Pilgrimage to Now Frederick Franck, Middle of Nowhere Sara M. Patterson, 2016-02-15 In Middle of Nowhere Sara M Patterson argues that Leonard Knight was a spiritual descendant of the early Christian desert ascetics who escaped to the desert in order to experience God more fully Wordsworth and English Literary Pilgrimage in the Nineteenth Century Keith Hanley, 2025-06-12 Using Wordsworth as a focal point this book describes how in the period of Romanticism and beyond the historical practice of pilgrimage became internalised figuratively and psychologically so as to represent Christian discourse in nineteenth century English literature It surveys the imaginative relocation of Jerusalem and Rome to real and present places thereby creating the nation's sacred imaginary Wordsworth is presented as central to founding a literary religious discourse on the sacred site of the Lake District Also explored are the ways in which other Victorian writers such as Ruskin and Newman participated in that construction by their own literary pilgrimages Overall this book revises assumptions about the decline of the religious imagination in nineteenth century English literature and fundamentally reappraises the function of Romantic and Victorian representations of the sacred in forming the nation and empire

Transatlantic Literature and Author Love in the Nineteenth Century Paul Westover, Ann Wierda Rowland, 2016-09-22 This book is about Anglo American literary heritage It argues that readers on both sides of the Atlantic shaped the contours of international English in the 1800s expressing love for books and authors in a wide range of media and social practices It highlights how in the wake of American independence the affection bestowed on authors who became international objects of celebration and commemoration was a major force in the invention of transnational English literature the popular canon defined by shared language and tradition While love as such is difficult to quantify and recover the records of such affection survive not just in print but also in other media in monuments in architecture and in the ephemera of material culture Thus this collection brings into view a wide range of nineteenth century expressions of love for literature and its creators
