures of the era realism vs abstraction Communism vs democracy conformism vs freedom have monopolized the discourse surrounding the Fronte Nuovo and with it the historiography of Italian painting during this period 1944 50 Beginning with the dialogues that framed the formation of the Fronte Nuovo this book reconsiders artists works correspondence critical writings and manifestos These are married to examinations of specific exhibitions the most important of which are the group s 1947 inaugural exhibition and the 1948 and 1950 Venice Biennali The critical responses to these exhibitions are reconsidered in light of their groundings in the heated political debates of the period In total these diverse sources reveal the vast divide between the internal discourse of the arts generated by the participant artists and their works and the surrounding politics of Cold War Italy Introduction to New Realism Maurizio Ferraris,2014-12-18 Introduction to New Realism provides an overview of the movement of contemporary thought named New Realism by its creator and most celebrated practitioner Maurizio Ferraris Sharing significant concerns and features with Speculative Realism and Object Oriented Ontology New Realism can be said to be one of the most prescient philosophical positions today Its desire to overcome the postmodern antirealism of Kantian origin and to reassert the importance of truth and objectivity in the name of a new Enlightenment has had an enormous resonance both in Europe and in the US Introduction to New Realism is the first volume dedicated to exposing this continental movement to an anglophone audience Featuring a foreword by the eminent contemporary philosopher and leading exponent of Speculative Realism Iain Hamilton Grant the book begins by tracing the genesis of New Realism and outlining its central theoretical tenets before opening onto three distinct sections The first Negativity is a critique of the postmodern idea that the world is constructed by our conceptual schemas all the more so as we have entered the age of digitality and virtuality The second thesis positivity proposes the fundamental ontological assertion of New Realism namely that not only are there parts of reality that are independent of thought but these parts are also able to act causally over thought and the human world The third thesis normativity applies New Realism to the sphere of the social world Finally an afterword written by two young scholars explains in more detail the relationship between New Realism and other forms of contemporary realism

New Media and the Transformation of Postmodern American Literature Casey Michael Henry, 2019-02-07 How has American literature after postmodernism responded to the digital age Drawing on insights from contemporary media theory this is the first book to explore the explosion of new media technologies as an animating context for contemporary American literature Casey Michael Henry examines the intertwining histories of new media forms since the 1970s and literary postmodernism and its aftermath from William Gaddis's J R and Bret Easton Ellis's American Psycho through to David Foster Wallace's Infinite Jest Through these histories the book charts the ways in which print based postmodern writing at first resisted new mass media forms and ultimately came to respond to them

Feminist Realism at the Fin de Siècle Molly Youngkin, 2007 Molly Youngkin takes on a major literary problem of the turn of the century Was the transition from the Victorian novel to the modern novel enabled by antirealist or realist narrative strategies To answer this question Youngkin analyzes book reviews that appeared in two prominent feminist periodicals circulated during the late Victorian era Shafts and The Woman's Herald Through reviews of the works of important male and female authors of the decade Thomas Hardy Sarah Grand George Gissing Mona Caird George Meredith M. n. e. Dowie George Moore and Henrietta Stannard these periodicals developed a feminist realist aesthetic that drew on three aspects of woman's agency consciousness spoken word and action and emphasized corresponding narrative strategies internal perspective dialogue and description of characters actions Still these periodicals privileged consciousness over spoken word and action and by doing so encouraged authors to push the boundaries of traditional realism and anticipate the modernist aesthetic By acknowledging the role of the woman's press in the development of the novel this book revises our understanding of the transition from Victorianism to modernism which often is characterized as antirealist Late Victorian authors working within the realist tradition also contributed to this transition particularly through their engagement with feminist realism Youngkin deftly illustrates this transition and in so doing proves that it cannot be attributed to antirealist narrative strategies alone Molly Youngkin takes on a major literary problem of the turn of the century Was the transition from the Victorian novel to the modern novel enabled by antirealist or realist narrative strategies To answer this question Youngkin analyzes book reviews that appeared in two prominent feminist periodicals circulated during the late Victorian era Shafts and The Woman's Herald
