New Shanghai The Rocky Rebirth Of Chinas Legendary City:

New Shanghai Pamela Yatsko, 2001 Weaving anecdotes with analysis author Pamela Yatsko's lively narrative addresses key aspects of the city's rebirth the building spree of the 1990s Shanghai's resurrection as a financial center its drive to remain a manufacturing powerhouse its cultural reawakening the growing divide between rich and poor the return of fortune hunting foreign business and the revival of notorious Old Shanghai vices nightlife drugs and prostitution The author breaks through the hype surrounding Shanghai's re emergence to present a realistic picture of the legendary city and the challenges it faces fulfilling its aspirations New Shanghai The Rocky Rebirth of China's Legendary City is a work of exceptional richness and observation

Global Shanghai Remade Richard Hu, Weijie Chen, 2019-10-08 Examining the rise of Pudong and its role in re creating Shanghai as a global city Global Shanghai Remade utilises this important case study to shed light on contemporary globalisation and China's integration with the world since the late 20th century Unpacking the rise of Pudong in the context of Deng Xiaoping's nation building agenda this book explores the development of the district from its earliest planning into a global city centre through multiple perspectives In doing so it explores the role of key decision makers and actors the strategic planning process the approaches to urban development and some of the iconic projects that define the rise of Pudong Shanghai and China itself A timely volume for the 30th anniversary of China's strategy of developing and opening Pudong it combines the analyses and findings from these perspectives into a framework for a broader understanding of city making with Chinese characteristics The first study of its kind providing a comprehensive and systematic examination of Pudong this book will be useful for students and scholars of urban planning and design as well as Chinese Studies and Development Studies more generally

Two Dragon Heads Shahid Yusuf, Kaoru Nabeshima, 2010-01-11 This book explores the contrasting development options available to Beijing and Shanghai and proposes strategies for these cities based on their current and acquired capabilities experience of other world cities the emerging demand in the national market and likely trends in global trade

Constructing Modern Asian Citizenship Edward Vickers, Krishna Kumar, 2014-12-05 In many non Western contexts modernization has tended to be equated with Westernization and hence with an abandonment of authentic indigenous identities and values This is evident in the recent history of many Asian societies where efforts to modernize spurred on by the spectre of foreign domination have often been accompanied by determined attempts to stamp national variants of modernity with the brand of local authenticity Asian values Chinese characteristics a Japanese cultural essence and so forth Highlighting or exaggerating associations between the more unsettling consequences of modernization and alien influence has thus formed part of a strategy whereby elites in many Asian societies have sought to construct new forms of legitimacy for old patterns of dominance over the masses The apparatus of modern systems of mass education often inherited from colonial rulers has been just one instrument in such campaigns of state legitimation This book presents analyses of a range of contemporary projects of citizenship formation across Asia in order to identify those issues and concerns most central to Asian debates over the construction of modern identities Its main focus is on schooling but also examines other vehicles for citizenship formation such as museums and the internet the role of religion in particular Islam in debates over citizenship and identity in certain Asian societies and the relationship between state centred identity discourses and the experience of increasingly globalized elites With chapters from an international team of contributors this interdisciplinary volume will appeal to students and scholars of Asian culture and society Asian education comparative education and citizenship

Capitalism with Chinese Characteristics Yasheng Huang, 2008-09-01 Presents a story of two Chinas an entrepreneurial rural China and a state controlled urban China In the 1980s rural China gained the upper hand In the 1990s urban China triumphed In the 1990s the Chinese state reversed many of its rural experiments with long lasting damage to the economy and society A weak financial sector income disparity rising illiteracy productivity slowdowns and reduced personal income growth are the product of the capitalism with Chinese characteristics of the 1990s and beyond While GDP grew quickly in both decades the welfare implications of growth differed substantially The book uses the emerging Indian miracle to debunk the widespread notion that democracy is automatically anti growth As the country marked its 30th anniversary of reforms in 2008 China faces some of its toughest economic challenges and substantial vulnerabilities that require fundamental institutional reforms

The Multinational Corporation in China Stephen Todd Rudman, 2009-02-09 The Multinational Corporation in China Controlling Interests addresses the question of how multinational corporations control and coordinate their worldwide affiliates with a fascinating inside story on contemporary China Focuses on dynamic management control processes by four large US multinational corporations of their China operations Based on the author's own research including personal interviews with senior managers and discussions with consultants lawyers and government officials Reviews internal as well as publicly available company documents and books newspapers and periodicals dealing with relevant industries and with China Enables readers to understand how multinational corporations are managed Facilitates the development of a coherent theory of management control

Shanghai Pudong Y. Chen, 2007-06-07 This publication concerns large scale urban area development in general and in particular with gaining an understanding of the role played by global local interaction in shaping the area development strategies in one particularly explosive urban project the development of Shanghai's Pudong New Area The Pudong development provides an extreme example of a situation in which interaction between global and local forces took place in a location whose boundaries had been closed to the outside world for almost forty years and in a period when doors and windows were beginning to open The research led to a concrete interpretation of the tensions developing at district level and provided an example capable of representing the complexity and dynamics of current area developments The practical question addressed by the research was What were the main factors responsible for the speed achieved by the Pudong development The associated theoretical question was To what extent did the development of the Pudong New Area reflect the characteristics of a developmental state

The Chinese

Capital Market Annette Kleinbrod, 2008-03-12 The significance of China's development reaches far beyond the country's domestic concerns. This is due to a variety of factors among them the country's rapid growth and development and its increasingly open borders allowing it to become a member of the regional and international community of states over the last twenty five years. China is not a major force yet but its voice is gaining influence. Simultaneously its development on domestic regional and international levels is a huge uncertainty which inheres both potential and risk and is likely best described by the title of Johnny Erling's book China der grosse Sprung ins Ungewisse China the Great Leap into the Unknown. Thereby the attempts to understand the relevant processes and related prospects often appear to be an endless puzzle which allows for further insight with every piece that can be added while a certain dimension of mystery remains as China develops further. Today China's development is challenged considerably by a number of factors in the fields of the society policy economy and environment. Finding a viable solution to these challenges and sustaining development is a concern of great priority to the Chinese government. A decisive question with this in mind is how the financial system could be enhanced to a level at which it would be an effective catalyst for development.

Challenges for China's Development David Brown, Alasdair MacBean, 2005-06-23 The pace of reform for China's enterprises of all kinds has quickened as they seek to cope with the challenges of self-determination in a rapidly evolving context of difficult social and welfare changes and the realities of increasing global competition. This book explores these challenges from the perspective of the enterprise. It includes discussion of current and likely future overall trends, reports on new research findings on the true extent of governance and accounting reforms within enterprises and considers the impact of increasing global competition on strategy, business relationships and management culture in a range of different kinds of enterprises.

Planet of Slums Mike Davis, 2007-09-17 According to the United Nations more than one billion people now live in the slums of the cities of the South. In this brilliant and ambitious book Mike Davis explores the future of a radically unequal and explosively unstable urban world. From the sprawling barricadas of Lima to the garbage hills of Manila, urbanization has been disconnected from industrialization and even from economic growth. Davis portrays a vast humanity

warehoused in shantytowns and exiled from the formal world economy He argues that the rise of this informal urban proletariat is a wholly unforeseen development and asks whether the great slums as a terrified Victorian middle class once imagined are volcanoes waiting to erupt Postindustrial East Asian Cities Shahid Yusuf,Kaoru Nabeshima,2006-01-01 Drawing on a wide range of literature and on interviews with firms this book explores issues of economic growth with a focus on six East Asian cities Bangkok Beijing Seoul Shanghai Singapore and Tokyo It suggests how policies and institutions can induce and furnish an urban environment that supports innovative activities A valuable resource for researchers urban planners urban geographers and policy makers interested in East Asia Cultures and Globalization Helmut K Anheier,Yudhishtir Raj Isar,2010-01-21 In the globalization game there are no absolute winners and losers Neither homogenisation nor diversity can capture its contradictory movement and character The essays and papers collected here offer from a variety of perspectives a rich exploration of creativity and innovation cultural expressions and globalization This volume of essays in all their diversity of contents and theoretical perspectives demonstrates the rich value of this paradoxical oxymoronic approach Stuart Hall Emeritus Professor of Sociology at the Open University Volume 3 of the Cultures Globalization series Creativity and Innovations explores the interactions between globalization and the forms of cultural expression that are their basic resource Bringing together over 25 high profile authors from around the world this volume addresses such questions as What impacts does globalization have on cultural creativity and innovation How is the evolving world map of creativity related to the drivers and patterns of globalization What are the relationships between creative acts clusters genres or institutions and cultural diversity The volume is an indispensable reference tool for all scholars and students of contemporary arts and culture International Differences in Entrepreneurship Josh Lerner,Antoinette Schoar,2010-06-15 Often considered one of the major forces behind economic growth and development the entrepreneurial firm can accelerate the speed of innovation and dissemination of new technologies thus increasing a country s competitive edge in the global market As a result cultivating a strong culture of entrepreneurial thinking has become a primary goal throughout the world Surprisingly there has been little systematic research or comparative analysis to show how the growth of entrepreneurship differs among countries in various stages of development International Differences in Entrepreneurship fills this void by explaining how a country s institutional differences cultural considerations and personal characteristics can affect the role that entrepreneurs play in its economy Developing an understanding of the origins of entrepreneurs as well as the choices they make and the complexity of their activities across countries and industries are of central importance to this volume In addition contributors consider how environmental factors of individual economies such as market regulation government subsidies for banks and support for entrepreneurial culture affect the industry and the impact that entrepreneurs have on growth in developing nations Encyclopedia of Urban Studies Ray Hutchison,2010 An encyclopedia about various topics relating to urban studies Shanghai's Dancing World Andrew David,2010-11-03 Drawing

upon a unique and untapped reservoir of newspapers magazines novels government documents photographs and illustrations this book traces the origin pinnacle and ultimate demise of a commercial dance industry in Shanghai between the end of the First World War and the early years of the People's Republic of China Delving deep into the world of cabarets nightclubs and elite ballrooms that arose in the city in the 1920s and peaked in the 1930s the book assesses how and why Chinese society incorporated and transformed this westernized world of leisure and entertainment to suit its own tastes and interests Focusing on the jazzage nightlife of the city in its golden age the book examines issues of colonialism and modernity urban space sociability and sexuality and modern Chinese national identity formation in a tumultuous era of war and revolution

Media and Memory in New Shanghai A. Lagerkvist, 2013-07-26 Contributing to current debates about the globality and mediatization of memories Media and Memory in New Shanghai interrogates the city's spectacular regeneration into an emergent world centre describing how Western elites partake in the production of New Shanghai by feeling its futures and performing its futures past

Urban Transformation in China Gordon G. Liu, 2017-03-02 This book provides a general description and evaluation of the process of urbanization in China and the urgent challenges facing the Chinese government Urban Transformation in China examines the changing pattern of China's urban population and the determinants of these changes including an analysis of the spatial structures of China's cities and industry and an assessment of urban productivity growth and the role of mega cities in national development The book's coverage encompasses both academic and policy perspectives With its sister volume Urbanization and Social Welfare in China it provides a comprehensive and multidisciplinary overview of the country's urbanization process
